

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 26, Number 181

Full Leased Wire Service of United Press Association

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1927

Printed on Paper Made in Brainerd

Price Three Cents

CHRISTIANSON HOLDS TO ECONOMY PROGRAM

APPROPRIATIONS TO BE LIMITED TO FORTY MILLION

ASKS LEGISLATURE TO LIFT THE BURDEN OF TAXATION FROM FARMERS

WILL NOT COUNTENANCE EX-
TRAVAGANCE IN EDUCATION-
AL ACTIVITY

By WILLIAM E. HALLBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 5.—Inaugurated with brief ceremonies for his second two-year term as chief executive of Minnesota, Governor Theodore Christianson went before the forty-fifth Minnesota legislature today with a blunt demand that appropriations for the coming biennium be limited to $40,000,000.

The senate and house convened separately, then adjourned to meet in joint session and hear the biennial message of the governor.

Declaring that the legislature has "almost unprecedented" opportunity to serve the state, Governor Christianson called upon the senators and representatives to lift "one burden from which the farmers are suffering," for which state governments have some responsibility, the burden of taxation.

"It may be difficult, even impossible, greatly to reduce the burden, but I should be remiss in my duty to the people of the state if I did not call attention to the problem which it presents and urge upon you serious consideration of the consequences that would flow from any measure which would increase still further the farmer's contribution to the support of county, educational and state activities.

"Consider what he contributes at the present time toward the support of education, and let us try to determine therefrom whether there is justification for proposed increases."

Then the governor cited specific instances in which the farmers of the state paid state aid and university support taxes amounting to more than they paid for local school support. Figures were drawn from Fillmore, Lincoln, Stearns, Wilkin, Kittson, Dodge, Brown, Carver, Chicago, Sibley, Wadena, Norman, Pope and Clay counties.

"I would not curtail any proper educational activity," the governor stated, "for I know that the future of my country and yours depends on the maintenance of a high order of intelligence in those who shall make the decisions for the state and the nation in the years that are to come. But on the other hand, I would not countenance extravagance in any educational activity. I should not be true to my duty if I did not say that teachers, not buildings, make a school.

"I leave with you the question whether we have not too often and too long bent knees before the false gods of clay and stone and other material things, and whether we should not now take steps to insure that money voted for men should not be used for land and structures."

There was no doubt in the minds of the governor's listeners that he was referring directly to the University of Minnesota's board of regents' request for an increased appropriation.

The board of regents in addition is expected to ask that the building program for the university be planned ahead.

The governor's economy warning was unmistakable.

"The men who filed with the budget board appropriation requests aggregating $48,000,000 can all prove that their departments and institutions cannot function unless they get $48,000,000," he said, "but the budget board will not recommend $48,000,000, because an increase of $8,000,000 in appropriations would double the state levy for the revenue fund for each year of the next biennium."

Such was the portion of the governor's inaugural address that stirred the greatest interest among the assembled lawmakers.

In line with his program, he recommended:

That local governments be restrained from extravagance in bond issues for which no provision of retirement is made in advance.

That the legislature refuse any proposal to issue state highway bonds, referring specifically to the suggestion of Highway Commissioner Charles M. Babcock for issuance of $20,000,000 in such bonds.

That tax inequalities be removed.

That the reorganization program started during the last two years be completed.

That revenues derived from the state estate tax be increased at the

Chinese Mobs Reported Growing Ugly at Hankow

INFLUENZA IS EPIDEMIC IN WESTERN EUROPE

London, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Influenza in a mild but extremely contagious form was epidemic in western Europe and Great Britain today and danger that it might eventually find its way to the United States through some of the hundreds of trans-Atlantic travelers who weekly arrive in American ports was seen by some.

Unseasonable cold and damp weather and the gastronomic excesses around holiday dinner tables were generally accepted as having given the mild flu its start.

EXPLOSION AND FIRE DESTROYS FRENCH BARQUE

3 MEN OF CREW MISSING GIVEN UP AS DEAD BY THE CAPTAIN

32 DOCK HANDS INJURED AS VESSEL
BURNED AT BALTI-MORE DOCK

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Three men missing after an explosion and fire which destroyed and sank the French barque Richelieu in Curtis Bay here were given up as dead by authorities here today. Thirty-two injured, 29 of whom were dock hands were being treated at hospitals.

The French naval cadets on the boat saved their lives by fleeing when Captain Jules Corne ordered the vessel abandoned after the explosion.

Cause of the explosion was not known. The ship was being loaded with pitch when the explosion occurred late yesterday. Firemen battled the fierce mass of flames for six hours, rescuing the injured men from the hold, until the ship turned over and sank a little before midnight.

explosion of the federal estate tax without an actual increase to the estate.

Governor Christianson also advanced suggestions for checking crime, making highways safer, bettering the condition of state banks, encouraging reforestation and use of non-agricultural lands, and reducing the number of forest fires.

In conclusion, he warned against federal encroachment on state rights and the danger of "government by centralized bureaucracy."

THREE WOMEN IN STATE LEGISLATURE

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—There are three women in the 45th Minnesota legislature, all in the lower house. They are Mrs. Rosanna C. Payne, Ball Club, of the 52nd district; Mrs. Hannah Kemper, Erhard, of the 50th district, and Mabeth H. Paige, Minneapolis, of the 13th district.

So it was necessary for Governor Christianson in delivering his second inaugural address today to preface it with the salutation:

"Gentlemen of the senate."
"Ladies and gentlemen of the house."

Radio station WCCO, Twin Cities, broadcast the governor's message, starting at 11 A. M.

Governor Christianson's remarks covered 25 large typewritten pages and it is estimated to have been 7,500 words long. It gave the greatest attention to taxes which came under several sub-headings. The briefest reference was to lobbyists.

The senate and house convened separately at 11 A. M. and adjourned immediately and met again in joint session to hear the governor.

The governor warned against over-legislating, but the senators and representatives who sat before him are expected to flutter down the hopper more than 1,200 measures during the 90 days the legislature is in session.

Hearing Governor Christianson's message was the only business before the senate and house today. After it had been read they are expected to adjourn until 10 A. M. Thursday when they will dig into the real business of legislating. Committee

President Coolidge Orders More United States Troops Into Nicaragua Today

"ANTI-EVOLUTION BUSINESS IS GETTING TIRESOME"

DAVID STARR JORDAN, OF LE-LAND STANFORD UNIVER-SITY, IN ADDRESS

BISHOP LOCKE SAYS METHODIST CHURCH NOT DIVIDED ON QUESTION

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university, added his voice with that of other educators in the east and with Bishop Charles E. Locke of the Methodist church, Minneapolis, protesting against proposed anti-evolution legislation considered by the International Theistic society in a meeting here today.

Dr. Jordan with President John G. Hibben of Princeton and President J. Goodnow of Johns Hopkins university, telegraphed the Theistic society echoes of the opinion of Bishop Locke that evolution is a matter of science and not of religion.

In a statement given out Tuesday Bishop Locke pointed out that the Methodist church was not divided on the question. He said John Wesley's motto was "think and let think."

"Evolution has nothing to do with the personal character of immorality," the bishop said.

"This whole anti-evolution business is getting tiresome," he continued. "The theory which many scholars are now regarding as a demonstrated fact has not more to do with religion than the multiplication table of five. Whether the universe was made by long process of development or by majestic faith, certainly it was divinely conceived and ordered 'in the beginning God created.'"

"It does not matter where we came from, for God made every living thing, but the great consideration is what are we making of ourselves and where are we going."

Dr. W. B. Riley of Minneapolis, president of the National Christian Fundamentals association, is sponsoring an anti-evolution bill in Minnesota.

NORTH DAKOTA'S PLEA FOR GREAT LAKES WATERWAY

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 5.—(UP)—North Dakota's plea for a Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway will crystallize into a more concrete form when former Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa will lecture and report on the waterway project before the Tri-State Farmers' congress here Jan. 13.

Harding is nationally known as a student and promoter of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway project. He was recently elected president of the association. He will present his views before the congress at one of the meetings.

Another plea for the waterway project will be in the form of a report to the North Dakota Tidewater commission and the Greater North Dakota association for a joint committee appointed by Gov. A. G. Sorlie and C. E. Danielson, president of the Greater North Dakota association.

Facts concerning the value of a deep waterway to North Dakota have been assembled in the report by O. M. Fuller, assistant professor of agricultural economics at the Agricultural college.

It has been computed by those who have drawn up the deep waterway report that $13,223,000 would be the savings for North Dakota on grain crops for each year.

assignments probably will be ready at that time.

Senator E. E. Putnam of Blue Earth, who is slated to be named chairman of the judiciary committee to which will be referred the Minnesota Crime Commission's report, is reported not entirely in accord with Governor Christianson on the matter. The governor feels the report should be approved without tampering but Putnam is of the opinion that some parts are objectionable and unconstitutional.

CONGRESS TODAY

Senate:
Resumes consideration of Lausanne treaty in executive session. Judiciary committee considers resolutions for investigating alleged sale of southern patronage and alleged disenfranchisement of negroes in the south.

Judiciary subcommittee resumes investigation of bribery charges against Senator Gould, republican, Maine.

Commerce subcommittee continues hearings on amendment of packers and stockyards act.

Radio conferees continue efforts to reach compromise.

House:
Considers naval appropriation bill.

Appropriations committee considers state and justice and commerce and labor appropriation bills.

Naval committee considers modernization of battleships.

Military committee hears Secretary of War Davis on army appropriations.

Interstate commerce committee considers railroad consolidation.

Agriculture committee considers eradication of corn borer.

SEARCH BEGINS FOR THE ARK OF THE COVENANT

MOST SACRED THING IN THE HISTORY OF ANCIENT JUDAISM

EXPLORATION TO BE CONDUCTED ON MOUNT NEBO IN JERUSALEM

By SAMUEL G. WILLIAMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Jerusalem, Palestine, Jan. 5.—Search for the Ark of the Covenant, the most sacred thing in the history of ancient Judaism, soon will begin on Mount Nebo, where history records that the Ark was hidden in the sixth century B. C. by the prophet Jeremiah.

A. J. Futterer, president of the American-Jerusalem Bible Institute of Los Angeles, has arrived here to make the search. Futterer is one of those who believe that many of the ancient prophecies of the Bible are on the eve of fulfillment. It was because of his belief that he came here from California to search for the relic of Judaism.

The Ark of the Covenant was precious and sacred because it contained the tablets of law given to Moses by God on Mount Sinai. Just prior to the Babylonian captivity, Jeremiah hid the Ark in a cave on Mount Nebo. Thereafter there is no record of the Ark having been found, but according to a prophecy in the Apocryphal work of Maccabees, the Ark will be found on Mount-Nebo at the time when the Jews are gathered again in Palestine.

Since the war and the resultant encouragement of the Jews to return to the Holy Land there has been a remarkable movement of the Jews toward their old home. Futterer said he was confident that the present situation fulfills or soon will fulfill the conditions of the prophecy.

After making a survey of Mount Nebo, Futterer applied to the Trans-Jordanian department of antiquities for a lease on Mount Nebo.

As soon as he gets it, Futterer said he would begin the search.

PAN-AMERICAN FLIGHT SQUADRON LEAVES GUATEMALA

Guatemala City, Guatemala, Jan. 5.—(UP)—The five planes of the United States army's Pan-American flight squadron left here today at 9:50 a. m. enroute to San Salvador, Salvador, and Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

FORCE OF 150 MARINES LANDED FROM GALVESTON

ORDERS TO PROCEED TO MAN-
AGUA AND PROTECT U. S.
LEGATION

3 EAST COAST REBEL PORTS AL-READY OCCUPIED BY AMERI-CAN FORCES

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Jan. 5.—President Coolidge ordered more United States troops into Nicaragua today.

A force of 150 marines was landed from the U. S. S. Galveston at Corinto on the west coast with orders to proceed immediately to Managua, the capital, to protect the United States legation and other American interests there.

Three east coast rebel ports already had been occupied by American forces and the conservative government had appealed for similar occupation on the west.

After first refusing to comment on the landing, the state department later issued the following statement:

"The state department has been informed by the American minister at Managua that the British and Italian Charge D'Affaires there have made representations to him that they consider their subjects in imminent peril in the present situation without outside protection and that he concurs in these views which represent the consensus of opinion there among the Americans and other foreigners."

Press reports told of liberal rebel military victories on the west coast following their conquest of the east coast.

The fall of the conservative government, recognized by the United States, was believed imminent in diplomatic circles here before the marines were landed at Corinto today. Whether the rebels recognized by Mexico will march on Managua with the United States marines there is not known.

President Diaz wants the United States to declare Managua a neutral zone to prevent the rebels' entry, it is understood.

With the further occupation of Nicaragua, the senate foreign relations committee was called into secret session to consider resolutions demanding withdrawal of American forces and to probe charges of alleged administration imperialism in Latin America. At the same time, Dr. T. S. Vaca, liberal envoy here, and the Pan-American Federation of Labor were protesting against the occupation as unjustified intervention.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The senate foreign relations committee decided today after an investigation of Nicaraguan affairs to call Secretary of State Kellogg before it within a few days.

The decision to summon the head of the state department came soon after announcement of landing of more United States marines in Nicaragua and a new burst of criticism of such landings by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana.

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 5.—There was great excitement in foreign quarters of Managua today over the arrival at Corinto of the U. S. S. Galveston bringing 150 sailors and marines to act as guard for the American legation at Managua.

American Minister Eberhardt said the government has been given permission to import a large quantity of ammunition.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The United States today agreed to lift the Nicaraguan arms embargo for the Diaz conservative government, thus permitting importation of arms and ammunition from the United States to fight the opposition Sacasa liberal government.

This action may prevent the fall of the American recognized Diaz government before the Mexican recognized Sacasa regime, officials here said.

DRY AUTHORITIES ADMIT THEY ARE "UP A TREE"

Washington, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Prohibition authorities today admitted they were "up a tree" on what to do about commercial alcohol.

Thousands of letters and telegrams are pouring into the treasury daily, some demanding complete elimination of poisons from alcohol, others contending the bootleg market would be extended by removal of wood alcohol and other undrinkable ingredients.

Meantime Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is preparing a document to congress explaining the alcohol situation in detail. This data is in answer to a senate resolution asking by what authority the government poisons alcohol.

LEOPOLD AND LOEB FACE NEW ACCUSATIONS

CHARLES REAM, CHICAGO TAXI-
CAB DRIVER, CHARGES THEY ASSAULTED HIM

FURTHER ALLEGES HE WAS MU-
TILATED AND SEEKS $100,000
DAMAGES

By CHARLES E. AHRENS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Joliet, Ill., Jan. 5.—Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, life prisoners in the state penitentiary here for the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks, faced new accusations today with calm demeanor.

"Babe" and "Dickie," as they were known among their millionaire friends and classmates at two middle western universities, neither smiled nor showed any outward form of emotion today when Charles Ream, a 25-year-old Chicago taxicab driver, took the witness stand and pointed them out as the young men who assaulted and mutilated him on the night of November 21, 1923, approximately two months before the Franks murder.

Ream said "a foreign looking man" had forced him into an automobile at the point of a pistol; he said he had been knocked unconscious and that when he regained consciousness he found he had been the victim of a revolting operation. His assailants had liquor on their breaths, he added.

Under cross examination by Attorney Burt Crowe, counsel for the "thrill seekers," Ream admitted that Leopold does not look like a foreigner. He further revealed under Crowe's searching questions that he had been in a taxicab accident with two foreigners.

Crowe left the inference that the foreigners had mutilated him as revenge for injuries sustained in the accident.

Loeb and Leopold were dressed in the same ill fitting clothes they wore when they appeared in court yesterday. They seemed to give an "air" to the prison garb, however. Although their voices were sharp and metallic and their attitude more mature, they did not seem very different from the debonaire college boys who entered the penitentiary more than two years ago.

After 2½ hours' cross examination of Ream, Dr. Orlando F. Scott of Chicago took the stand and said the mutilation of Ream could only have been done by a surgeon or one familiar with surgical instruments.

Loeb and Leopold are expected to take the stand late today and deny the assault.

Attorneys for Ream are asking $100,000 damages.

SHOE SHINER IN TOILS OF LAW

Spencer, Ia., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Prohibition workers browsing about this city for violators of the liquor laws discovered that Louis Pappas, shoe shiner, also provided the goods which gives a lustrous shine to the nose.

Louis was said to have been caught in the act of bottling alcohol and was so upset by his discoverers that, in a moment of flurry, he almost set fire to his establishment.

The bootblack was a very unwilling prisoner and it was only after the chief of police and several deputies were called before he was lodged in the jail house.

FOREIGN NAVAL FORCES MOVED INTO ACTION

PRESUMABLY IN RESPONSE TO HURRY CALL FOR REIN-FORCEMENTS

REPORTS THAT CUSTOM HOUSE AND MUNICIPAL BUILDING
CAPTURED BY NATIVES

Grave international developments today necessitated the dispatch of British naval reinforcements to Hankow, trade capital of Central China, where Chinese mobs were reported to have invaded the British concession.

Naval vessels, presumably including American gunboats, were en route up the Yangtze river from Shanghai and a British destroyer and two cruisers had been ordered to Hankow from Hong Kong.

American and British gunboats regularly stationed at Hankow today were cleared for action in the event the situation demanded it.

Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyan, adjacent cities, at the confluence of the Nan and Yangtze rivers, have been proclaimed the nationalist capital of China by the Cantonese authorities.

By C. S. HIRSCH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Shanghai, Jan. 5.—All available foreign naval forces here today were moving up the Yangtze river to Hankow, presumably in response to a hurry call for reinforcements from the gunboats on duty there.

Dispatches received here said Chinese mobs invaded the British concession at Hankow and it was reported that the customs house and municipal building had been captured by the natives.

The attack came last night after an agreement had been entered into by British and Cantonese authorities for the latter to assume responsibility for the protection of British nationals and their property in the concession.

U. S. DESTROYER ON WAY TO WUHO

Peking, Jan. 5.—The United States destroyer Ford was proceeding to Wuho today where troops of the northern Chinese forces were looting the city while evacuating it.

Wuho is a city of 115,000 on the Yangtze river, 50 miles southwest of Nanking.

TWO U. S. GUNBOATS ANCHOR NEAR HANKOW

Hankow, Jan. 5.—United States gunboats today were anchored off this turbulent city awaiting possible necessity of going into action to protect American property from Chinese mobs whose anti-foreignism already has taken form in violence against Britishers.

United States property had not been affronted nor had the Japanese and French concessions been violated today because of the anti-British flare-up which began Monday with a clash between natives and British sailors and marines from three gunboats.

The three British vessels also swung with the current of the Yangtze river today, their guns and landing parties ready to act for the protection of British interests.

British women and children today were ordered by British authorities to evacuate the concession and suburban Britishers were summoned to come inside the concession so their protecting might be facilitated. The riotous Chinese removed the concession barrier wall bordering on native territory.

SHEEP KILLING DOGS OFFENSIVE

Oronoco, Minn., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Sheep killing dogs have become so offensive in this district that farmers have posted warnings that trespassing dogs will be shot on sight.

William Lubohn, a farmer, has taken the lead in the attack on dogs and declared that he will shoot all stray canines found on his farm so as to protect his sheep from depredations.

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 26, Number 181

Full Leased Wire Service of United Press Association

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1927

Printed on Paper Made in Brainerd

Price Three Cents

CHRISTIANSON HOLDS TO ECONOMY PROGRAM

APPROPRIATIONS TO BE LIMITED TO FORTY MILLION

ASKS LEGISLATURE TO LIFT THE BURDEN OF TAXATION FROM FARMERS

WILL NOT COUNTENANCE EX-
TRAVAGANCE IN EDUCATION-
AL ACTIVITY

By WILLIAM E. HALLBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 5.—Inaugurated with brief ceremonies for his second two-year term as chief executive of Minnesota, Governor Theodore Christianson went before the forty-fifth Minnesota legislature today with a blunt demand that appropriations for the coming biennium be limited to $40,000,000.

The senate and house convened separately, then adjourned to meet in joint session and hear the biennial message of the governor.

Declaring that the legislature has "almost unprecedented" opportunity to serve the state, Governor Christianson called upon the senators and representatives to lift "one burden from which the farmers are suffering," for which state governments have some responsibility, the burden of taxation.

"It may be difficult, even impossible, greatly to reduce the burden, but I should be remiss in my duty to the people of the state if I did not call attention to the problem which it presents and urge upon you serious consideration of the consequences that would flow from any measure which would increase still further the farmer's contribution to the support of county, educational and state activities.

"Consider what he contributes at the present time toward the support of education, and let us try to determine therefrom whether there is justification for proposed increases."

Then the governor cited specific instances in which the farmers of the state paid state aid and university support taxes amounting to more than they paid for local school support. Figures were drawn from Fillmore, Lincoln, Stearns, Wilkin, Kittson, Dodge, Brown, Carver, Chisago, Sibley, Wadena, Norman, Pope and Clay counties.

"I would not curtail any proper educational activity," the governor stated, "for I know that the future of my country and yours depends on the maintenance of a high order of intelligence in those who shall make the decisions for the state and the nation in the years that are to come. But on the other hand, I would not countenance extravagance in any educational activity. I should not be true to my duty if I did not say that teachers, not buildings, make a school."

"I leave with you the question whether we have not too often and too long bent knees before the false gods of clay and stone and other material things, and whether we should not now take steps to insure that money voted for men should not be used for land and structures."

There was no doubt in the minds of the governor's listeners that he was referring directly to the University of Minnesota's board of regents' request for an increased appropriation.

The board of regents in addition is expected to ask that the building program for the university be planned ahead.

The governor's economy warning was unmistakable.

"The men who filed with the budget board appropriation requests aggregating $48,000,000 can all prove that their departments and institutions cannot function unless they get $48,000,000," he said, "but the budget board will not recommend $48,000,000, because an increase of $8,000,000 in appropriations would double the state levy for the revenue fund for each year of the next biennium."

Such was the portion of the governor's inaugural address that stirred the greatest interest among the assembled lawmakers.

In line with his program, he recommended:

That local governments be restrained from extravagance in bond issues for which no provision of retirement is made in advance.

That the legislature refuse any proposal to issue state highway bonds, referring specifically to the suggestion of Highway Commissioner Charles M. Babcock for issuance of $20,000,000 in such bonds.

That tax inequalities be removed.

That the reorganization program started during the last two years be completed.

That revenues derived from the state estate taxes be increased at the

Chinese Mobs Reported Growing Ugly at Hankow

INFLUENZA IS EPIDEMIC IN WESTERN EUROPE

London, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Influenza in a mild but extremely contagious form was epidemic in western Europe and Great Britain today and danger that it might eventually find its way to the United States through some of the hundreds of trans-Atlantic travelers who weekly arrive in American ports was seen by some.

Unseasonable cold and damp weather and the gastronomic excesses around loaded holiday dinner tables were generally accepted as having given the mild flu its start.

EXPLOSION AND FIRE DESTROYS FRENCH BARQUE

3 MEN OF CREW MISSING GIVEN UP AS DEAD BY THE CAPTAIN

32 DOCK HANDS INJURED AS VESSEL
BURNED AT BALTIMORE DOCK

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Three men missing after an explosion and fire which destroyed and sank the French barque Richelieu in Curtis Bay here were given up as dead by authorities here today. Thirty-two injured, 29 of whom were dock hands were being treated at hospitals.

The French naval cadets on the boat saved their lives by fleeing when Captain Jules Cornec ordered the vessel abandoned after the explosion.

Cause of the explosion was not known. The ship was being loaded with pitch when the explosion occurred late yesterday. Firemen battled the fierce mass of flames for six hours, rescuing the injured men from the hold, until the ship turned over and sank a little before midnight.

Expense of the federal estate tax without an actual increase to the estate.

Governor Christianson also advanced suggestions for checking crime, making highways safer, bettering the condition of state banks, encouraging reforestation and use of non-agricultural lands, and reducing the number of forest fires.

In conclusion, he warned against federal encroachment on state rights and the danger of "government by centralized bureaucracy."

THREE WOMEN IN STATE LEGISLATURE

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—There are three women in the 45th Minnesota legislature, all in the lower house. They are Mrs. Rosanna C. Payne, Ball Club, of the 52nd district; Mrs. Hannah Kemper, Erhard, of the 50th district; and Mabeth H. Paige, Minneapolis, of the 13th district.

So it was necessary for Governor Christianson in delivering his second inaugural address today to preface it with the salutation:

"Gentlemen of the senate."

"Ladies and gentlemen of the house."

Radio station WCCO, Twin Cities, broadcast the governor's message, starting at 11 A. M.

Governor Christianson's remarks covered 25 large typewritten pages and it is estimated to have been 7,500 words long. It gave the greatest attention to taxes which came under several sub-headings. The briefest reference was to lobbyists.

The senate and house convened separately at 11 A. M. and adjourned immediately and met again in joint session to hear the governor.

The governor warned against over-legislation, but the senators and representatives who sat before him are expected to flutter down the hopper more than 1,200 measures during the 90 days the legislature is in session.

Hearing Governor Christianson's message was the only business before the senate and house today. After it had been read they are expected to adjourn until 10 A. M. Thursday when they will dig into the real business of legislating. Committee

President Coolidge Orders More United States Troops Into Nicaragua Today

"ANTI-EVOLUTION BUSINESS IS GETTING TIRESOME"

DAVID STARR JORDAN, OF LELAND STANFORD UNIVERSITY, IN ADDRESS

BISHOP LOCKE SAYS METHODIST CHURCH NOT DIVIDED ON QUESTION

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university, added his voice with that of other educators in the east and with Bishop Charles E. Locke of the Methodist church, Minneapolis, protesting against proposed anti-evolution legislation considered by the International Theistic society in a meeting here today.

Dr. Jordan with President John G. Hibben of Princeton and President J. Goodnow of Johns Hopkins university, telegraphed the Theistic society echoes of the opinion of Bishop Locke that evolution is a matter of science and not of religion.

In a statement given out Tuesday Bishop Locke pointed out that the Methodist church was not divided on the question. He said John Wesley's motto was "think and let think." "Evolution has nothing to do with the personal character of immortality," the bishop said.

"This whole anti-evolution business is getting tiresome," he continued. "The theory which many scholars are now regarding as a demonstrated fact has not more to do with religion than the multiplication table of five. Whether the universe was made by long process of development or by majestic faith, certainly it was divinely conceived and ordered 'in the beginning God created.'"

"It does not matter where we came from, for God made every living thing, but the great consideration is what we are making of ourselves and where we are going."

Dr. W. B. Riley of Minneapolis, president of the National Christian Fundamentals association, is sponsoring an anti-evolution bill in Minnesota.

NORTH DAKOTA'S PLEA FOR GREAT LAKES WATERWAY

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 5.—(UP)—North Dakota's plea for a Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway will crystallize into a more concrete form when former Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa will lecture and report on the waterway project before the Tri-State Farmers' congress here Jan. 13.

Harding is nationally known as a student and promoter of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway project. He was recently elected president of the association. He will present his views before the congress at one of the meetings.

Another plea for the waterway project will be in the form of a report to the North Dakota Tidewater commission and the Greater North Dakota association for a joint committee appointed by Gov. A. G. Sorlie and C. E. Danielson, president of the Greater North Dakota association.

Facts concerning the value of a deep waterway to North Dakota have been assembled in the report by O. M. Fuller, assistant professor of agricultural economics at the Agricultural college.

It has been computed by those who have drawn up the deep waterway report that $13,223,000 would be the savings for North Dakota on grain crops for each year.

Assignments probably will be ready at that time.

Senator E. E. Putnam of Blue Earth, who is slated to be named chairman of the judiciary committee to which will be referred the Minnesota Crime Commission's report, is reported not entirely in accord with Governor Christianson on the matter. The governor feels the report should be approved without tampering but Putnam is of the opinion that some parts are objectionable and unconstitutional.

CONGRESS TODAY

Senate:
Resumes consideration of Lausanne treaty in executive session. Judiciary committee considers resolutions for investigating alleged sale of southern patronage and alleged disenfranchisement of negroes in the south.

Judiciary subcommittee resumes investigation of bribery charges against Senator Gould, republican, Maine.

Commerce subcommittee continues hearings on amendment of packers and stockyards act.

Radio conferees continue efforts to reach compromise.

House:
Considers naval appropriation bill.

Appropriations committee considers state and justice and commerce and labor appropriation bills.

Naval committee considers modernization of battleships.

Military committee hears Secretary of War Davis on army appropriations.

Interstate commerce committee considers railroad consolidation.

Agriculture committee considers eradication of corn borer.

SEARCH BEGINS FOR THE ARK OF THE COVENANT

MOST SACRED THING IN THE HISTORY OF ANCIENT JUDAISM

EXPLORATION TO BE CONDUCTED ON MOUNT NEBO IN JERUSALEM

By SAMUEL G. WILLIAMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Jerusalem, Palestine, Jan. 5.—Search for the Ark of the Covenant, the most sacred thing in the history of ancient Judaism, soon will begin on Mount Nebo, where history records that the Ark was hidden in the sixth century B. C. by the prophet Jeremiah.

A. J. Futterer, president of the American-Jerusalem Bible Institute of Los Angeles, has arrived here to make the search. Futterer is one of those who believe that many of the ancient prophecies of the Bible are on the eve of fulfillment. It was because of his belief that he came here from California to search for the relic of Judaism.

The Ark of the Covenant was precious and sacred because it contained the tablets of law given to Moses by God on Mount Sinai. Just prior to the Babylonian captivity, Jeremiah hid the Ark in a cave on Mount Nebo. Thereafter there is no record of the Ark having been found, but according to a prophecy in the Apocryphal work of Maccabees, the Ark will be found on Mount Nebo at the time when the Jews are gathered again in Palestine.

Since the war and the resultant encouragement of the Jews to return to the Holy Land there has been a remarkable movement of the Jews toward their old home. Futterer said he was confident that the present situation fulfills or soon will fulfill the conditions of the prophecy.

After making a survey of Mount Nebo, Futterer applied to the Trans-Jordanian department of antiquities for a lease on Mount Nebo.

As soon as he gets it, Futterer said he would begin the search.

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 5.—There was great excitement in foreign quarters of Managua today over the arrival at Corinto of the U. S. S. Galveston bringing 150 sailors and marines to act as guard for the American legation at Managua.

American Minister Eberhardt said the government has been given permission to import a large quantity of ammunition.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The United States today agreed to lift the Nicaraguan arms embargo for the Diaz conservative government, thus permitting importation of arms and ammunition from the United States to fight the opposition Sacasa liberal government.

This action may prevent the fall of the American recognized Diaz government before the Mexican recognized Sacasa regime, officials here said.

Guatemala City, Guatemala, Jan. 5.—(UP)—The five planes of the United States army's Pan-American flight squadron left here today at 9:50 a. m. enroute to San Salvador, Salvador, and Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

FORCE OF 150 MARINES LANDED FROM GALVESTON

ORDERS TO PROCEED TO MANAGUA AND PROTECT U. S. LEGATION

3 EAST COAST REBEL PORTS ALREADY OCCUPIED BY AMERICAN FORCES

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 5.—President Coolidge ordered more United States troops into Nicaragua today.

A force of 150 marines was landed from the U. S. S. Galveston at Corinto on the west coast with orders to proceed immediately to Managua, the capital, to protect the United States legation and other American interests there.

Three east coast rebel ports already had been occupied by American forces and the conservative government had appealed for similar occupation on the west.

After first refusing to comment on the landing, the state department later issued the following statement:

"The state department has been informed by the American minister at Managua that the British and Italian Charge d'Affaires there have made representations to him that they consider their subjects in imminent peril in the present situation without outside protection and that he concurs in these views" which represent the consensus of opinion there among the Americans and other foreigners.

Press reports told of liberal rebel military victories on the west coast following their conquest of the east coast.

The fall of the conservative government, recognized by the United States, was believed imminent in diplomatic circles here before the marines were landed at Corinto today. Whether the rebels recognized by Mexico will march on Managua with the United States marines there is not known.

President Diaz wants the United States to declare Managua a neutral zone to prevent the rebels' entry, it is understood.

With the further occupation of Nicaragua, the senate foreign relations committee was called into secret session to consider resolutions demanding withdrawal of American forces and to probe charges of alleged administration imperialism in Latin America. At the same time, Dr. T. S. Vaca, liberal envoy here, and the Pan-American Federation of Labor were protesting against the occupation as unjustified intervention.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The senate foreign relations committee decided today after an investigation of Nicaraguan affairs to call Secretary of State Kellogg before it within a few days.

The decision to summon the head of the state department came soon after announcement of landing of more United States marines in Nicaragua and a new burst of criticism of such landings by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana.

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 5.—There was great excitement in foreign quarters of Managua today over the arrival at Corinto of the U. S. S. Galveston bringing 150 sailors and marines to act as guard for the American legation at Managua.

American Minister Eberhardt said the government has been given permission to import a large quantity of ammunition.

Washington, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Prohibition workers browsing about this city for violators of the liquor laws discovered that Louis Pappas, shoe shiner, also provided the goods which gives a lustrous shine to the nose.

Louis was said to have been caught in the act of bottling alcohol and was so upset by his discoverers that, in a moment of flurry, he almost set fire to his establishment.

The bootblack was a very unwilling prisoner and it was only after the chief of police and several deputies were called before he was lodged in the jail house.

Spencer, Ia., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Prohibition workers browsing about this city for violators of the liquor laws discovered that Louis Pappas, shoe shiner, also provided the goods which gives a lustrous shine to the nose.

Louis was said to have been caught in the act of bottling alcohol and was so upset by his discoverers that, in a moment of flurry, he almost set fire to his establishment.

The bootblack was a very unwilling prisoner and it was only after the chief of police and several deputies were called before he was lodged in the jail house.

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

DRY AUTHORITIES ADMIT THEY ARE "UP A TREE"

Washington, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Prohibition authorities today admitted they were "up a tree" on what to do about commercial alcohol.

Thousands of letters and telegrams are pouring into the treasury daily, some demanding complete elimination of poisons from alcohol, others contending the bootleg market would be extended by removal of wood alcohol and other undrinkable ingredients.

Meantime Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is preparing a document to congress explaining the alcohol situation in detail. This data is in answer to a senate resolution asking by what authority the government poisons alcohol.

LEOPOLD AND LOEB FACE NEW ACCUSATIONS

CHARLES REAM, CHICAGO TAXICAB DRIVER, CHARGES THEY ASSAULTED HIM

FURTHER ALLEGES HE WAS MUTILATED AND SEEKS $100,000 DAMAGES

By CHARLES E. AHRENS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 5.—Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, life prisoners in the state penitentiary here for the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks, faced new accusations today with calm demeanor.

"Babe" and "Dickie," as they were known among their millionaire friends and classmates at two middle western universities, neither smiled nor showed any outward form of emotion today when Charles Ream, a 25-year-old Chicago taxicab driver, took the witness stand and pointed them out as the young men who assaulted and mutilated him on the night of November 21, 1923, approximately two months before the Franks murder.

Ream said "a foreign looking man" had forced him into an automobile at the point of a pistol; he said he had been knocked unconscious and that when he regained consciousness he found he had been the victim of a revolting operation. His assailants had liquor on their breaths, he added.

Under cross examination by Attorney Burt Crowe, counsel for the "thrill seekers," Ream admitted that Leopold does not look like a foreigner. He further revealed under Crowe's searching questions that he had been in a taxicab accident with two foreigners.

Crowe left the inference that the foreigners had mutilated him as revenge for injuries sustained in the accident.

Loeb and Leopold were dressed in the same ill fitting clothes they wore when they appeared in court yesterday. They seemed to give an "air" to the prison garb, however. Although their voices were sharp and metallic and their attitude more mature, they did not seem very different from the debonaire college boys who entered the penitentiary more than two years ago.

After 2½ hours' cross examination of Ream, Dr. Orlando F. Scott of Chicago took the stand and said the mutilation of Ream could only have been done by a surgeon or one familiar with surgical instruments.

Loeb and Leopold are expected to take the stand late today and deny the assault.

Attorneys for Ream are asking $100,000 damages.

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

Shoeshiner in Toils of Law

FOREIGN NAVAL FORCES MOVED INTO ACTION

PRESUMABLY IN RESPONSE TO HURRY CALL FOR REINFORCEMENTS

REPORTS THAT CUSTOM HOUSE AND MUNICIPAL BUILDING CAPTURED BY NATIVES

Grave international developments today necessitated the dispatch of British naval reinforcements to Hankow, trade capital of Central China, where Chinese mobs were reported to have invaded the British concession.

Naval vessels, presumably including American gunboats, were en route up the Yangtze river from Shanghai and a British destroyer and two cruisers had been ordered to Hankow from Hong Kong.

American and British gunboats regularly stationed at Hankow today were cleared for action in the event the situation demanded it.

Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyan, adjacent cities, at the confluence of the Nan and Yangtze rivers, have been proclaimed the nationalist capital of China by the Cantonese authorities.

By C. S. HIRSCH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, Jan. 5.—All available foreign naval forces here today were moving up the Yangtze river to Hankow, presumably in response to a hurry call for reinforcements from the gunboats on duty there.

Dispatches received here said Chinese mobs invaded the British concession at Hankow and it was reported that the customs house and municipal building had been captured by the natives.

The attack came last night after an agreement had been entered into by British and Cantonese authorities for the latter to assume responsibility for the protection of British nationals and their property in the concession.

U. S. DESTROYER ON WAY TO WUHO

Peking, Jan. 5.—The United States destroyer Ford was proceeding to Wuho today where troops of the northern Chinese forces were looting the city while evacuating it.

Wuho is a city of 115,000 on the Yangtze river, 50 miles southwest of Nanking.

TWO U. S. GUNBOATS ANCHOR NEAR HANKOW

Hankow, Jan. 5.—United States gunboats today were anchored off this turbulent city awaiting possible necessity of going into action to protect American property from Chinese mobs whose anti-foreignism already has taken form in violence against Britishers.

United States property had not been affronted nor had the Japanese and French concessions been violated today because of the anti-British flare-up which began Monday with a clash between natives and British sailors and marines from three gunboats.

The three British vessels also swung with the current of the Yangtze river today, their guns and landing parties ready to act for the protection of British interests.

British women and children today were ordered by British authorities to evacuate the concession and suburban Britishers were summoned to come inside the concession so their protecting might be facilitated. The riotous barrier wall bordering on native territory.

Sheep Killing Dogs Offensive

Sheep Killing Dogs Offensive

Sheep Killing Dogs Offensive

Sheep Killing Dogs Offensive

Sheep Killing Dogs Offensive

Sheep Killing Dogs Offensive

Sheep Killing Dogs Offensive

Sheep Killing Dogs Offensive

PERSONAL, CLUB and LOCAL NEWS

Telephone 74

HEY LOOK! The Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures are to be shown at the Lyceum Thursday and Friday, 25c-50c. 18012

Rag rug weaving for a limited time 40c per yard. Linder Rug Co. 18015

For colds and gripe Skauges' Never Cough clears the lungs. 1701f

ELKS MEETING

Thursday evening, Jan. 6
Initiation and Lunch. 18012

Milton Sills is a "Silent Lover," with Viola Dana tonight at the Lyceum. 18012

Notice to Band men, Important business meeting, Wednesday, Jan. 5 at Courthouse. Please attend. Andy Anderson, Mgr. 18012

For that grippy, hacking cough take Skauges' Never Cough. Skauges Drug Co. 1701f

W. H. Gemmell left last night for Bemidji on business.

Chas. H. Nelson of Aitkin was a visitor in the city Monday.

Dr. Bywater of Emily was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

A. W. Wheatley returned to Lima, Ohio, after visiting in the city.

Mrs. W. H. Cleary left yesterday morning for a visit in Minneapolis.

A. D. Peterson, Seventh and Laurel Streets, sharpens skates while you wait, 25c per pair. 18113p

Dr. A. B. Rosenfield of Pequot was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Miller of Winona were visitors in the city Monday.

Miss Dorothy Olson returned last night from the cities after a holiday visit.

Mrs. E. W. Benson arrived yesterday from St. Cloud to visit friends in the city.

Roy Putz of Hibbing is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Putz.

Chop Suey and Chow Mein, special tonight at Hewitt's Cafe. 18112

Miss Shirley Peterson returned yesterday from a visit with relatives in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Allen Wadsworth of Walker is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Wadsworth.

Mrs. Christ Johnson of Jenkins is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Gustafson.

Miss Hope Thabes left this morning for Minneapolis where she will visit friends until Friday.

Mrs. E. E. Johnson of Duluth returned Sunday after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Betzold.

The water will be shut off tomorrow morning on Third Avenue between A Street and E Street. Water & Light Board. 11

Mrs. Walter Peterson of St. Matthias is visiting friends and relatives in the city for a few days.

Miss Myrtis Mayo returned Sunday evening from Duluth where she spent the week end with friends.

Miss Edith Harris returned home from Pillager yesterday after having visited friends there for the past week.

USED CARS

- 1924 Ford Truck.
- 1925 Studebaker Standard Six Coach.
- 1923 Chevrolet Touring Car.

BROWN & MILLS CO.
Corner Front and Fifth Streets. 18112

Born to Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Novick, Sunday, an eight pound baby boy. Mrs. Novick was formerly Miss Helen Siegel.

Attorney Hilding Swanson returned yesterday from Minneapolis where he visited Mrs. Swanson in the St. Mary's hospital.

E. H. Lawrence and sons Oscar and Mayo arrived last evening from Madock, N. D., where they have been relatives.

WEATHER

Jan. 5.—Maximum 26, minimum 20. At 8 a. m. 23. Clear. Southeast wind.

Minnesota.—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday, not much change in temperature.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Tomlinson of 814 Fifth Ave. N. E. are the proud parents of a 12 pound baby boy born early this morning.

Miss Thelma Kleven returned yesterday to St. Cloud after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Kleven.

Miss Ethel Lind returned to Mercer, N. D., where she is teaching after making an extended visit with her mother in the city.

E. Preble of White Fish Lake passed through the city yesterday en route to Minneapolis from where he will motor to Kentucky.

GET READY—The authentic Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures are coming to the Lyceum Thursday and Friday. Shows every blow of the 10 rounds. Children 25c, adults 50c. 18012

Mrs. Marvel Hayes has returned to Staples, where she is teaching, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Putz.

Miss Helen Schelberg of Duluth, formerly of Brainerd, spent the week end with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Erickson.

The bus carrying The Minneapolis Journal arrived one hour 50 minutes late last night. 11

Ms. Ella McMahon left this noon for Davenport, Ia., where she was called by the death of her brother-in-law. Interment will be made at Rochester.

Rev. R. J. Long of St. Paul's Episcopal church left this noon for Little Falls where he will attend a conference of the clergy in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson, C. D. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Johnson left for St. Paul to attend the funeral of Mrs. C. C. Kyle today.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sorenson and daughters Norma Jean and Harriett arrived last night from Askov where they have been visiting relatives.

Election of officers will take place tonight at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the Business Men's Association. Miss G. P. McCabe is secretary.

Miss Dorothy Fisher returned yesterday to Pine River to resume her teaching duties, after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Fisher.

Harold Molstad returned this morning to Northfield, where he is attending St. Olaf's college, after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Molstad.

Miss Gladys Holvick returned to Northfield this morning where she is attending St. Olaf, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Holvick.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindford Hanson have returned from Staples where they visited Rev. George French, who was a former pastor in Brainerd and who is recovering from a recent illness.

Expert Electrical Wiring and Repair Work.
Good workmanship guaranteed.
FILLMORE N. RAND
Call 667-M. 702 N. 5th St. 18112

The Misses Sager of Glencoe, Hunting of Cresco, Ia., Vanasek of Minneapolis and Pagel from Mapleton returned last night to resume their teaching duties in the local schools.

Word was received Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Skauges of the death of their nephew, Dr. K. E. Bjoraker of Minneapolis. Mrs. Skauges left yesterday to attend the funeral.

Miss Mercedes Johnson left this noon for St. Paul where she will resume her studies at St. Catherine's college, after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. G. Johanson.

CHOP SUEY AND CHOW MEIN SPECIAL TONIGHT AT HEWITT'S CAFE. 18112

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mosher of Issaquah, Wash., former Brainerd residents, in a letter written to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Webster wish to be remembered to their many friends through the columns of the Dispatch.

Commissioner and Mrs. Frank A. Anderson and daughter, Bertele, of Emily, were in the city yesterday. Mr. Anderson attended the annual meeting of the county commissioners while Mrs. Anderson and daughter visited friends.

Dainty gifts in imported linen and gay Italian pottery at The Mary Elizabeth Shop. 401 Juniper. 1771f

Scout Executive B. Perry Newton motored to Aitkin Monday evening where he was present at the organizing of scout troop No. 2 which is being sponsored by the American Legion. Tollef Strud was made the scout master.

Important business at Business Men's Association meeting, Wednesday, 8 p. m. January 5th 1927. Chamber of Commerce rooms. Election of officers. G. P. McCabe, Secy. 11

Mrs. Shannon of Crosby spent yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wm. R. Willson, 405 Third Ave. N. E., while enroute to her home from St. Paul, where she accompanied her daughter, Katherine, who returned to Stout Normal at Menominee, Wis., after spending the holidays with her parents.

B. L. S. A. MEETING

To be Held January 10 in the Farmers Room of Court House

The annual meeting of the Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association will be held January 10 at the Farmers room of the courthouse at 1 p. m.

1925 refund checks will be on hand for distribution. H. B. Olson is secretary of the organization.

Legion Auxiliary
The American Legion Auxiliary will meet in the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

St. Francis Guild
The St. Francis Guild held its regular meeting this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the K. C. hall. The ladies who entertained were: Mesdames Martin Nelson, J. McKenna, Frank McCaffrey, Geo. Boettcher, D. McGaffegan, Fred Berry, H. Grobner, Eva Larkin, P. J. Oberst.

Has Most Shapely Legs
Included among the dozen or so becomingly draped women who are sold at auction in the slave market scenes of "The Silent Lover," in which Milton Sills is starred at the Lyceum tonight, are Marion McDonald, the reputed possessor of "the shapeliest legs in America," and Yola d'Avril, referred to by Jean Patou, famous French designer, as "the most graceful girl in Paris."

Dempsey-Tunney Fight Pictures at Lyceum Thursday and Friday
One of the biggest picture news announcements of the new year comes from the Lyceum this week where the authentic motion pictures of the famous Dempsey-Tunney fight is to be shown on Thursday and Friday, matinee and night. These pictures were recently shown in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and come here direct from their city run. Local fans will have an opportunity to see the big fistic duel, blow for blow, from the ring side. Large crowds are expected at the local showing.

Bethlehem Lutheran Aid
The ladies aid of the Bethlehem Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon, January 6, at 2 o'clock in the church parlors. A group of ladies will entertain. This will be the annual meeting and all members are urged to attend. Visitors are always welcome.

Women's Missionary Society
The Women's Missionary society of the Zion's Evangelical church will hold their postponed December meeting at the home of Mrs. S. H. Wood, 1007 Sixth Ave. N. E., on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and visitors are always welcome. Mrs. Strothman will lead on the last chapter of "Over the Border."

Yeomen Dancing Party
The Brotherhood of American Yeomen are giving a dancing party at the Elks hall, tonight, after their regular meeting, for members and friends only. Owing to the growing popularity of Yeomen dances the committee is considering the advisability of holding a public dance hereafter on their regular meeting nights, until Lent. Judging by the large attendance at the last masquerade ball the patronage will be all that can be desired.

Alpha Chapter Eastern Star
Alpha Chapter of the Eastern Star will hold their installation of officers next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The installation will be followed by a program and lunch.

CAR STALLED ON CROSSING AND DRIVER KILLED

Wells, Minn., Jan. 5.—(UP)—August Daelse, 29, Fairmont, was instantly killed today when his automobile stalled on a crossing of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad here. His body was thrown 100 feet.
No inquest will be held.

HEALTH SERVICE SOCIETY

At Annual Election Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus is Re-elected President

At the annual meeting of the Northwestern Health Service society held yesterday afternoon in the city hall, Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus was re-elected president for the coming year. Other officers that were chosen were: Vice President, Mrs. George E. Lowe; Secretary, Mrs. J. A. Shaw; Treasurer, Mrs. Emil Gustafson. Mrs. J. C. Clausen was appointed chairman of the sewing committee.

The annual report was made and the general report of last year showed that much more work was accomplished this year than ever before. New delegates were appointed from the various churches and the society will continue in its work for the poor and needy and home nursing. Mrs. Clausen and Mrs. Shaw served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Clara Lutheran Church

The ladies aid of Clara Lutheran church will be entertained in the church parlors tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ole Anderson will entertain.

The Luther League will hold its regular meeting in the church parlors at 8 o'clock. The following program will be rendered:

Song by the audience.
Devotion, pastor and audience.
Song, by the audience.
Selection, "What Gustavus Adolphus means to Protestantism"—Harold Brostrom.

Violin solo—Jennie McCarthy.
Selection, "Tonguetied Lutherans"—Margaret Anderson.

Vocal solo—Dr. C. E. Anderson.
Lecture, "Why I am a Lutheran", the pastor.

Violin solo—Jennie McCarthy.
Business session and social hour.

Refreshments will be served by Calvin Peterson, Clark Hedeon and Walter Parson.

The church board will meet in the church parlors on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Entertains at Dinner New Year's
Mr. and Mrs. Al. Hann entertained at a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown who are leaving the city for St. Paul, where Mr. Brown has been offered a good position, with a sure promise of advancement.

Shower for Bride
A group of 25 friends surprised Mrs. Earl Bentley a bride of last month, last evening, at a miscellaneous shower at her home, 1029 Norwood street. Mrs. Bentley was formerly Miss Hazel Wadsworth.

Entertains for Mother
Mrs. Art. Koop entertained this afternoon in compliment to her mother, Mrs. Newgard who is celebrating her seventy-fifth birthday today.

CRIME TRACED TO CARS, CHECKS, WOMEN

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 5.—(UP)—One of the most effective crime deterrents would be the return of the father to his former position as head and ruler of his household, L. A. Jensen, chairman of the state board of parole, declared in an interview on the parole system and on crime in general.

The feminist movement, according to Jensen, has weakened the authority of the father. The 19th amendment, which, Jensen said, is that there is no head of the household and children do not know which parent they should look to for discipline, consequently they are inclined to look to neither.

Ninety per cent of all crime in Iowa can be traced to automobiles, check books and women, Jensen said.

NOTICE
Annual meeting of Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association will be held January 10, at Farmers Room of the Court House at 1 p. m. 1925 refund checks will be on hand for distribution. 18112w-411

H. B. OLSON, Secretary.

Sure Relief
BELLANS FOR INDIGESTION 25 CENTS
6 BELLANS Hot water Sure Relief

BELLANS FOR INDIGESTION 25c and 75c Pkgs. Sold Everywhere

Our Clearance Sale

Is Now On In Full Blast

On Women's Cloth Coats

On Women's Fur Coats

On All Dresses

On Women's and Children's

Munsingwear

SAVE MONEY--BUY NOW

Murphy's

GOV. CHRISTIANSON TAKES OATH OF OFFICE SECOND TIME

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Theodore Christianson, of Dawson, Minn., former newspaper editor, became governor of the state of Minnesota for a second two year term today when in the presence of the senate at the house of the Minnesota legislature he took the oath of office.

Chief Justice Samuel B. Wilson, Mankato, of the Minnesota supreme court, administered the oath to Christianson for the second time in two years.

Committees of the upper and lower chambers of the legislature, which escorted Christianson to the house were headed by Senator F. E. Putnam, Faribault county, and Representative J. P. Hompe of Otter Tail county. Speaker John A. Johnson presided with Lieutenant Governor W. I. Nolan, presiding officer of the senate, at his side.

Flags, bunting, flowers, ferns and plants decorated the lower chamber. All available sitting and standing place on the floor and in the galleries was occupied with 200 extra chairs provided.

It was a picturesque ceremony. After administration of the oath, Governor Christianson began reading from a typewritten copy of his second inaugural message.

PIPESTONE STATE PARK PLANS

Pipestone, Minn., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Plans for the proposed Pipestone State park probably can now be gone forward with the result of the recent decision of the United States supreme court overruling a decision of the court of claims at Washington.

Official copies of the final court ruling the Pipestone Indian reservation case, wherein the government is commanded to pay the Sioux Indians for the reservation land here have been received in Pipestone.

When the price to be paid, said to be in the neighborhood of $300,000, has been given to the Indians, the land will pass formally into the hands of the government. This will permit the carrying out of the park plans for which the last legislature paved the way. The historic Pipestone quarries are located on the reservation.

Three L's Strong Bond
Among the English-speaking peoples the strongest bond uniting them is said to be that of the three L's—literature, law and language. Some students put language first, and literature last, but others maintain that the literature is what has made the language foremost in the triple bond.

Boys, Let's Go Home
A New York woman is at the head of a movement to have the men do the cooking for the family. If the idea is to make marriage obsolete it is a good one.—New Orleans States.

Rheumatism
BAUME BENGUE (Ba.-Gay) gives quick relief from the agonizing pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, and every ache and pain. Its penetrating warmth relieves the congestion and soothes the inflamed nerves.
GET THE ORIGINAL FRENCH
BAUME BENGUE (ANALGESIQUE)

VALET AutoStrop Razor
sharpens itself
There's a way to end colds so quick and efficient that we paid $1,000,000 for it. That way is HILL'S. It stops colds in 24 hours, checks fever, opens the bowels, then tones the entire system. Millions employ it because it brings such prompt, complete results. Go try it now.
HILL'S Cascara-Bromide-Quinine
Be sure you get HILL'S, in the red box with portrait. At all druggists—50c.

Colds Ended overnight
U. C. T. AUDITORIUM
For dances, political meetings, musicals, theatricals, etc.
See Secretary, Dispatch Office

Anything to Sell, Buy or Exchange? ADVERTISE
If We Say It, It's So. If It's So, We Say It.
READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

It's a Girl
In France when a baby girl is born the parents set aside a sum of money. Every year they add to it as much as they can, so that when she marries she will have a goodly sum for her share in the new home partnership.
In this country parents build savings accounts for both boys and girls to assure them a good start in life. Deposits made up to and including January 10th draw interest from January 1st.
FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Forty-four Years of Safe Successful Banking

Standard Coal
Is something more than just good coal--it's extra good coal. There's comfort in every lump.
Standard Lumber Co.

D. E. WHITNEY
DIRECTOR OF FUNERALS
720 Front St. BRAINERD, MINN.
L. W. SHERLUND
Plumbing and Heating
All kinds of pipes, fittings and valves.
Painting and Paper Hanging
SIGNS
CLAUDE C. BOWEN
Phone 982-W 617 Main St.
W. F. WIELAND
ATTORNEY AT LAW
3rd Floor Court House
DR. NESMITH NELSON
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
211 Citizens State Bank Bldg. Brainerd, Minn. Telephone 948
JAS. H. WARNER
Attorney-at-Law
Walterman Building, Front St. Telephone 971

PERSONAL, CLUB and LOCAL NEWS

Telephone 74

HEY LOOK! The Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures are to be shown at the Lyceum Thursday and Friday, 25c-50c. 18012

Rag rug weaving for a limited time 40c per yard. Linder Rug Co. 18015

For colds and gripe Skaugs' Never Cough clears the lungs. 1701f

ELKS MEETING

Thursday evening, Jan. 6
Initiation and Lunch.

Milton Sills is a "Silent Lover," with Viola Dana tonight at the Lyceum. 18012

Notice to Band men, Important business meeting, Wednesday, Jan. 5 at Courthouse. Please attend. Andy Anderson, Mgr.

For that grippy, hacking cough take Skaugs' Never Cough. Skaugs Drug Co. 1701f

W. H. Gemmell left last night for Bemidji on business.

Chas. H. Neison of Aitkin was a visitor in the city Monday.

Dr. Bywater of Emily was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

A. W. Wheatley returned to Lima, Ohio, after visiting in the city.

Mrs. W. H. Cleary left yesterday morning for a visit in Minneapolis.

A. D. Peterson, Seventh and Laurel Streets, sharpens skates while you wait, 25c per pair. 18113p

Dr. A. B. Rosenfield of Pequot was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Miller of Winona were visitors in the city Monday.

Miss Dorothy Olson returned last night from the cities after a holiday visit.

Mrs. E. W. Benson arrived yesterday from St. Cloud to visit friends in the city.

Roy Patz of Hibbing is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Patz.

Chop Suey and Chow Mein, special tonight at Hewitt's Cafe. 18112

Miss Shirley Peterson returned yesterday from a visit with relatives in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Allen Wadsworth of Walker is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Wadsworth.

Mrs. Christ Johnson of Jenkins is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Gustafson.

Miss Hope Thabes left this morning for Minneapolis where she will visit friends until Friday.

Mrs. E. E. Johnson of Duluth returned Sunday after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Betzold.

The water will be shut off tomorrow morning on Third Avenue between A Street and E Street. Water & Light Board.

Mrs. Walter Peterson of St. Mathias is visiting friends and relatives in the city for a few days.

Miss Myrtle Mayo returned Sunday evening from Duluth where she spent the week end with friends.

Miss Edith Harris returned home from Pillager yesterday after having visited friends there for the past week.

USED CARS

1924 Ford Truck.
1925 Studebaker Standard Six Coach.
1923 Chevrolet Touring Car.

BROWN & MILLS CO.
Corner Front and Fifth Streets.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Novick, Sunday, an eight pound baby boy. Mrs. Novick was formerly Miss Helen Siegel.

Attorney Hilding Swanson returned yesterday from Minneapolis where he visited Mrs. Swanson in the St. Mary's hospital.

E. H. Lawrenz and sons Oscar and Mayo arrived last evening from Mad dock, N. D., where they have been visiting relatives.

WEATHER

Jan. 5.—Maximum 26, minimum 20. At 8 a. m. 23. Clear. Southeast wind.

Minnesota — Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday, not much change in temperature.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Tomlinson of 814 Fifth Ave. N. E. are the proud parents of a 12 pound baby boy born early this morning.

Miss Thelma Kleven returned yesterday to St. Cloud after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Kleven.

Miss Ethel Lind returned to Mercer, N. D., where she is teaching after making an extended visit with her mother in the city.

E. Preble of White Fish Lake passed through the city yesterday en route to Minneapolis from where he will motor to Kentucky.

GET READY—The authentic Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures are coming to the Lyceum Thursday and Friday. Shows every blow of the 10 rounds. Children 25c, adults 50c. 18012

Mrs. Marvel Hayes has returned to Staples, where she is teaching, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Putz.

Miss Helen Schelberg of Duluth, formerly of Brainerd, spent the week end with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Erickson.

The bus carrying The Minneapolis Journal arrived one hour 50 minutes late last night. It

Mrs. Ella McMahon left this noon for Davenport, Ia., where she was called by the death of her brother-in-law. Interment will be made at Rochester.

Rev. R. J. Long of St. Paul's Episcopal church left this noon for Little Falls where he will attend a conference of the clergy in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson, C. D. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Johnson left for St. Paul to attend the funeral of Mrs. C. C. Kyle today.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sorenson and daughters Norma Jean and Harriett arrived last night from Askov where they have been visiting relatives.

Election of officers will take place tonight at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the Business Men's Association. Miss G. P. McCabe is secretary.

Miss Dorothy Fisher returned yesterday to Pine River to resume her teaching duties, after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Fisher.

Harold Molstad returned this morning to Northfield, where he is attending St. Olaf's college, after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Molstad.

Miss Gladys Holvick returned to Northfield this morning where she is attending St. Olaf, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Holvick.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindford Hanson have returned from Staples where they visited Rev. George French, who was a former pastor in Brainerd and who is recovering from a recent illness.

Expert Electrical Wiring and Repair Work.
Good workmanship guaranteed.
FILLMORE N. RAND
Call 667-M. 702 N. 5th St. 18112

The Misses Sager of Glencoe, Hunting of Cresco, Ia., Vanasek of Minneapolis and Pagel from Mapleton returned last night to resume their teaching duties in the local schools.

Word was received Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Skaugs of the death of their nephew, Dr. K. E. Bjoraker of Minneapolis. Mrs. Skaugs left yesterday to attend the funeral.

Miss Mercedes Johnson left this noon for St. Paul where she will resume her studies at St. Catherine's college, after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. G. Johnson.

CHOP SUEY AND CHOW MEIN SPECIAL TONIGHT AT HEWITT'S CAFE. 18112

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mosher of Issaquia, Wash., former Brainerd residents, in a letter written to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Webster wish to be remembered to their many friends through the columns of the Dispatch.

Commissioner and Mrs. Frank A. Anderson and daughter, Bertele, of Emily, were in the city yesterday. Mr. Anderson attended the annual meeting of the county commissioners while Mrs. Anderson and daughter visited friends.

Dainty gifts in imported linen and gay Italian pottery at The Mary Elizabeth Shop, 401 Juniper. 1771f

Scout Executive B. Perry Newton motored to Aitkin Monday evening where he was present at the organizing of scout troop No. 2 which is being sponsored by the American Legion. Toller Strud was made the scout master.

Important business at Business Men's Association meeting, Wednesday, 8 p. m. January 5th 1927. Chamber of Commerce rooms. Election of officers. G. P. McCabe, Secy. 11

Mrs. Shannon of Crosby spent yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wm. R. Willson, 405 Third Ave. N. E., while enroute to her home from St. Paul, where she accompanied her daughter, Katherine, who returned to Stout Normal at Menominee, Wis., after spending the holidays with her parents.

B. L. S. A. MEETING

To be Held January 10 in the Farmers Room of Court House

The annual meeting of the Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association will be held January 10 at the Farmers room of the courthouse at 1 p. m.

1925 refund checks will be on hand for distribution. H. B. Olson is secretary of the organization.

Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet in the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

St. Francis Guild

The St. Francis Guild held its regular meeting this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the K. C. hall. The ladies who entertained were: Mesdames Martin Nelson, J. McKenna, Frank McCaffrey, Geo. Boettcher, D. McGaffegan, Fred Berry, L. Groehner, Eva Larkin, P. J. Oberst.

Has Most Shapely Legs

Included among the dozen or so becomingly draped women who are sold at auction in the slave market scenes of "The Silent Lover," in which Milton Sills is starred at the Lyceum tonight, are Marion McDonald, the reputed possessor of "the shapeliest legs in America," and Yola d'Avril, referred to by Jean Patou, famous French designer, as "the most graceful girl in Paris."

Dempsey-Tunney Fight Pictures at Lyceum Thursday and Friday

One of the biggest picture news announcements of the new year comes from the Lyceum this week where the authentic motion pictures of the famous Dempsey-Tunney fight is to be shown on Thursday and Friday, matinee and night. These pictures were recently shown in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and come here direct from their city run. Local fans will have an opportunity to see the big fistic duel, blow for blow, from the ring side. Large crowds are expected at the local showing.

Bethlehem Lutheran Aid

The ladies aid of the Bethlehem Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon, January 6, at 3 o'clock in the church parlors. A group of ladies will entertain. This will be the annual meeting and all members are urged to attend. Visitors are always welcome.

Women's Missionary Society

The Women's Missionary society of the Zion's Evangelical church will hold their postponed December meeting at the home of Mrs. S. H. Woodson, 1007 Sixth Ave. N. E., on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and visitors always welcome. Mrs. Strothman will lead on the last chapter of "Over the Border."

Yeomen Dancing Party

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen are giving a dancing party at the Elks hall, tonight, after their regular meeting, for members and friends only. Owing to the growing popularity of Yeomen dances the committee is considering the advisability of holding a public dance hereafter on their regular meeting nights, until Lent. Judging by the large attendance at the last masquerade ball the patronage will be all that can be desired.

Alpha Chapter Eastern Star Alpha Chapter of the Eastern Star will hold their installation of officers next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The installation will be followed by a program and lunch.

CAR STALLED ON CROSSING AND DRIVER KILLED

Wells, Minn., Jan. 5.—(UP)—August Daeise, 29, Fairmont, was instantly killed today when his automobile stalled on a crossing of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad here. His body was thrown 100 feet. No inquest will be held.

HEALTH SERVICE SOCIETY

At Annual Election Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus is Re-elected President

At the annual meeting of the Northwestern Health Service society held yesterday afternoon in the city hall, Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus was re-elected president for the coming year. Other officers that were chosen were: Vice President, Mrs. George E. Lowe; Secretary, Mrs. J. A. Shaw; Treasurer, Mrs. Emil Gustafson. Mrs. J. C. Clausen was appointed chairman of the sewing committee.

The annual report was made and the general report of last year showed that much more work was accomplished this year than ever before. New delegates were appointed from the various churches and the society will continue in its work for the poor and needy and home nursing. Mrs. Clausen and Mrs. Shaw served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Clara Lutheran Church

The ladies aid of Clara Lutheran church will be entertained in the church parlors tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ole Anderson will entertain.

The Luther League will hold its regular meeting in the church parlors at 8 o'clock. The following program will be rendered:

Song by the audience.
Devotion, pastor and audience.
Song by the audience.
Selection, "What Gustavus Adolphus means to Protestantism"—Harold Brostrom.

Violin solo—Jennie McCarthy.
Selection, "Tongued" Lutherans—Margaret Anderson.
Vocal solo—Dr. C. E. Anderson.

Lecture, "Why I am a Lutheran", the pastor.
Violin solo—Jennie McCarthy.

Business session and social hour.

Refreshments will be served by Calvin Peterson, Clark Hedeon and Walter Parson.

The church board will meet in the church parlors on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Entertains at Dinner New Year's

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hann entertained at a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown who are leaving the city for St. Paul, where Mr. Brown has been offered a good position, with a sure promise of advancement.

Shower for Bride

A group of 25 friends surprised Mrs. Earl Bentley a bride of last month, last evening, at a miscellaneous shower at her home, 1020 Norwood street. Mrs. Bentley was formerly Miss Hazel Wadsworth.

Entertains for Mother

Mrs. Art. Koop entertained this afternoon in compliment to her mother, Mrs. Newgard who is celebrating her seventy-fifth birthday today.

CRIME TRACED TO CARS, CHECKS, WOMEN

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 5.—(UP)—One of the most effective crime deterrents would be the return of the father to his former position as head and ruler of his household, L. A. Jensen, chairman of the state board of parole, declared in an interview on the parole system and on crime in general.

The feminist movement, according to Jensen, has weakened the authority of the father. The 19th amendment, which, Jensen said, is that there is no head of the household and children do not know which parent they should look to for discipline, consequently they are inclined to look to neither. Ninety per cent of all crime in Iowa can be traced to automobiles, check books and women, Jensen said.

NOTICE

Annual meeting of Brainerd Livestock Shipping Association will be held January 10, at Farmers Room of the Court House at 1 p. m. 1925 refund checks will be on hand for distribution.

H. B. OLSON,
Secretary.

Sure Relief

BELLANS FOR INDIGESTION
25c and 75c Pkgs. Sold Everywhere

6 BELLANS Hot water Sure Relief

BELLANS FOR INDIGESTION

25c and 75c Pkgs. Sold Everywhere

Our Clearance Sale
Is Now On In Full Blast

On Women's Cloth Coats
On Women's Fur Coats
On All Dresses
On Women's and Children's Munsingwear

SAVE MONEY--BUY NOW

Murphy's
HOUSE OF QUALITY

GOV. CHRISTIANSON
TAKES OATH OF
OFFICE SECOND TIME

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Theodore Christianson, of Dawson, Minn., former newspaper editor, became governor of the state of Minnesota for a second two year term today when in the presence of the senate and the house of the Minnesota legislature he took the oath of office.

Chief Justice Samuel B. Wilson, Mankato, of the Minnesota supreme court, administered the oath to Christianson for the second time in two years.

Committees of the upper and lower chambers of the legislature, which escorted Christianson to the house were headed by Senator F. E. Putnam, Faribault county, and Representative J. P. Hompe of Otter Tail county. Speaker John A. Johnson presided with Lieutenant Governor W. I. Nolan, presiding officer of the senate, at his side.

Flags, bunting, flowers, ferns and plants decorated the lower chamber. All available sitting and standing place on the floor and in the galleries was occupied with 200 extra chairs provided.

It was a picturesque ceremony. After administration of the oath, Governor Christianson began reading from a typewritten copy of his second inaugural message.

PIPESTONE STATE PARK PLANS

Pipestone, Minn., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Plans for the proposed Pipestone State park probably can now be gone forward with the result of the recent decision of the United States supreme court overruling a decision of the court of claims at Washington.

Official copies of the final court ruling the Pipestone Indian reservation case, wherein the government is commanded to pay the Sioux Indians for the reservation land here have been received in Pipestone.

When the price to be paid, said to be in the neighborhood of $300,000, has been given to the Indians, the land will pass formally into the hands of the government. This will permit the carrying out of the park plans for which the last legislature paved the way. The historic Pipestone quarries are located on the reservation.

Three L's Strong Bond

Among the English-speaking peoples the strongest bond uniting them is said to be that of the three L's—literature, law and language. Some students put language first and literature last, but others maintain that the literature is what has made the language foremost in the triple bond.

Boys, Let's Go Home

A New York woman is at the head of a movement to have the men do the cooking for the family. If the idea is to make marriage obsolete it is a good one.—New Orleans States.

Colds
Ended overnight

There's a way to end colds so quick and efficient that we paid $1,000,000 for it. That way is HILL'S. It stops colds in 24 hours, checks fever, opens the bowels, then tones the entire system. Millions employ it because it brings such prompt, complete results. Go try it now.

HILL'S Cascara-Bromide-Quinine Be sure you get HILL'S in the red box with portrait. At all druggists—30c.

U. C. T. AUDITORIUM

For dances, political meetings, musicals, theatricals, etc.
See Secretary, Dispatch Office

It's a Girl

In France when a baby girl is born the parents set aside a sum of money. Every year they add to it as much as they can, so that when she marries she will have a goodly sum for her share in the new home partnership.

In this country parents build savings accounts for both boys and girls to assure them a good start in life.

Deposits made up to and including January 10th draw interest from January 1st.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Forty-four Years of Safe Successful Banking

Standard Coal

Is something more than just good coal—it's extra good coal. There's comfort in every lump.

Standard Lumber Co.

D. E. WHITNEY
DIRECTOR OF FUNERALS
720 Front St.
BRAINERD, MINN.

L. W. SHERLUND
Plumbing and Heating
All kinds of pipes, fittings and valves.

Painting and Paper Hanging
SIGNS
CLAUDE C. BOWEN
Phone 982-W 617 Main St.

W. F. WIELAND
ATTORNEY AT LAW
3rd Floor Court House

DR. NESMITH NELSON
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
211 Citizens State Bank Bldg.
Telephone 942 Brainerd, Minn.

JAS. H. WARNER
Attorney-at-Law
Walterman Building, Front St.
Telephone 971

BAUME BENGUE (Ba.-Gay) gives quick relief from the agonizing pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, and every ache and pain. Its penetrating warmth relieves the congestion and soothes the inflamed nerves.

GET THE ORIGINAL FRENCH
BAUME BENGUE
(ANALGESIQUE)

VALET
AutoStop
Razor
sharpens itself

Anything to Sell,
Buy or Exchange?
ADVERTISE

If We Say It, It's So
If It's So, We Say It

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

ORGAN RECITAL BY WM. LESTER

To be Given in Connection With the Regular Program of Musical Club

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Has Won Unusual Fame Both as
Pianist and as
Organist

The regular program of the Brainerd Musical club at the First Congregational church on Saturday afternoon will be an organ recital by William Lester. The club is fortunate in having the use of the very fine organ at the church. Mr. Lester has a very fine record and as this is the first time in many years that the Musical club has had an organ recital, the members can consider themselves fortunate.

William Lester has won unusual fame both as pianist and as organist, as well as in the difficult field of concert-accompanist. He regularly occupies the position as organist at the New First Congregational church in Chicago at which post he plays upon one of the largest and finest organs in the country, a new Kimball of some 120 actual speaking stops. In addition to his performing activities he is a potent influence in the musical life of that great city, being a high officer in many of the important musical organizations there.

As a composer he ranks high in the list of native writers. His choral works are in the repertoire of the best known organizations—his new opera "Everyman" is to be the new American work produced at the Biennial of the National Federation of Music Clubs in Chicago next April. The Lester songs are found listed widely on concert programs, as are the numerous orchestral and other instrumental works. Albert Cotsworth recently appraised him as follows in "Music News": "Once in a while it is good to take inventory of the goods the gods provide. As such times William Lester looms large. He is so able that it is accepted, competent that he is expected to be so, so obliging he is taken for granted, and so willing that he must at times feel he is imposed upon."

He can play on piano or organ the music assigned, but if there is a shortage of theme, notes, ideas or harmony he draws on his able self and supplies them. He plays other people's music for all it is worth; but has plenty of his own that he knows is better. He can brace any kind of a musical slacker into activity, train uncouth ensembles into grace, devise on short notice something to fill a gap, from jazz to fugues, write oratorios, operas, cantatas, pageants, and get them published, accepted and used. * * * Even though this list be chronicled lightly, there is nothing trivial in the undecurrent of regard and admiration for a man who so consistently, constantly, energetically and happily is doing a big part in the present musical progress hereabouts."

INSURGENTS FAIL TO GAIN CONTROL

YEAR'S FIGHT IN WISCONSIN
LODGE BROTHERHOOD RY.
& STEAMSHIP CLERKS

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Ending a year's court fight over the attempt of "insurgents" to gain control of the Wisconsin lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway & Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers & Express & Station Employees, Circuit Judge Otto H. Breidenbach today decided the case in favor of the brotherhood.

Men? Oh, Well!

Men are of some use after all! So the National Federation of Women's Institutions has decided. At a recent meeting in London a resolution was adopted urging more "co-operation with the men, especially with regard to choral and dramatic societies." The mere male receives few bouquets at meetings of the federation, and even this one had a sting on it. It was the only fear of Mrs. Amy Adams, who moved the resolution, that the men would say that "at last the women have admitted they need men's help."

Famous Colonial Lawsuit

The Parsons' case refers to a lawsuit tried in Virginia in Colonial times. Salaries of ministers were payable in tobacco. At one time the clergymen were in danger of becoming losers by the operation of the tender law. Suits were brought to recover the difference between 2 pence per pound in depreciated currency and the tobacco, to which by law the ministers were entitled.

Day's Champion Lie

As we have often observed, with the most wearisome iteration and reiteration in fact, as a man grows older himself it is the older girls that attract him most and yesterday we remarked enthusiastically to a friend as we took her by the hand: "Why how pretty the puffy condition under your eyes looks this morning!"—Oh! "ate Journal."

SPEARS PICKEREL

Earl Fitzsimmons Got Two Fine Ones
From Gull
Lake

Earl Fitzsimmons, of Fitzsimmons and Son, furniture dealers, speared two fine pickerel this morning at Gull Lake. The fish weighed 12 and 16½ pounds respectively.

REHEARSE FOR ANNUAL CONCERT

Brainerd Concert Band Enthusiastic
Over Coming
Event

IN FEBRUARY

Distribution to be Made Among Boys
at Next
Meeting

The Brainerd Concert band is now rehearsing for the annual concert to be given in February. E. A. Page says the boys are getting in fine form and are showing plenty of enthusiasm for the coming event. An unusually fine program is being arranged.

At the next regular band rehearsal next Tuesday evening a distribution will be made among the boys, of the money derived from last year's concert. This money is divided according to the number of concerts attended, and all boys are eligible who have attended at least 52 band rehearsals.

Saturday evening of this week, the usual monthly parent's meeting will be held.

TO CONSIDER FARM PROBLEMS

THE MINNESOTA FARM BUREAU
MEETS AT ST. PAUL JAN.

18, 19, 20

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Every major problem of the Northwest farmer will be considered at the meeting of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation here January 18, 19, and 20.

Legislation aimed toward agricultural relief will be the keynote of the convention and when the remedies have been thoroughly expounded, the best of them will be proposed to the state legislature for enactment into law.

The federation has already its committees busily engaged in surveys on programs to be offered to the 65 agricultural units of the state. Speakers will be drawn from other states to assist the Minnesota organization in a careful and wise selection of measures which the group hopes will become law.

Former Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa, now a diligent worker in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association project, will tell his Minnesota co-workers the meaning of the tidewater movement in connection with the farmer. Harding will be the chief speaker at the convention banquet, Wednesday, Jan. 19.

Co-operative marketing, one of the bulwarks of the soil worker, will come up for discussion on the first day of the convention. C. L. Christenson, chief of the co-operative marketing department at Washington will picture the growth of the movement and outline the work of the future. On the same program will be C. E. Pugsley, president of South Dakota State College and former assistant secretary of agriculture.

Other speakers of the three day convention will be: Mrs. Jacob Solberg of Iowa, on the work of the women's reserve in the bureau; Elmer Knutson of the American Railway Association, Washington, on transportation, and Gunnar Bjornson, of the Minnesota tax commission, on taxation.

The final day of the sessions will be consumed by business including the election of officers and adoption of resolutions. The positions of president, first and second vice president and two places on the executive board are to be filled.

Present officers of the organization are: J. F. Reed, St. Paul, president; A. J. Olson, Renville, first vice president; Hagbarth Bue, Northfield, second vice president; J. F. Jones, St. Paul, Secretary, and E. M. Lawless, St. Paul, treasurer.

Executive board: Thomas E. Cashman, Owatonna; G. W. Freeman, Zumbrota; Mrs. E. V. Ripley, Menasha; J. W. Stevenson, Winnebago; G. W. Alfa, Kimberley, and John E. Pyle, Madison.

Coloring Lantern Slides

Aniline colors may be used to color lantern slides, these acting more as stains than colors. The better-class workers use oil colors in tubes, care being taken to employ only those that show their true tint when viewed by transmitted light. The most useful are gamboge, Italian pink (yellow), burnt and raw sienna, Prussian blue, crimson lake and red madder. Thin with copal varnish.

Abundant Proof That

Colonials Lived Well

Were William Penn to come back to his province few changes would impress him more than the complete alteration that has taken place in the hours for meals, and what is consumed at them.

My lord proprietor ate his heavy meal at noon, and a heavy meal it was. Little or nothing was eaten before that sacred hour, though in those "good old days" many began the day with a drink of some very strong beverage. You would never guess the other "breakfast food." Radishes. "They procured appetite and helped digestion."

By noon the table was set with knife and spoon; forks were very rarely used then. Meats of all kinds comprised most of the food. There seems to have been very few vegetables, and we must remember there were no cold-storage facilities of any kind.

Why Penn's father did not die of apoplexy or liver trouble has puzzled many historians. On January 6, 1662, he gave a dinner at which, in addition to a "chime of beef and other good cheer," they had "18 mince pies in a dish."—From the Corn Exchange.

Toys Aid Formation of Child's Character

A toy! That's what we think of as soon as we plan to give a present to a child, because all children love toys. To many people the mere pleasure is reason enough for giving whatever the child desires most without any further thought in the matter—unless it is, of course, the expense.

Yet these unconsidering givers are numerous among those who find the greatest fault with the young people of today because they are extravagant and wasteful, because they have no resources for entertainment within themselves. They little realize that what they deplore in the present generation of young people had its beginnings in wrong training during the first years of these children's lives. Toys have a direct bearing not only upon young people's amusements, but upon the development of their character as well.

The first consideration, of course, in selecting playthings is the question of pleasure for the child. But what sort of pleasure—momentary, overexcitement or permanent contribution to his interests and resources?—Children, the Magazine for Parents.

Affections of Beauty

It was a certain affection becoming to his beauty that made Alexander carry his head on one side, and Alcibiades to limp; Julius Caesar scratched his head with one finger, which was the fashion of a man full of troublesome thoughts; and Cicero, as I take it, was wont to wrinkle up his nose, as a sign of a man given to scoffing. Amongst irregular countenances, let us not forget that severe one of Emperor Constantine, who always in public held his head quite upright, without bending or turning on either side, not so much as to look upon those who saluted him on one side, planting his body in a stiff, immovable posture, without suffering it to yield to the motion of the coach; not daring so much as to spit, blow his nose, or wipe his face before people.—Montaigne.

Dancing Birds

Many of the birds of South America have the regularly formed habit of meeting periodically in the same place for the purpose of dancing. Some sing as they dance, others accompany the refrain by something unquestionably like instrumental music. The rufous dances alone. Birds of this species range themselves in a circle around level, mossy or soft ground, and one of them, bright with orange and vivid scarlet plumage, leaves the circle and advances to the center of the space with the dignity of a courtier dancing a minuet, his wings spread and tail like a fan. He begins slowly, then, gradually increasing speed, terminates his performances by leaping and whirling until he falls from exhaustion.

"Plantation of Ulster"

The Ulster plantation was the colonization of a large part of Ulster, Ireland, by English and Scottish settlers, 1609-11. The troubles of the early Seventeenth century resulted in the forfeiture of a large part of Ulster to the crown. In 1608 a commission was appointed to determine what to do with the lands. It was proposed to colonize the whole district with retired civil and military servants and colonists from England and Scotland. The lands were divided into portions of 1,000, 1,500 and 2,000 acres, and each large proprietor was bound to build a castle on his estate and forbidden to alienate the land to Irishmen.

Early Head Covering

The earliest form of hat known, according to some historians, was the circular, close-fitting cap, worn either plain or braided. Ancient pictures show that it was worn by captives from Palestine in Assyria, and it appeared also on the heads of the pictured deities and sculptured deities among the heathen tribes.

The Greeks in early times wore two kinds of hat, the "pileus" and the "petasus." The former had no brim, while the latter was made of felt and had a wide brim to protect the wearer from the sun. It is believed that the present-day felt hat is its direct descendant.—New York Times.

Pathos in Survival of Colonial Remnant

About a half acre of colonial New York survives on the west bank of the Harlem river, just north of the University Heights bridge that connects West Fordham road with West Two Hundred and Seventh street. A long, low house covers a goodly portion of this plot that snacks so obviously of a more roomy past. The dwelling droops wearily as if under its staggering weight of years. It was erected when the Harlem was a picturesque stream with some pretense to scenic attractions.

The loneliness of this colonial survival is emphasized by the present commercial and industrial character of the locality as a whole. The river is lined at this point by brickyards, coal pockets and other similar effects not connected with exclusive society. The trim little craft that can be pictured as once pausing at the landing below the house have been supplanted by squat scows, riding low beneath the burdens of rugged merchandise they ferry to and from the yards. The silence of the section, that was once broken only by the natural notes of birds and insects, is now shattered by the snorts of straining tugboats and the clamorous horns of motor cars.—New York Times.

Musical Genius Gave Piano to the World

Johann Sebastian Bach, one of the greatest of musical geniuses, was at one time a piano tuner, and it was through his efforts that music reached its present range, a writer in the Kansas City Star informs us. Before Bach's time musicians had only a limited number of keys in which to write music, as they could not time their instruments to other keys, and as a result all music written prior to 1700 is very much alike in tune. Bach labored ceaselessly on the harpsichord, fore-runner of the piano, until he discovered the lost notes hidden in the strings. Then he began to write music in keys hitherto unknown to his compatriots. At first they did not take kindly to his variations of chords and intermingling of many strange sounds and called him a musical fanatic. Later, however, Mozart, upon hearing one of Bach's pieces, exclaimed: "Thank Heaven! here at last is something new that I can learn from." Then followed such great masters as Chopin, Schumann, Liszt and Rubenstein who adored and played Bach.

Mountain Elevator

The great "lift" to carry aspiring tourists who would eschew the combined joys and labors of the mountain climber to the top of the rugged Wetterhorn, in Switzerland, is one of the most interesting devices in the world.

It goes up by two stages, each about 2,000 feet high. The passenger cages are lifted by a drum-wound rope and guided by two pairs of steel cables, each about an inch and three-quarters in diameter, and possessing a tensile strength of 330 tons, 10 times the maximum put upon them. The cars are attached to these cables in such a manner as to avert a fall in case of the breaking of one of the lifting ropes. The cars, weighing 5½ tons, and carrying 20 passengers apiece, are lifted vertically at a speed of about five feet a second.

Sign of the Cross

One of the astonishing sights to the average American tourist in Europe, is the frequent sight which can be had in very small villages of wealthy and massive churches. I can think of several English hamlets which have churches that American cities might be glad to call cathedrals. On an automobile trip to Paris recently, it was true in several places. At Bonny, for example, I noticed a fine gray ancient church, which would have looked in its proper setting in Chicago or Boston. How could such a small village have a million-dollar edifice? I suppose the local nobility in older days were largely responsible. It had also a fine marble statue of Joan of Arc.—Detroit Free Press.

One "Bad Egg"

A school teacher relates that she was giving her small pupils a lesson on birds, and after telling about the hatching of the eggs, the care of the mother bird and the first lessons in flying, she said: "Now, children, I am the mother bird and you are the little birds nestled in your cozy nest. I want you all to spread your wings and fly away." Each child, waving arms to the music she beat, skipped to the dressing room, with the exception of one little fellow who remained motionless in his seat. Turning to him, she said: "Donald, why didn't you fly away with all the other little birds?" "Cause," came the prompt and unexpected reply, "Cause I was a bad egg."—Boston Transcript.

Ancient Iron Mine

The United States bureau of mines says that the Cornwall Iron Mountain ore banks, near Lebanon, Pa., have been in operation since about 1740. This is an open-pit operation, and it is mined by steam shovels. There are numerous pit mines in Lake Superior districts. Two of the large ore pits are the Hull-Rust, at Hibbing, Minn., which produces more ore in a year than the Cornwall pit; also the Mahoning pit, which produces more, and adjoins the Hull-Rust pit. The Hull-Rust and Mahoning pits give hematite ore, while the Cornwall pit gives magnetite.

Trial Not Necessary After the Election

President Roosevelt never turned a deaf ear to his Spanish war rough riders when they appealed to him for help. On one occasion a rough rider was indicted for killing a man in a western state and he wrote to the President, asking for a loan of $200 to hire a lawyer to defend him. The crime had taken place in some sort of ranch brawl. In keeping with his custom, the President sent the requested $200, never expecting to see it again. James Amos, former family servant of the Roosevelts, relates in an article in Collier's Weekly. However, a short time later, much to his surprise, he got another letter from the same man, returning the $200. The letter said in substance:

"Dear Teddy: I'm sending back the money I borrowed to help at my trial. We didn't need to have no trial, as we elected our district attorney."

Black Phosphorus

Black phosphorus, hitherto supposed to be pure phosphorus turned black as result of sudden cooling, is produced by the contact of phosphorus with mercury on which it can react at the moment when it passes from the liquid to the solid state. Molten phosphorus dissolves mercury, giving a colorless solution. When cooled the saturated solution remains colorless in all low temperatures, but if the phosphorus solidifies the solidification is very weak and the mercury leaves the solidified phosphorus and colors it black.

If black phosphorus is melted, the mercury is easily redissolved in the surrounding phosphorus and the whole body becomes colorless. This is the correct explanation of the phenomenon.

CITATION FOR HEARING ON PETITION FOR ADMINISTRATION

No. 2387
State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss., in Probate Court.
In the Matter of the Estate of Charles J. Sundine, also known as C. J. Sundine, Decedent.

The State of Minnesota, to All Whom It May Concern:
Whereas, Agnes S. Sundine, has filed in this Court her petition stating, among other things, that she is a daughter of the above named decedent; that said decedent died intestate, a resident of the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, and was a citizen of the United States; and praying that administration of his estate be granted to Agnes S. Sundine.
Therefore, You are hereby cited to be and appear before said Court on the 31st day of January, 1927, at ten o'clock A. M., in the Court House in the City of Brainerd, in said County and State, and show cause, if any you have, why said petition should not be granted.
Dated January 5th, 1927.
(Probate Court Seal) L. B. KINDER, Probate Judge.
SWANSON, SWANSON & SWANSON, Brainerd, Minn., Attorneys for Petitioner.

Faulty Elimination

Should Be Corrected—Good Elimination
Is Essential to Good Health.

If you would be well, see to your elimination. Faulty kidney action permits toxic material to remain in the blood and upset the whole system. Then, one is apt to have a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, a toxic backache or headache, and often some irregularity of secretions, such as scanty or burning passages. More and more people are acclaiming the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, in this condition. For more than forty years Doan's have been winning favor the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS
60c
Stimulant Diuretic to the Kidneys
Foster-Milburn Co., Mfg. Chem., Buffalo, N. Y.

Lyceum

"The Pick of All Pictures"

TONIGHT LAST TIME
2:15, 7 and 9 10c and 25c

Another Big Hit from First National

"SURE FIRE" Comedy

THURSDAY & FRIDAY
Matinee and Night

LOOK!

The Dempsey-
Tunney
Fight

Authentic pictures taken at the ringside, showing every blow of the 10 rounds. Come early for ringside seats.

Children 25¢ Adults 50¢

The Brainerd Home of

Complete Printing and Advertising
Service

The Brainerd Dispatch Co.

For Jan.
6th and 7th

FIDELITY
STORES CO
"FAITHFUL TO THE PUBLIC"

SOAP
White
Naphtha
10 bars
37c

Kelloggs Corn Flakes 2 pkgs 19c

SALMON GOOD PINK 14c
NO. 1 TALL TINS

CORN MATCHES
Sweet--Good Quality Large Boxes
3 No. 2 Tins 25c 6 For 22c

ORGAN RECITAL BY WM. LESTER

To be Given in Connection With the Regular Program of Musical Club

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Has Won Unusual Fame Both as
Pianist and as
Organist

The regular program of the Brainerd Musical club at the First Congregational church on Saturday afternoon will be an organ recital by William Lester. The club is fortunate in having the use of the very fine organ at the church. Mr. Lester has a very fine record and as this is the first time in many years that the Musical club has had an organ recital, the members can consider themselves fortunate.

William Lester has won unusual fame both as pianist and as organist, as well as in the difficult field of concert-accompanist. He regularly occupies the position as organist at the New First Congregational church in Chicago at which post he plays upon one of the largest and finest organs in the country, a new Kimball of some 120 actual speaking stops. In addition to his performing activities he is a potent influence in the musical life of that great city, being a high officer in many of the important musical organizations there.

As a composer he ranks high in the list of native writers. His choral works are in the repertoire of the best known organizations—his new opera "Everyman" is to be the new American work produced at the Biennial of the National Federation of Music Clubs in Chicago next April. The Lester songs are found listed widely on concert programs, as are the numerous orchestral and other instrumental works. Albert Cotsworth recently appraised him as follows in "Music News": "Once in so often it is good to take inventory of the goods the gods provide. As such times William Lester looms large. He is so able that it is accepted, competent that he is expected to be so, so obliging he is taken for granted, and so willing that he must at times feel he is imposed upon."

He can play on piano or organ the music assigned, but if there is a shortage of theme, notes, ideas or harmony he draws on his able self and supplies them. He plays other people's music for all it is worth; but has plenty of his own that he knows is better. He can brace any kind of a musical slacker into activity, train uncouth ensembles into grace, devise on short notice something to fill a gap, from jazz to fugues, write oratorios, operas, cantatas, pageants, and get them published, accepted and used. * * * Even though this list be chronicled lightly, there is nothing trivial in the undecurrent of regard and admiration for a man who so consistently, constantly, energetically and happily is doing a big part in the present musical progress hereabouts."

INSURGENTS FAIL TO GAIN CONTROL

YEAR'S FIGHT IN WISCONSIN
LODGE BROTHERHOOD RY.
& STEAMSHIP CLERKS

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Ending a year's court fight over the attempt of "insurgents" to gain control of the Wisconsin lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway & Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers & Express & Station Employees, Circuit Judge Otto H. Breidenbach today decided the case in favor of the brotherhood.

Men? Oh, Well!

Men are of some use after all! So the National Federation of Women's Institutions has decided. At a recent meeting in London a resolution was adopted urging more "co-operation with the men, especially with regard to choral and dramatic societies." The mere male receives few bouquets at meetings of the federation, and even this one had a sting on it. It was the only fear of Mrs. Amy Adams, who moved the resolution, that the men would say that "at last the women have admitted they need men's help."

Famous Colonial Lawsuit

The Parsons' case refers to a lawsuit tried in Virginia in Colonial times. Salaries of ministers were payable in tobacco. At one time the clergymen were in danger of becoming losers by the operation of the tender law. Suits were brought to recover the difference between 2 pence per pound in depreciated currency and the tobacco, to which by law the ministers were entitled.

Day's Champion Lie

As we have often observed, with the most wearisome iteration and reiteration in fact, as a man grows older himself it is the older girls that attract him most and yesterday we remarked enthusiastically to a friend as we took her by the hand: "Why how pretty the puffy condition under your eyes looks this morning!"—Oh!—State Journal.

SPEARS PICKEREL

Earl Fitzsimmons Got Two Fine Ones
From Gull
Lake

Earl Fitzsimmons, of Fitzsimmons and Son, furniture dealers, speared two fine pickerel this morning at Gull Lake. The fish weighed 12 and 16½ pounds respectively.

REHEARSE FOR ANNUAL CONCERT

Brainerd Concert Band Enthusiastic
Over Coming
Event

IN FEBRUARY

Distribution to be Made Among Boys
at Next
Meeting

The Brainerd Concert band is now rehearsing for the annual concert to be given in February. E. A. Page says the boys are getting in fine form and are showing plenty of enthusiasm for the coming event. An unusually fine program is being arranged.

At the next regular band rehearsal next Tuesday evening a distribution will be made among the boys, of the money derived from last year's concert. This money is divided according to the number of concerts attended, and all boys are eligible who have attended at least 52 band rehearsals.

Saturday evening of this week, the usual monthly parent's meeting will be held.

TO CONSIDER FARM PROBLEMS

THE MINNESOTA FARM BUREAU
MEETS AT ST. PAUL JAN.

18, 19, 20

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—(UP)—Every major problem of the Northwest farmer will be considered at the meeting of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation here January 18, 19 and 20.

Legislation aimed toward agricultural relief will be the keynote of the convention and when the remedies have been thoroughly expounded, the best of them will be proposed to the state legislature for enactment into law.

The federation has already its committees busily engaged in surveys on programs to be offered to the 65 agricultural units of the state. Speakers will be drawn from other states to assist the Minnesota organization in a careful and wise selection of measures which the group hopes will become law.

Former Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa, now a diligent worker in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association project, will tell his Minnesota co-workers the meaning of the tidewater movement in connection with the farmer. Harding will be the chief speaker at the convention banquet, Wednesday, Jan. 19.

Co-operative marketing, one of the bulwarks of the soil worker, will come up for discussion on the first day of the convention. C. L. Christenson, chief of the co-operative marketing department at Washington will picture the growth of the movement and outline the work of the future. On the same program will be C. E. Pugsley, president of South Dakota State College and former assistant secretary of agriculture.

Other speakers of the three day convention will be: Mrs. Jacob Solberg of Iowa, on the work of the women's reserve in the bureau; Elmer Knutson of the American Railway Association, Washington, on transportation, and Gunnar Bjornson, of the Minnesota tax commission, on taxation.

The final day of the sessions will be consumed by business including the election of officers and adoption of resolutions. The positions of president, first and second vice president and two places on the executive board are to be filled.

Present officers of the organization are: J. F. Reed, St. Paul, president; A. J. Olson, Renville, first vice president; Hagbarth Bue, Northfield, second vice president; J. F. Jones, St. Paul, Secretary, and E. M. Lawless, St. Paul, treasurer.

Executive board: Thomas E. Cashman, Owatonna; G. W. Freeman, Zumbrota; Mrs. E. V. Ripley, Menasha; J. W. Stevenson, Winnebago; G. W. Alfa, Kimberley, and John E. Pyle, Madison.

Coloring Lantern Slides

Aniline colors may be used to color lantern slides, these acting more as stains than colors. The better-class workers use oil colors in tubes, care being taken to employ only those that show their true tint when viewed by transmitted light. The most useful are gamboge, Italian pink (yellow), burnt and raw sienna, Prussian blue, crimson lake and red madder. Thin with copal varnish.

Abundant Proof That Colonials Lived Well

Were William Penn to come back to his province few changes would impress him more than the complete alteration that has taken place in the hours for meals, and what is consumed at them.

My lord proprietor ate his heavy meal at noon, and a heavy meal it was. Little or nothing was eaten before that sacred hour, though in those "good old days" many began the day with a drink of some very strong beverage. You would never guess the other "breakfast food." Radishes. "They procured appetite and helped digestion."

By noon the table was set with knife and spoon; forks were very rarely used then. Meats of all kinds comprised most of the food. There seems to have been very few vegetables, and we must remember there were no cold-storage facilities of any kind.

Why Penn's father did not die of apoplexy or liver trouble has puzzled many historians. On January 6, 1662, he gave a dinner at which, in addition to a "chine of beef and other good cheer," they had "18 mince pies in a dish."—From the Corn Exchange.

Toys Aid Formation of Child's Character

A toy! That's what we think of as soon as we plan to give a present to a child, because all children love toys. To many people the mere pleasure is reason enough for giving whatever the child desires most without any further thought in the matter—unless it is, of course, the expense.

Yet these unconsidering givers are numerous among those who find the greatest fault with the young people of today because they are extravagant and wasteful, because they have no resources for entertainment within themselves. They little realize that what they deplore in the present generation of young people had its beginnings in wrong training during the first years of these children's lives. Toys have a direct bearing not only upon young people's amusements, but upon the development of their character as well.

The first consideration, of course, in selecting playthings is the question of pleasure for the child. But what sort of pleasure—momentary, overexcitement or permanent contribution to his interests and resources?—Children, the Magazine for Parents.

Affections of Beauty

It was a certain affection becoming to his beauty that made Alexander carry his head on one side, and Alcibiades to limp; Julius Caesar scratched his head with one finger, which was the fashion of a man full of trouble-some thoughts; and Cicero, as I take it, was wont to wrinkle up his nose, as a sign of a man given to scoffing. Amongst irregular countenances, let us not forget that severe one of Emperor Constantine, who always in public held his head quite upright, without bending or turning on either side, not so much as to look upon those who saluted him on one side, planting his body in a stiff, immovable posture, without suffering it to yield to the motion of the coach; not daring so much as to spit, blow his nose, or wipe his face before people.—Montaigne.

Dancing Birds

Many of the birds of South America have the regularly formed habit of meeting periodically in the same place for the purpose of dancing. Some sing as they dance, others accompany the refrain by something unquestionably like instrumental music. The rufous-colored dances alone. Birds of this species range themselves in a circle around level, mossy or soft ground, and one of them, bright with orange and vivid scarlet plumage, leaves the circle and advances to the center of the space with the dignity of a courtier dancing a minuet, his wings spread and tail like a fan. He begins slowly, then, gradually increasing speed, terminates his performances by leaping and whirling until he falls from exhaustion.

"Plantation of Ulster"

The Ulster plantation was the colonization of a large part of Ulster, Ireland, by English and Scottish settlers, 1609-11. The troubles of the early Seventeenth century resulted in the forfeiture of a large part of Ulster to the crown. In 1608 a commission was appointed to determine what to do with the lands. It was proposed to colonize the whole district with retired civil and military servants and colonists from England and Scotland. The lands were divided into portions of 1,000, 1,500 and 2,000 acres, and each large proprietor was bound to build a castle on his estate and forbidden to alienate the land to Irishmen.

Early Head Covering

The earliest form of hat known, according to some historians, was the circular, close-fitting cap, worn either plain or braided. Ancient pictures show that it was worn by captives from Palestine in Assyria, and it appeared also on the heads of the pictured deities and sculptured deities among the heathen tribes.

The Greeks in early times wore two kinds of hat, the "pileus" and the "petasus." The former had no brim, while the latter was made of felt and had a wide brim to protect the wearer from the sun. It is believed that the present-day felt hat is its direct descendant.—New York Times.

Pathos in Survival of Colonial Remnant

About a half acre of colonial New York survives on the west bank of the Harlem river, just north of the University Heights bridge that connects West Fordham road with West Two Hundred and Seventh street. A long, low house covers a goodly portion of this plot that smacks so obviously of a more roomy past. The dwelling droops wearily as it under its staggering weight of years. It was erected when the Harlem was a picturesque stream with some pretense to scenic attractions.

The loneliness of this colonial survival is emphasized by the present commercial and industrial character of the locality as a whole. The river is lined at this point by brickyards, coal pockets and other similar effects not connected with exclusive society. The trim little craft that can be pictured as once pausing at the landing below the house have been supplanted by squat scows, riding low beneath the burdens of rugged merchandise they ferry to and from the yards. The silence of the section, that was once broken only by the natural notes of birds and insects, is now shattered by the snorts of straining tugboats and the clamorous horns of motor cars.—New York Times.

Musical Genius Gave Piano to the World

Johann Sebastian Bach, one of the greatest of musical geniuses, was at one time a piano tuner, and it was through his efforts that music reached its present range, a writer in the Kansas City Star informs us. Before Bach's time musicians had only a limited number of keys in which to write music, as they could not time their instruments to other keys, and as a result all music written prior to 1700 is very much alike in tune. Bach labored ceaselessly on the harpsichord, fore-runner of the piano, until he discovered the lost notes hidden in the strings. Then he began to write music in keys hitherto unknown to his compatriots. At first they did not take kindly to his variations of chords and intermingling of many strange sounds and called him a musical fanatic. Later, however, Mozart, upon hearing one of Bach's pieces, exclaimed: "Thank Heaven! here at last is something new that I can learn from." Then followed such great masters as Chopin, Schumann, Liszt and Rubenstein who adored and played Bach.

Mountain Elevator

The great "lift" to carry aspiring tourists who would eschew the combined joys and labors of the mountain climber to the top of the rugged Wetterhorn, in Switzerland, is one of the most interesting devices in the world. It goes up by two stages, each about 2,000 feet high. The passenger cages are lifted by a drum-wound rope and guided by two pairs of steel cables, each about an inch and three-quarters in diameter, and possessing a tensile strength of 330 tons, 10 times the maximum put upon them. The cars are attached to these cables in such a manner as to avert a fall in case of the breaking of one of the lifting ropes. The cars, weighing 5½ tons, and carrying 20 passengers apiece, are lifted vertically at a speed of about five feet a second.

Sign of the Cross

One of the astonishing sights to the average American tourist in Europe, is the frequent sight which can be had in very small villages of wealthy and massive churches. I can think of several English hamlets which have churches that American cities might be glad to call cathedrals. On an automobile trip to Paris recently, it was true in several places. At Bonny, for example, I noticed a fine gray ancient church, which would have looked in its proper setting in Chicago or Boston. How could such a small village have a million-dollar edifice? I suppose the local nobility in older days were largely responsible. It had also a fine marble statue of Joan of Arc.—Detroit Free Press.

One "Bad Egg"

A school teacher relates that she was giving her small pupils a lesson on birds, and after telling about the hatching of the eggs, the care of the mother bird and the first lessons in flying, she said: "Now, children, I am the mother bird and you are the little birds nestled in your cozy nest. I want you all to spread your wings and fly away." Each child, waving arms to the music she beat, skipped to the dressing room, with the exception of one little fellow who remained motionless in his seat. Turning to him, she said: "Donald, why didn't you fly away with all the other little birds?" "Cause," came the prompt and unexpected reply, "Cause I was a bad egg."—Boston Transcript.

Ancient Iron Mine

The United States bureau of mines says that the Cornwall Iron Mountain ore banks, near Lebanon, Pa., have been in operation since about 1740. This is an open-pit operation, and it is mined by steam shovels. There are numerous pit mines in Lake Superior districts. Two of the large ore pits are the Hull-Rust, at Hibbing, Minn., which produces more ore in a year than the Cornwall pit; also the Mahoning pit, which produces more, and adjoins the Hull-Rust pit. The Hull-Rust and Mahoning pits give hematite ore, while the Cornwall pit gives magnetite.

Trial Not Necessary After the Election

President Roosevelt never turned a deaf ear to his Spanish war rough riders when they appealed to him for help. On one occasion a rough rider was indicted for killing a man in a western state and he wrote to the President, asking for a loan of $200 to hire a lawyer to defend him. The crime had taken place in some sort of ranch brawl. In keeping with his custom, the President sent the requested $200, never expecting to see it again. James Amos, former family servant of the Roosevelts, relates in an article in Collier's Weekly. However, a short time later, much to his surprise, he got another letter from the same man, returning the $200. The letter said in substance:

"Dear Teddy: I'm sending back the money I borrowed to help at my trial. We didn't need to have no trial, as we elected our district attorney."

Black Phosphorus

Black phosphorus, hitherto supposed to be pure phosphorus turned black as result of sudden cooling, is produced by the contact of phosphorus with mercury on which it can react at the moment when it passes from the liquid to the solid state. Molten phosphorus dissolves mercury, giving a colorless solution. When cooled the saturated solution remains colorless in all low temperatures, but if the phosphorus solidifies the solidification is very weak and the mercury leaves the solidified phosphorus and colors it black. If black phosphorus is melted, the mercury is easily redissolved in the surrounding phosphorus and the whole body becomes colorless. This is the correct explanation of the phenomenon.

CITATION FOR HEARING ON PETITION FOR ADMINISTRATION

No. 2987.
State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss.: In Probate Court.
In the Matter of the Estate of Charles J. Sundine, also known as C. J. Sundine, Decedent.
The State of Minnesota, to All Whom It May Concern:
Whereas, Agnes S. Sundine, has filed in this Court her petition stating, among other things, that she is a daughter of the above named decedent; that said decedent died intestate, a resident of the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, left property in the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, and was a citizen of the United States; and praying that administration of his estate be granted to Agnes S. Sundine.
Therefore, You are hereby cited to be and appear before said Court on the 8th day of January, 1927, at ten o'clock A. M., in the Court House in the City of Brainerd, in said County and State, and show cause, if any you have, why said petition should not be granted.
Dated January 5th, 1927.
L. E. KINDER, Probate Judge.
SWANSON, SWANSON & SWANSON, Brainerd, Minn., Attorneys for Petitioner.

Faulty Elimination

Should Be Corrected—Good Elimination Is Essential to Good Health.

If you would be well, see to your elimination. Faulty kidney action permits toxic material to remain in the blood and upset the whole system. Then, one is apt to have a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, a toxic backache or headache, and often some irregularity of secretions, such as scanty or burning passages. More and more people are acclaiming the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, in this condition. For more than forty years Doan's have been winning favor the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS
60c
Stimulant Diuretic to the Kidneys
Foster-Milburn Co., Mfg. Chem., Buffalo, N. Y.

Lyceum

"The Pick of All Pictures"

TONIGHT LAST TIME
2:15, 7 and 9 10c and 25c

Another Big Hit from First
National

Famous cast.
Marvelous desert scenes.
Irresistible romance of a Desert Slave Girl and a handsome young Lieutenant who brought her Love from another world.

"SURE FIRE" Comedy

THURSDAY & FRIDAY
Matinee and Night

LOOK!

The
Dempsey-Tunney Fight

Authentic pictures taken at the ringside, showing every blow of the 10 rounds. Come early for ringside seats.

Children 25¢ Adults 50¢

The Brainerd Home of

Complete Printing and Advertising Service

The Brainerd Dispatch Co.

For Jan. 6th and 7th

FIDELITY STORES CO

"FAITHFUL TO THE PUBLIC"

SOAP
White
Naphtha
10 bars
37c

Kelloggs Corn Flakes

2 pkgs 19c

SALMON GOOD PINK

NO. 1 TALL TINS 14c

CORN MATCHES

Sweet--Good Quality Large Boxes

3 No. 2 Tins 25c

CORN MATCHES

Sweet--Good Quality Large Boxes

6 For 22c

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH CO.
Office in Dispatch Building, Sixth St. So.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily Dispatch by Carrier—One month, 50c; three months $1.25; 1 year, $5.00.
Daily Dispatch by Mail, Outside of City—Three months $1.00; one year, $4.00.
Weekly Dispatch—One year, $1.50.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1927

THE INSTALLMENT PLAN

FROM time to time lately, individuals who apparently could find nothing else to worry about have voiced fears that the growth of installment buying was dangerously mortgaging American income.

In the light of a survey recently completed by an industrial economist and analyst of some repute, such apprehensions do not seem particularly well grounded.

Exclusive of real estate and securities, sales made on the installment plan in this country have reached an annual aggregate of 6,179 million dollars, or nearly a third of the war debt, with an average outstanding obligation of 2,638 millions.

Large figures, these, but they do not bulk so hugely, when it is remembered that the annual income of all Americans is so great in the aggregate that the outstanding short-time installment paper, representing purchases of automobiles and other merchandise, amounts to less than four per cent of it, while the outstanding long-time paper on installment real estate amounts to only seven per cent. These, remember, are not percentages of the national wealth, but merely of a single year's income.

And against this paper that the citizens owe, they actually possess the homes that were bought on time, the automobiles, phonographs, pianos, radios, washing machines, vacuum cleaners and other desirable things that were bought on installments. These are chiefly things that endure far beyond the period of the payments. The real estate bought on time endures forever.

Economic prudence carried to an absurd extreme would counsel the workman to continue paying rent for years and years, while trying to save enough to buy a home out of pocket. The workman beats that all hollow by buying on time and completing the payments with money that otherwise would have gone for rent.

Similar reasoning moves him to buy a vacuum cleaner and a washing machine, that his wife may be saved much work, not only after he has saved up the necessary money, but also during the time he is engaged in saving it.

And so with his automobile and his piano and radio. He rides, plays and listens while he pays.

Not a dangerous policy unless stretched to dangerous lengths. That it has not been, and is not being stretched to dangerous lengths is indicated by the disclosure that installment buying increased only eight per cent in the two years ending with 1925, while savings deposits increased seventeen per cent.

In taking on debts of this kind, it is a good rule for the buyer to subject each contemplated installment transaction to this test: Would he make the purchase for cash outright, if he had the necessary money in his pocket? Does he need, or desire, the article to that degree? If he would consider it a wise and desirable buy, for cash, then it is a wise and desirable buy on time, provided there is ample prospective income to meet the payments without a pinch somewhere else along the line.

The fact that the same millions of citizens who increased their installment buying eight per cent in two years also increased their savings deposits seventeen per cent in the same time, would indicate that these time purchasers are using some such mental process in deciding to purchase and when not to purchase.—Minneapolis Journal.

HEWING TO THE LINE IN ECONOMY MATTERS

AFTER such a landslide of votes as was according Governor Theodore Christianson when he ran on his economy program, it should hardly be necessary to call to the attention of the legislature the fact that economy is no idle word.

The governor has let it be known that the executive brakes will shoot into action should the $40,000,000 figure he has set for the biennium expenses be overrun.

Economy is a serious matter. It is easy to talk about it in a philosophical or academic way, but to carry it out is just as much a problem in a small household as in a large legislature.

Many a family wants a car, and a radio set, and an electric washer and a leather coat for sister, etc., etc., and all of this cannot be obtained on one pay check. In order to save or economize one must cut down on some expenditures and disallow others entirely.

The University of Minnesota has evidently not studied election returns for it comes to the present legislature with a building program more pretentious than usual.

Many legislators are anxious to impose economy on the other fellow, but hoping nevertheless to put through their particular bills calling for appropriations.

We believe the governor is facing one of the biggest battles in his career. And the tilts with the University of Minnesota may prove the biggest battle ground.

The governor has also enunciated the policy always supported by the Brainerd Dispatch, that we have less legislation. In spite of all adjurations of the governor to not choke the legislative hopper, it seems that close to 1,200 bills are to be introduced at the session. Such a number means a lot of committee work. In the end, if all are passed, it gives more work for the printers and the lawyers.

There is such a thing as too much legislation, too many laws, and we think that time has come in every state of the union. No man living can read all of them, and yet ignorance of the law is said to excuse no layman. The judge in the case, however, is given the opportunity to look up the law and render his opinion later, while the layman is supposed to have universal knowledge of the laws.

TURBULENCE IN CHINA

THE new year starts out with well defined growing disorders in China and with the naval forces of the United States and Britain seeking to retain order. The merits of the various controversies raging are not exactly clear to many readers.

China is in a state of flux. Composed of many provinces or sections, having no common language, operating under a variety of detached sections, overrun by various regimes, it is naturally the duty of both the United States and Britain to protect their nationals.

The trouble at Hankow today started when natives overran the British concession. The citadel of every port city is the custom house and the natives were reported seizing this building and the municipal building.

BRAINERD

25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Jan. 3, 1902

There was a meeting last night of the Retail Clerks Protective Association in Trades and Labor hall. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A.

M. Johnson; First Vice President, John M. Bye; Second Vice President, Bertha Veigel; Treasurer, Sadie Reilly; Financial Secretary, Bertha Stude; Corresponding Secretary, E. B. Riley; Guide, Martin Reis; Guardian, D. A. Peterson; Collector, Anna Anderson.

John Wieber has returned from St. Cloud where he spent the holidays with friends and relatives. The report that he was married has been declared a fake by Mr. Wieber.

There will be a meeting this eve-

Copyright by Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"The Black Diamond Express," starring Monte Blue, in Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

John Ballard, left poor by the unkind fate that deprived him of his parents—the one in a railroad accident, the other through grief—works his way through college. His ambition is to be a lawyer. Phil Hardin, son of the President of the road against which John cherishes a vendetta for his father's death, is helped by John in his studies. Through Phil, John meets and loves Viola Ruskin. Celebrating graduation with Phil and two chums, the boys get into a gambling hall fight. A man is killed. John and Phil think John did it, protecting Phil.

CHAPTER III

After a sleepless night John rose in the morning convinced that he had a right to maintain his silence as to the events of the previous night. He had already scanned the morning paper, in dread of seeing the story of the fight at Honest Pete's blazoned all over its first page, but there was no mention of it at all.

He could understand that. No matter what had happened Pete would try to hush it up. It would be ruinous for him to have a scandal about his place. Anything of the sort would force the local authorities, complacent, so far, for reasons best known to them and Honest Pete, to take some action to close his place.

And, for himself, his conscience was clear. He had struck what blows he had dealt in the melee in the darkness in the card room in self-defense—or, if not exactly in self-defense, in defense of his friend, which came to much the same thing. He had little doubt that he had saved Phil from death or very serious injury. And, after all, he didn't know that it was he

James Hardin, as a young man, had been as poor as John Ballard; poorer, perhaps. He had wanted his boy to have all that he had lacked. He wanted him to have a good time in college; a car, good clothes; plenty of spending money; the friendship of the sons of other rich men. And James Hardin couldn't see that this was all incompatible with making Phil ambitious and efficient.

So, like so many rich men, he had been inconsistent and unfair in his dealings with his son. He had given him great leeway, and then, suddenly, and as it necessarily seemed to Phil, unfairly, had made sharp demands on him, backed up by threats of what would happen if Phil did not make good. Phil found his father impossible to understand; he saw him as arbitrary and tyrannical; he came to fear and dislike him before he had been home for six months.

The leopard seldom changes its spots. Once the fear and repentance that had followed the desperate night at Honest Pete O'Brien's had worn off, Phil drifted back into the sort of life he had lived in college. Every day that passed without bringing any consequences from that wild and savage brawl lessened his fears; the whole thing, as he looked back, began to seem unreal. It was harder and harder for him to believe that there had ever been a fight; that a man had been killed.

Very different had been John's reaction. He had been as sick and shaken as Phil, but his conscience had acquitted him of any wrongdoing. For him, too, after a few weeks, the episode had ceased to seem real. But he remembered it; it was a lesson to him in the vital importance of keeping himself free, in the future, from entanglement with friends who might lead him into such a situation again.

John's arrangements had been made for some time. He was going, ultimately, back to Ventnor to practice law. But, first, he was going to spend some time in New York. He went there as soon as he was graduated, and went to work in the office of a famous law firm as a clerk. Here he continued while he was in law school, and for a year afterward, making a little money and saving most of it.

He did well in New York; he might, had he chosen to do so, have stayed there, and, after being admitted to the bar, he could, perhaps, in time, have risen to a junior partnership in the firm for which he had begun to work as a clerk. One of the members of the firm told him as much.

"I understand you are planning to go home and open your own law office, Ballard," Judge Anderson said to him, one day. "Don't do it. The day of the struggling young lawyer in private practice is past. You'll make more money and have more of a career if you stay right here with us. We like you; we see a fine future for you."

John was tempted. But his mind was made up. His career was to follow, if he could make it do so, the lines he and his father had mapped out. Money was far from being John's only goal. He was still eager to have a political career. In New York, it seemed to him, he would have no chance for that; in Ventnor, while the obstacles in his path would still be great, they need not be insurmountable. Something of all this he tried to tell Judge Anderson. The older man sighed.

"Ah, well—I" he said. "You're young—you must tilt at a windmill or two, I suppose! Well—have it your own way. But if you ever change your mind let me know, and if I can make an opening for you here I will."

(To be continued)

ning of the Brainerd Whist club at 8 o'clock sharp in the Columbian block for the purpose of reorganization for the season of 1902.

Miss Belle Low left this afternoon for St. Paul for a few days visit. Surveyor Chute left this afternoon for Melrose on business.

J. H. Noble left this afternoon for Motley where he will deliver an address this evening at the installation exercises of the M. W. A. of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lagerquist returned this afternoon from Duluth and West Superior where they have been visiting for a few days.

Mrs. B. A. Ferris and Mrs. H. J. Spencer left this afternoon for St. Paul for a few days visit.

The Elks minstrels to be given at the Brainerd Opera House on the evening of Tuesday, January 14, will be one of the greatest events of the year. The committee in charge of the affair are meeting with excellent success in the matter. A large number of seats have been sold already and a packed house is expected.

Simple Form Letter

Intended for Brides

This form "Thank-You" letter to be sent in acknowledging the receipt of wedding presents is offered by the Kansas City Times to brides as a practical help to get them over one of the roughest spots in the matrimonial road.

(My) Dear Mrs. Woosis (Uncle Jack, Bozo):

I can't find words (time) to tell you how tickled (pleased, delighted, grateful) Bob (Joe, Xerxes) and I were over the lovely (beautiful, clever, ducky, dear) candlesticks (salad plates, vase, pitcher, spoons) you gave us. They are charming (lovely, beautiful, ducky, dear) and we can't thank you enough (too much) for them (it). We are going to use them (it) on our table at our first dinner (pick-up supper) in our new home (apartment, cottage, houseboat).

We are having (had hoped to have) a wonderful (awful) honeymoon. Our hotel is (was, should have been) delightful. Bob (Joe, Xerxes) is wonderful (a bore). I knew he would be. We shall (will) be glad to be in our home (homes), though, so that we can use your lovely (beautiful, ducky, dear, charming) candlesticks (salad plates, vase, pitcher, spoons).

Bob (Joe Xerxes) and I are getting along beautifully (a divorce). We do so hope that we shall (will) see you soon (very soon, some time) in our new home (countryside).

Thanks just loads (heaps, so much) for your (you know) candlesticks (what have you).

Much love (our sincere love)

T. H. Lantry, formerly General Superintendent at Livingston, Montana, just has assumed his new duties as General Manager of the Northern Pacific Railway, with headquarters at the St. Paul (Minn.) General Offices. He succeeds C. L. Nichols, retired. His territory covers the lines east of Paradise, Montana.

WHY should I burn Lampert's Peerless Coal?

Because it burns without objectionable smoke and soot.

Smoke and soot are pure waste—unburned coal—a nuisance to yourself and your neighbors.

Eliminate this trouble by ordering Lampert's Peerless Coal.

Sold exclusively by

LAMPERT BROS. LUMBER CO.

Phone 84 J. A. KRAUS, Mgr.

OUR WANT ADS. WORK WONDERS

FOR RENT—CALL 74

"Oh! I thought you were Mr. Jones"

It's a bad moment—when you realize you've spoken to someone you don't know. Everybody makes mistakes, of course, but no matter how much poise you have, you feel a bit silly anyhow.

The chances are you didn't know Mr. Jones really well—or you'd never have made the blunder. You've never seen anyone you'd actually mistake for your brother or sister or husband or wife, have you? It's casual acquaintance that leads to errors.

People look alike; so do razor strops and flower seeds and hats and pianos. If you want to buy a Jones hat and you know all there is to know about a Jones hat, you're not likely to blunder and get some other hat. The same is true for a Jones piano or a Jones razor strop.

The easiest way to know everything there is to know about such things is to read advertising. The advertisements in this newspaper are here to tell you quickly and truthfully the main facts about things you buy and use. They are here to prevent you from making mistakes. Mistakes that may be costly.

Read the advertisements faithfully
They will repay the time

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH CO.
Office in Dispatch Building, Sixth St. So.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily Dispatch by Carrier—One month, 50c; three months $1.25; 1 year, $5.00.
Daily Dispatch by Mail, Outside of City—Three months $1.00; one year, $4.00.
Weekly Dispatch—One year, $1.50.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1927

THE INSTALLMENT PLAN

FROM time to time lately, individuals who apparently could find nothing else to worry about have voiced fears that the growth of installment buying was dangerously mortgaging American income.

In the light of a survey recently completed by an industrial economist and analyst of some repute, such apprehensions do not seem particularly well grounded.

Exclusive of real estate and securities, sales made on the installment plan in this country have reached an annual aggregate of 6,179 million dollars, or nearly a third of the war debt, with an average outstanding obligation of 2,638 millions.

Large figures, these, but they do not bulk so hugely, when it is remembered that the annual income of all Americans is so great in the aggregate that the outstanding short-time installment paper, representing purchases of automobiles and other merchandise, amounts to less than four per cent of it, while the outstanding long-time paper on installment real estate amounts to only seven per cent. These, remember, are not percentages of the national wealth, but merely of a single year's income.

And against this paper that the citizens owe, they actually possess the homes that were bought on time, the automobiles, phonographs, pianos, radios, washing machines, vacuum cleaners and other desirable things that were bought on installments. These are chiefly things that endure far beyond the period of the payments. The real estate bought on time endures forever.

Economic prudence carried to an absurd extreme would counsel the workman to continue paying rent for years and years, while trying to save enough to buy a home out of pocket. The workman beats that all hollow by buying on time and completing the payments with money that otherwise would have gone for rent.

Similar reasoning moves him to buy a vacuum cleaner and a washing machine, that his wife may be saved much work, not only after he has saved up the necessary money, but also during the time he is engaged in saving it.

And so with his automobile and his piano and radio. He rides, plays and listens while he pays.

Not a dangerous policy unless stretched to dangerous lengths. That it has not been, and is not being stretched to dangerous lengths is indicated by the disclosure that installment buying increased only eight per cent in the two years ending with 1925, while savings deposits increased seventeen per cent.

In taking on debts of this kind, it is a good rule for the buyer to subject each contemplated installment transaction to this test: Would he make the purchase for cash outright, if he had the necessary money in his pocket? Does he need, or desire, the article to that degree? If he would consider it a wise and desirable buy, for cash, then it is a wise and desirable buy on time, provided there is ample prospective income to meet the payments without a pinch somewhere else along the line.

The fact that the same millions of citizens who increased their installment buying eight per cent in two years also increased their savings deposits seventeen per cent in the same time, would indicate that these time purchasers are using some such mental process in deciding to purchase and when not to purchase.—Minneapolis Journal.

HEWING TO THE LINE IN ECONOMY MATTERS

AFTER such a landslide of votes as was according Governor Theodore Christianson when he ran on his economy program, it should hardly be necessary to call to the attention of the legislature the fact that economy is no idle word.

The governor has let it be known that the executive brakes will shoot into action should the $40,000,000 figure he has set for the biennial expenses be overrun.

Economy is a serious matter. It is easy to talk about it in a philosophical or academic way, but to carry it out is just as much a problem in a small household as in a large legislature.

Many a family wants a car, and a radio set, and an electric washer and a leather coat for sister, etc., etc., and all of this cannot be obtained on one pay check. In order to save or economize one must cut down on some expenditures and disallow others entirely.

The University of Minnesota has evidently not studied election returns for it comes to the present legislature with a building program more pretentious than usual.

Many legislators are anxious to impose economy on the other fellow, but hoping nevertheless to put through their particular bills calling for appropriations.

We believe the governor is facing one of the biggest battles in his career. And the tilts with the University of Minnesota may prove the biggest battle ground.

The governor has also enunciated the policy always supported by the Brainerd Dispatch, that we have less legislation. In spite of all adjurations of the governor to not choke the legislative hopper, it seems that close to 1,200 bills are to be introduced at the session. Such a number means a lot of committee work. In the end, if all are passed, it gives more work for the printers and the lawyers.

There is such a thing as too much legislation, too many laws, and we think that time has come in every state of the union. No man living can read all of them, and yet ignorance of the law is said to excuse no layman. The judge in the case, however, is given the opportunity to look up the law and render his opinion later, while the layman is supposed to have universal knowledge of the laws.

TURBULENCE IN CHINA

THE new year starts out with well defined growing disorders in China and with the naval forces of the United States and Britain seeking to retain order. The merits of the various controversies raging are not exactly clear to many readers.

China is in a state of flux. Composed of many provinces or sections, having no common language, operating under a variety of detached sections, overrun by various regimes, it is naturally the duty of both the United States and Britain to protect their nationals.

The trouble at Hankow today started when natives overran the British concession. The citadel of every port city is the custom house and the natives were reported seizing this building and the municipal building.

BRAINERD

25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Jan. 3, 1902

There was a meeting last night of the Retail Clerks Protective Association in Trades and Labor hall. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A.

M. Johnson; First Vice President, John M. Bye; Second Vice President, Bertha Veigel; Treasurer, Sadie Reilly; Financial Secretary, Bertha Stude; Corresponding Secretary, E. E. Riley; Guide, Martin Reis; Guardian, D. A. Peterson; Collector, Anna Anderson.

John Wieber has returned from St. Cloud where he spent the holidays with friends and relatives. The report that he was married has been declared a fake by Mr. Wieber.

There will be a meeting this eve-

Copyright by Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"The Black Diamond Express," starring Monte Blue, is Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

John Ballard, left poor by the unkind fate that deprived him of his parents—the one in a railroad accident, the other through grief—works his way through college. His ambition is to be a lawyer. Phil Hardin, son of the President of the road against which John cherishes a vendetta for his father's death, is helped by John in his studies. Through Phil, John meets and loves Viola Ruskin. Celebrating graduation with Phil and two chums, the boys get into a gambling hall fight. A man is killed. John and Phil think John did it, protecting Phil.

CHAPTER III

After a sleepless night John rose in the morning convinced that he had a right to maintain his silence as to the events of the previous night. He had already scanned the morning paper, in dread of seeing the story of the fight at Honest Pete's blazoned all over its first page, but there was no mention of it at all.

He could understand that. No matter what had happened Pete would try to hush it up. It would be ruinous for him to have a scandal about his place. Anything of the sort would force the local authorities, complacent, so far, for reasons best known to them and Honest Pete, to take some action to close his place.

And, for himself, his conscience was clear. He had struck what blows he had dealt in the melee in the darkness in the card room in self-defense—or, if not exactly in self-defense, in defense of his friend, which came to much the same thing. He had little doubt that he had saved Phil from death or very serious injury. And, after all, he didn't know that it was he who had dealt the fatal blow. In a fight of that sort there was a chance that it might have been some one else.

"Get out of here before some one comes around."

To come forward now and tell what had happened would be to compromise his own career and get Phil into serious trouble—and what good would it do? No. He was convinced that he must keep quiet; that to tell would be an act of quixotic and useless folly. He owed it to himself, as well as to Phil, to be, in this case, judge and jury as well as counsel for the defense.

Phil, sick and white, more shaken and frightened than he had ever been before in his life, agreed with him absolutely when, late in the morning, he came to see him.

"We don't know what happened," he said. "We heard this man was killed—but we don't know it, do we? And we don't know how, or who hit him."

"Well, I know I hit some one with that chair—the one who had a knife and was standing over you."

"I know one thing—you saved my life, whatever else you did," said Phil. "And it has taught me a lesson—I'm through with that sort of thing."

"Well, that's a good idea, too," said John. "I am myself. You'll never get me into a place like that again. I can tell you. I think we'll be pretty lucky if we get out of this all right. Phil, without any trouble."

"So do I," said Phil. John was sorry for Phil. For the first time he saw his real weakness. Phil had gone utterly to pieces. He was shaking with fear. He thought only of the risk he had run and was still running, and he was white with terror. It disgusted John, and still he was sympathetic. It was impossible not to be sorry for Phil, not to be sorry for anyone so unmanly by his fears.

"You'd better go home, Phil," he said. "Get out of here before some one comes around asking questions. If anyone does ask you, refuse to talk. And, whatever you do, don't pay anybody any money. Some one may try to blackmail you, you know."

(To be continued)

ning of the Brainerd Whist club at 8 o'clock sharp in the Columbian block for the purpose of reorganization for the season of 1902.

Miss Belle Low left this afternoon for St. Paul for a few days visit. Surveyor Chute left this afternoon for Melrose on business.

J. H. Noble left this afternoon for Motley where he will deliver an address this evening at the installation exercises of the M. W. A. of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lagerquist returned this afternoon from Duluth and West Superior where they have been visiting for a few days.

Mrs. B. A. Ferris and Mrs. H. J. Spencer left this afternoon for St. Paul for a few days visit.

The Elks minstrels to be given at the Brainerd Opera House on the evening of Tuesday, January 14, will be one of the greatest events of the year. The committee in charge of the affair are meeting with excellent success in the matter. A large number of seats have been sold already and a packed house is expected.

Simple Form Letter Intended for Brides

This form "Thank-You" letter to be sent in acknowledging the receipt of wedding presents is offered by the Kansas City Times to brides as a practical help to get them over one of the roughest spots in the matrimonial road.

(My) Dear Mrs. Woosis (Uncle Jack, Bozo):

I can't find words (time) to tell you how tickled (pleased, delighted, grateful) Bob (Joe, Xerxes) and I were over the lovely (beautiful, clever, ducky, dear) candlesticks (salad plates, vase, pitcher, spoons) you gave us. They are charming (lovely, beautiful, ducky, dear) and we can't thank you enough (too much) for them (it). We are going to use them (it) on our table at our first dinner (pick-up supper) in our new home (apartment, cottage, houseboat).

We are having (had hoped to have) a wonderful (awful) honeymoon. Our hotel is (was, should have been) delightful. Bob (Joe, Xerxes) is wonderful (a bore). I knew he would be. We shall (will) be glad to be in our home (homes), though, so that we can use your lovely (beautiful, ducky, dear, charming) candlesticks (salad plates, vase, pitcher, spoons).

Bob (Joe Xerxes) and I are getting along beautifully (a divorce). We do so hope that we shall (will) see you soon (very soon, some time) in our new home (cottage).

Thanks just loads (heaps, so much) for your (you know) candlesticks (what have you).

Much love (your sincerely)

T. H. Lantry, formerly General Superintendent at Livingston, Montana, just has assumed his new duties as General Manager of the Northern Pacific Railway, with headquarters at the St. Paul (Minn.) General Offices. He succeeds C. L. Nichols, retired. His territory covers the lines east of Paradise, Montana.

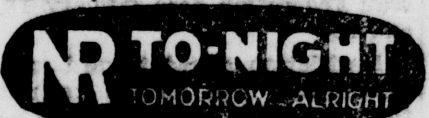

Urge Beef Be Cooked Well

Most members of the medical profession say that beef should be cooked until well done, the same as lamb, veal or pork. This is because meat of any kind is apt to contain tape-worms and other organisms. Proper cooking will kill these at the egg stage.

Yes YOU Can Feel Good. Take an NR tablet tonight—drink a full glass of water—Wonderful how quickly it brings back the animated, invigorated feeling with freedom from Constipation, Dizziness, Bloating, Sick Headaches.

Nature's Remedy has a natural action. There is no perturbing or stirring up of the intestinal content before elimination, thereby preventing the absorption of the toxins or poisons in the intestinal tract by the circulation. The absorption of these toxins is the usual cause of the weakening and sickening sensations that follow the use of many laxatives.

Make the Test Tonight—see how much brighter, stronger and better you feel tomorrow.

SOLD BY YOUR DRUGGIST

Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co.

WHY should I burn Lampert's Peerless Coal?

Because it burns without objectionable smoke and soot.

Smoke and soot are pure waste—unburned coal—a nuisance to yourself and your neighbors.

Eliminate this trouble by ordering Lampert's Peerless Coal.

Sold exclusively by

LAMPERT BROS. LUMBER CO.

Phone 84 J. A. KRAUS, Mgr.

OUR WANT ADS. WORK WONDERS

FOR RENT—CALL 74

"Oh! I thought you were Mr. Jones"

It's a bad moment—when you realize you've spoken to someone you don't know. Everybody makes mistakes, of course, but no matter how much poise you have, you feel a bit silly anyhow.

The chances are you didn't know Mr. Jones really well—or you'd never have made the blunder. You've never seen anyone you'd actually mistake for your brother or sister or husband or wife, have you? It's casual acquaintance that leads to errors.

People look alike; so do razor strops and flower seeds and hats and pianos. If you want to buy a Jones hat and you know all there is to know about a Jones hat, you're not likely to blunder and get some other hat. The same is true for a Jones piano or a Jones razor strop.

The easiest way to know everything there is to know about such things is to read advertising. The advertisements in this newspaper are here to tell you quickly and truthfully the main facts about things you buy and use. They are here to prevent you from making mistakes. Mistakes that may be costly.

Read the advertisements faithfully
They will repay the time

Jury Upheld Whitman in Emphatic Manner

In all his life Whitman was in court but once, and that was rather a joke. While fishing in a pond near Babylon one day, not far from his father's farm, he was continually annoyed by a mischievous boy determined to have his fun, if not at the expense of the fish then at Whitman's. Finally exasperated, the latter coaxed the lad to row near in his boat, and then administered a sound thrashing with his rod. The culprit's father had Walt arrested, entrusting the prosecution of the case in the justice court to Gen. Nicholas Uhall. Sure of himself, Whitman undertook his own defense. He admitted the thrashing, but excused it on the ground that he was defending the vested rights of fishermen. The jury, whose foreman was a hard-headed farmer with a Yorkshire brogue, returned almost immediately.

"Have you arrived at a verdict?" asked the justice.

"We have, your honor."

"What is the verdict?"

"We find 'e didn't 'it 'im' alf 'ard enough."

Despite the repeated protest on the part of the justice that the form of the verdict was irregular, the verdict stood.—From "Whitman, an Interpretation in Narrative," by Emory Holloway.

Dogs of St. Bernard

Find Snow Handicap

The dogs to be found today in the great and little St. Bernard passes in Switzerland are of a smaller and less striking type than formerly. They are a cross between the Newfoundland and the sheep dog of the Pyrenees. They have been credited, moreover, with rather more than they can perform, says Charles Lincoln Freeston in the Motor Travel Magazine.

A Swiss professor of Geneva, given to making adventurous cross-country journeys on skis, relates that on one occasion, when he was within sight of the great St. Bernard hospice, the dogs came rushing out, but were unable to reach him through the soft snow, in which they floundered hopelessly. He is of the opinion that the uses of the famous dogs are more limited than is popularly supposed. One can conceive them as being highly serviceable in tracking a weary wayfarer overcome by a sudden blizzard on the road itself, but even St. Bernard dogs cannot walk over snow that is both deep and soft.

Japanese Mushrooms

Many varieties of mushrooms, little known in this country or in Europe, are to be found in Japan. The most esteemed of these is the shi-take, which is chiefly grown on the evergreen oak.

Trees about six inches in diameter are felled and cut into lengths of six feet. The logs are scarred on the back, and are laid on the ground for about three years. Then they are stacked in rows in shady places and soon become covered with the mushrooms. After yielding one crop the logs are soaked in water, beaten with a wooden mallet, and again set up. In a few days new mushrooms begin to sprout on them. The shi-take is a great favorite in Japan, being used in many dishes, but most frequently in soups.

Czar's Coat in Museum

Occupying conspicuous positions in the Museum of Terror maintained in Moscow by the Russian state police (formerly known as the Tcheka and now as the Gay-pay-oo) are the coat worn by Nicholas II the day the last of the czars was executed in Ekaterinburg, in July, 1918; the lingerie of the Czarina Alexandra, and the uniform worn by Admiral Kolchak when he was shot by the Red army. According to an article recently printed in the Neues Wiener Journal, another exhibit is a jar of alcohol containing the heart of a former president of the Leningrad Tcheka who was shot by a student. The museum has a large collection of knouts and other implements of punishment and torture used in czarist days.

Bad Enough at That

Huckleberry Pendleton is a well-known character in Wiscasset, Maine. Not long since, shortly after dark, an acquaintance found him prone by the roadside, moaning. "What's the matter, Huck?" he inquired.

"I'm ruptured," replied the unfortunate one. "Heard it snap. Get me somewhere so's I kin be taken care of."

He was assisted home and a doctor called. The next day the samaritan met the physician.

"How's Huck's rupture?" he queried.

"Rupture, nothing," was the response. "Huck only busted off a suspender button."—Outlook.

French Driven to Revolt

The French revolution was mainly the result of the oppression of the French people, who rose in revolt against the extravagance and tyranny of the kings and nobles. In addition they had no adequate representation in the legislature. The taxes were heavy and in 1777 there were as many as 1,250,000 beggars in France. Alarmed by the increasing signs of unrest in the country, the king and some of the nobles began to gather the army near Paris. This so enraged the people of Paris that they stormed the Bastille on July 14, 1789. This is regarded as the beginning of the revolution.

Just Why One Mother Moved From Big City

It gives one to think, as the French say. The happening was this: The youngest and prettiest of a group of cliff dwellers in a certain apartment house was giving a farewell card party to her most intimate friends just before moving into a small and unpretentious suburban home. There was an insistent chorus of "Why do you do it?"

"For Patricia's sake," replied the youngest and prettiest. "But Patricia's only a baby. What will country life mean to her?" came the response from the others, who had agreed that to move to an unfashionable suburb was to commit social suicide in a very unpicturesque way.

"Patricia is four," explained her mother, "and I thought it didn't matter where she lived, so long as I followed all the newest rules for making better babies, until one day by chance I took her with me on an errand that required going a little way into the suburbs."

"We passed some snug little houses with snug little lawns, utterly uninteresting except for groups of youngsters tumbling about on the grass, playing tag, hide and seek—all the things real live children do. I heard a long sigh from Patsey and a pathetic little voice with a tone of premature patience said: 'Mother, I wish we could live in a house that grows on the ground.'—New York Sun.

Jackdaws Made Homes in Old Church Clock

In the town of St. John's church, Spalding, England, the jackdaws have been keeping up their old reputation as disturbers of the church's peace.

The jackdaw of Reims hopped off with the archbishop's ring; the jackdaws of Spalding have stopped the church clock.

When the great bell of St. John's should have been booming out the hour across the Lincolnshire fens there was silence, and silence at the quarters and the half hour. The clock had gone on a strike.

When the anxious churchwardens searched the belfry for the cause, they found that the jackdaws which fluttered in and out of the church-tower's windows had extended their nesting operations to the clock. They had not purloined any of the works, but had imported enough twigs to fill three wheelbarrow loads. The most resolute clock could not hold out against this stuffing, which had so impeded the hammer that it could not fall and mark the flight of time.

Bird Population

Bird authorities of this country have been endeavoring to arrive at the bird population of the country and have gathered statistics indicating that there are about forty times as many birds on the globe as there are human beings. That would mean about 75,000,000,000 or something like 224 birds for every 100 acres of land. Narrowing down to the United States, the bureau of biological survey computes that in our northeastern and central states there are some 82,000,000 robins. Next comes the English sparrow, of course, with over 69,000,000. The song sparrows come third with 50,000,000 or so. Then the catbird, and fifth the bluebird. The United States has over 5,000,000,000 birds.

Proof Wanted

The disheveled stranger bounded into the police station and walked up to a desk behind which a man in uniform was writing in a ledger.

"Are you in charge?" he asked.

"I am," responded the other, without looking up.

The stranger gasped, then he threw out his chest and, in dramatic tones, exclaimed:

"Sergeant, I'm lost!"

"You are, are you?" said the other, still writing in his ledger. "Well, if you can prove that anyone has missed you, we'll take up the case."

"Forbidden Island"

The island of Fernando, Noronha, in the South Atlantic ocean, off the coast of Brazil, in latitude 3 degrees 50 minutes south and longitude 32 degrees 25 minutes west is known as the Forbidden island. No women are allowed on this island and no one is permitted to own a boat. All intercourse with shipping is strictly regulated. The island belongs to Brazil, and is a place of exile and imprisonment for male convicts.

Old Economic Theory

The labor theory of value, as expounded chiefly by Adam Smith, David Ricardo and Karl Marx, is the economic theory that the value of a commodity depends, in the long run, on the amount of labor expended in its production. "It is natural," says Adam Smith, "that what is usually the produce of two days' labor or two hours' labor should be worth double what is usually the produce of one day's or one hour's labor."

The Bright Side

The seventh girl baby had recently arrived in the family, much to the disappointment of the parents, who were anxious for a son.

One day the parents were lamenting the fact that the new baby was not a boy. The little six-year-old daughter, who was present and heard the conversation, said: "Now, mamma, I would not worry as the baby may turn out to be a boy yet."

Visit to Birthplace Upset "Divine Sarah"

It is generally believed, and the Encyclopedia Britannica records, that Sarah Bernhardt, the noted actress, was born in Paris and that her parents were a mixture of French and Dutch and of Jewish descent, but the most recent version of her origin says she was born in Amsterdam, Holland, of Jew parents. The authority for this version is Lyon van Lier of Amsterdam, who revealed the purported true story of the actress' birth at a dinner in Amsterdam not long after Sarah Bernhardt's death. He claimed that her father was his brother, Van Lier related that once when the Divine Sarah visited Amsterdam, she sought him and asked to be shown the place where she was born. It was a squalid, underground room, and when they arrived, a blind, decrepit beggar lay on a bed of rags in one corner. The actress collapsed on a rickety chair and burst into tears. Suddenly she leaped up, flung a 1,000-franc note on the table in the center of the room and fled up the steps and out into the street.—New York Evening Post.

Desirable Margin

The passengers in the big car speeding toward the railroad crossing began arguing whether or not they could beat the train.

"Don't get excited," said the driver. "I can easily make it."

"And I say you can't," shouted the front-seat passenger. "The train will beat us by 20 seconds."

"Gwan!" said the driver, who kept increasing his speed while the argument continued.

Finally a passenger in the rear seat

who had said nothing so far, remarked as he clutched the sides of the rushing car: "For my part, I don't care a hang who wins this race, but I hope it won't be a tie."—Boston Transcript.

Best Way to Apply Wax

The best method of applying the wax to floors is to take cheesecloth and double it to get added thickness, then fold into a sort of bag. Put a handful of wax inside and go over the floor thoroughly. It will be found that the wax works through the meshes of cheesecloth and gives an even coating over the floor. This prevents waste and excessive wax in spots.

After the floor has been gone over with the wax and allowed to dry about 20 minutes it is ready for polishing. Rub to a polish with a weighted floor brush, first across the grain of the wood, then with it.

St. Pat and the Snakes

The chief accomplishment legend attributed to Saint Patrick was driving all the snakes out of Ireland, but history does not record the event. Writing in Adventure Magazine, Post Sargent says he thinks the story must have arisen from the fact that Patrick took refuge, after his escape from captivity, in the island cloister of Lérins in the beginning. Lérins had been infested by snakes, so that no man could live there. Honoratus, a monk, took possession of it, drove out the snakes and reclaimed it for cultivation. Hence the confusion. Probably the snakes were all gone by the time Patrick reached there.

WANT AD CALL IS 74

RADIO PROGRAMS

| Today WCCO (416) | 9:35 a. m.—News bulletin. | |
|--|--|--------------------|
| 5:15 p. m.—Children's hour. | 9:45 a. m.—Weather and market reports. | |
| 5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary. | 10:30 a. m.—Market reports. | |
| 6:45 p. m.—Radio pioneers' hour. | 11:30 a. m.—Market reports. | |
| 7:30 p. m.—Farm talk—Smoked Products company. | 12:00 m.—Farm hour—Dick Long's trio and farm flashes. | |
| 7:35 p. m.—Musical program—Bell-sen Brothers. | 12:45 p. m.—Genuine old style bell ringers. | |
| 8:00 p. m.—New York program—Orchestra, Ipana Troubadours. | 1:30 p. m.—Weather and market reports. | |
| 8:30 p. m.—String ensemble—The Levin Craftsmen. | 2:00 p. m.—Among the musicians. | |
| 9:00 p. m.—New York program—Entertainment—Trade and Mark Smith. | 3:00 p. m.—Market reports. | |
| 9:30 p. m.—Musical program—The Woodwind trio—Ernest Liegl, flute; Roy Schmidt, clarinet; Robert Swanson, bassoon. Meta Ashwin Birnbach, soprano; Louise Lupien Jenkins, accompanist. | 4:00 p. m.—Readers' club. | |
| 10:00 p. m.—Weather report and closing grain markets. | 5:15 p. m.—Wheaties' quartet. | |
| 10:30 p. m.—Dance program—Marigold ball room orchestra; Little Jack Little. | 5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary. | |
| 11:30 p. m.—Organ recital—Eddie Dunstede. | 6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert—George Osborn's Curtis hotel orchestra; Laurence Reddy, baritone; Corinne Jordan, accompanist. | |
| Best Features | 7:15 p. m.—Where Is the Golden Age?—Rev. Frederick M. Elliot of Unity church, St. Paul. | |
| Copyright 1927 by United Press | 8:00 p. m.—New York program—Club Eskimos. | |
| W. W. Winnipeg (384), 10:30 p. m.—CNRW Little Symphony. | 9:00-10:00—Musical program—Goodrich Zippers. | |
| WEAF, New York (492); WCAE, Pittsburgh (481); WRC, Washington (469), 9:30 p. m.—Light opera "The Red Hussar." | 10:00 p. m.—Weather report and closing grain markets. | |
| WDAF, Kansas City (366), 8 p. m.—Kansas City Little Symphony orchestra. | 10:05 p. m.—Traffic safety talk—"Traffic Accident Statistics"—Arthur Jacobson, Minneapolis police department. | |
| WRVA, Richmond (256), 8:10 p. m.—Dramatic presentation, with music, "Snowbound." | <th>Five Best Features</th> | Five Best Features |
| WLS, Chicago (345), 8 p. m.—Program of music composed by American women. | Copyright 1926 by United Press. | |
| | WPG, Atlantic City (300), 7:15 p. m.—Apollo mixed quartet. | |
| | KGO, Oakland (361), 10 p. m.—Gibbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe." | |
| | KDKA, Pittsburgh (309), 5:15 p. m.—Little Symphony orchestra. | |
| | CNRO, Ottawa (435), and CNRM, Montreal (411), 7:30 p. m.—CNRO annual sleigh drive. | |
| | WMAQ, Chicago (344) 8:15 p. m.—WMAQ players. | |

Thursday WCCO (416)

3:20 a. m.—Program for the day.

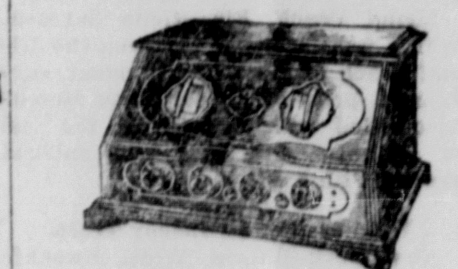

HOUSE CURRENT IS 'B' POWER

No more B Batteries to worry about. Let us demonstrate this Unit.

Electric Garage
Phone 11 716 Front St.

RADIOLA No. 20

A new five tube, balanced receiver of the uni-control type. Equipped with variable regeneration that will outdo any five tube radio set on the market. Either wet or dry battery operated.

Installed Complete
$175

$25 Down, $15 per Month
(Dry battery equipped)

For Homes That Want the Best

TAYLOR SALES
SERVICE

708 Laurel Street
Phone 544-W for Day or Night
Radio Service

Poisoned Dart From Blowgun Not Deadly

The blowgun, in which a poisoned dart is driven by the breath of the operator to its victim, is used by various savage tribes in South America, but the Jamamadys, a tribe of Indians in Brazil, use it with a paralyzing poison to numb their game temporarily so that they can capture it with ease and keep it and fatten it until wanted. So says J. B. Steere of the National museum.

A young Indian hunter showed Mr. Steere how this blowgun, a weapon 11 feet long, is used. A monkey in the top of a tall tree was used as a target. The Indian selected a tiny arrow from the quiver that hung by his side and dipped the tip in poison he carried in a small native flask. Then he aimed his long wooden gun, sighting by means of a lump of beeswax stuck at the tip and with a powerful blast from his lungs expelled the arrow. The monkey stopped his chattering almost instantaneously and tumbled down through the thick branches which broke his fall.

The little animal seemed quite dead. The Indian held the body in one hand and took a pinch of something white from a pouch he carried and rubbed it into the wound. Then he put the monkey into a bag and started for home. He had gone but a little way when the creature revived and became as lively as ever inside the bag. This method is used to trap many other small animals, Mr. Steere explained. They are not killed but are paralyzed and are taken home, where they are fattened and kept until they are used for food.

FOR SALE—CALL 74

When You Feel a Cold Coming On

Grip, Influenza and many Pneumonias begin as a common cold. Price 30c.

The box bears this signature
E. W. Grover
Since 1889

Life's True Significance

Life has no significance to me save as the theater in which our powers are developed and disciplined for use, and made fruitful in securing our own independence, and the good of those around us, or as the scene in which we are fitted for the work and worship of the world beyond.—J. G. Holland.

Distinction Dropped

The terms "author" and "poet" are used for both men and women. One frequently hears the word "toastmistress" employed to an authoritative speaker. There is, however, a tendency to eliminate this form of word from the English vocabulary. It is correct to call a woman an "actor," a "proprietor" or an "editor."

The Road

EVERY one was glad when the new section of the road was built. All realized that personal visits could be made more easily, that trade would be brisker, that matters of general public interest would be carried on with more efficiency and dispatch.

The telephone road, that already enables every one to travel so easily, so cheaply and so far, is constantly being lengthened. Each year over 800,000 telephones are added to the Bell System. Every subscriber shares in the increased value given to telephone service by this extension which hourly is enlarging the scope of every one's activities by permitting an ever broadening interchange of ideas.

NORTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
BELL SYSTEM
One Policy - One System - Universal Service

TO GET RESULTS, STATE CLEARLY WHAT YOU WANT, TO SELL OR TO BUY. Give correct address—phone number, if any—so that interested parties may communicate with you without a lot of trouble. Ads are 1c a word each issue.

Write Your Ad Here—Bring It to Our "Want Ad" Desk

DATE _____ Number of times _____ Number of Words _____

NAME _____ ADDRESS _____

BRAINERD DISPATCH

Jury Upheld Whitman in Emphatic Manner

In all his life Whitman was in court but once, and that was rather a joke. While fishing in a pond near Babylon one day, not far from his father's farm, he was continually annoyed by a mischievous boy determined to have his fun, if not at the expense of the fish then at Whitman's. Finally exasperated, the latter coaxed the lad to row near in his boat, and then administered a sound thrashing with his rod. The culprit's father had Walt arrested, entrusting the prosecution of the case in the justice court to Gen. Nicholas Uhall. Sure of himself, Whitman undertook his own defense. He admitted the thrashing, but excused it on the ground that he was defending the vested rights of fishermen. The jury, whose foreman was a hard-headed farmer with a Yorkshire brogue, returned almost immediately.

"Have you arrived at a verdict?" asked the justice.

"We have, your honor."

"What is the verdict?"

"We find 'e didn't 'it 'im' alf 'ard enough."

Despite the repeated protest on the part of the justice that the form of the verdict was irregular, the verdict stood.—From "Whitman, an Interpretation in Narrative," by Emory Holloway.

Dogs of St. Bernard Find Snow Handicap

The dogs to be found today in the great and little St. Bernard passes in Switzerland are of a smaller and less striking type than formerly. They are a cross between the Newfoundland and the sheep dog of the Pyrenees. They have been credited, moreover, with rather more than they can perform, says Charles Lincoln Freeston in the Motor Travel Magazine.

A Swiss professor of Geneva, given to making adventurous cross-country journeys on skis, relates that on one occasion, when he was within sight of the great St. Bernard hospice, the dogs came rushing out, but were unable to reach him through the soft snow, in which they floundered hopelessly. He is of the opinion that the uses of the famous dogs are more limited than is popularly supposed. One can conceive them as being highly serviceable in tracking a weary wayfarer overcome by a sudden blizzard on the road itself, but even St. Bernard dogs cannot walk over snow that is both deep and soft.

Japanese Mushrooms

Many varieties of mushrooms, little known in this country or in Europe, are to be found in Japan. The most esteemed of these is the shi-take, which is chiefly grown on the evergreen oak.

Trees about six inches in diameter are felled and cut into lengths of six feet. The logs are scarred on the back, and are laid on the ground for about three years. Then they are stacked in rows in shady places and soon become covered with the mushrooms. After yielding one crop the logs are soaked in water, beaten with a wooden mallet, and again set up. In a few days new mushrooms begin to sprout on them. The shi-take is a great favorite in Japan, being used in many dishes, but most frequently in soups.

Czar's Coat in Museum

Occupying conspicuous positions in the Museum of Terror maintained in Moscow by the Russian state police (formerly known as the Tsekha and now as the Gay-pay-oo) are the coat worn by Nicholas II the day the last of the czars was executed in Ekaterinburg, in July, 1918; the lingerie of the Czarina Alexandra, and the uniform worn by Admiral Koltchak when he was shot by the Red army. According to an article recently printed in the Neues Wiener Journal, another exhibit is a jar of alcohol containing the heart of a former president of the Leningrad Tsekha who was shot by a student. The museum has a large collection of knouts and other implements of punishment and torture used in czarist days.

Bad Enough at That

Huckleberry Pendleton is a well-known character in Wisconsin, Maine. Not long since, shortly after dark, an acquaintance found him prone by the roadside, moaning. "What's the matter, Huck?" he inquired.

"I'm ruptured," replied the unfortunate one. "Heard it snap. Get me somewhere so's I kin be taken care of."

He was assisted home and a doctor called. The next day the samaritan met the physician.

"How's Huck's rupture?" he queried.

"Rupture, nothing" was the response. "Huck only busted off a suspender button."—Outlook.

French Driven to Revolt

The French revolution was mainly the result of the oppression of the French people, who rose in revolt against the extravagance and tyranny of the kings and nobles. In addition they had no adequate representation in the legislature. The taxes were heavy and in 1777 there were as many as 1,250,000 beggars in France. Alarmed by the increasing signs of unrest in the country, the king and some of the nobles began to gather the army near Paris. This so enraged the people of Paris that they stormed the Bastille on July 14, 1789. This is regarded as the beginning of the revolution.

Just Why One Mother Moved From Big City

It gives one to think, as the French say. The happening was this: The youngest and prettiest of a group of cliff dwellers in a certain apartment house was giving a farewell card party to her most intimate friends just before moving into a small and unpretentious suburban home. There was an insistent chorus of "Why do you do it?"

"For Patricia's sake," replied the youngest and prettiest. "But Patricia's only a baby. What will country life mean to her?" came the response from the others, who had agreed that to move to an unfashionable suburb was to commit social suicide in a very unpicturesque way.

"Patricia is four," explained her mother, "and I thought it didn't matter where she lived, so long as I followed all the newest rules for making better babies, until one day by chance I took her with me on an errand that required going a little way into the suburbs."

"We passed some snug little houses with snug little lawns, utterly uninteresting except for groups of youngsters tumbling about on the grass, playing tag, hide and seek—all the things real live children do. I heard a long sigh from Patsey and a pathetic little voice with a tone of premature patience said: 'Mother, I wish we could live in a house that grows on the ground.'"—New York Sun.

Jackdaws Made Homes in Old Church Clock

In the town of St. John's church, Spalding, England, the jackdaws have been keeping up their old reputation as disturbers of the church's peace.

The jackdaw of Reims hopped off with the archbishop's ring; the jackdaws of Spalding have stopped the church clock.

When the great bell of St. John's should have been booming out the hour across the Lincolnshire fens there was silence, and silence at the quarters and the half hour. The clock had gone on a strike.

When the anxious churchwardens searched the belfry for the cause, they found that the jackdaws which fluttered in and out of the church tower's windows had extended their nesting operations to the clock. They had not purloined any of the works, but had imported enough twigs to fill three wheelbarrow loads. The most resolute clock could not hold out against this stuffing, which had so impeded the hammer that it could not fall and mark the flight of time.

Bird Population

Bird authorities of this country have been endeavoring to arrive at the bird population of the country and have gathered statistics indicating that there are about forty times as many birds on the globe as there are human beings. That would mean about 75,000,000,000 or something like 224 birds for every 100 acres of land. Narrowing down to the United States, the bureau of biological survey computes that in our northeastern and central states there are some 82,660,089 robins. Next comes the English sparrow, of course, with over 6,000,000. The song sparrows come third with 50,000,000 or so. Then the catbird, and fifth the bluebird. The United States has over 5,000,000,000 birds.

Proof Wanted

The disheveled stranger bounded into the police station and walked up to a desk behind which a man in uniform was writing in a ledger.

"Are you in charge?" he asked.

"I am," responded the other, without looking up.

The stranger gasped, then he threw out his chest and, in dramatic tones, exclaimed:

"Sergeant, I'm lost!"

"You are, are you?" said the other, still writing in his ledger. "Well, if you can prove that anyone has missed you, we'll take up the case."

"Forbidden Island"

The island of Fernando, Noronha, in the South Atlantic ocean, off the coast of Brazil, in latitude 3 degrees 50 minutes south and longitude 32 degrees 25 minutes west is known as the Forbidden Island. No women are allowed on this island and no one is permitted to own a boat. All intercourse with shipping is strictly regulated. The island belongs to Brazil, and is a place of exile and imprisonment for male convicts.

Old Economic Theory

The labor theory of value, as expounded chiefly by Adam Smith, David Ricardo and Karl Marx, is the economic theory that the value of a commodity depends, in the long run, on the amount of labor expended in its production. "It is natural," says Adam Smith, "that what is usually the produce of two days' labor or two hours' labor should be worth double what is usually the produce of one day's or one hour's labor."

The Bright Side

The seventh girl baby had recently arrived in the family, much to the disappointment of the parents, who were anxious for a son.

One day the parents were lamenting the fact that the new baby was not a boy. The little six-year-old daughter, who was present and heard the conversation, said: "Now, mamma, would not worry as the baby may turn out to be a boy yet?"

Visit to Birthplace Upset "Divine Sarah"

It is generally believed, and the Encyclopedia Britannica records, that Sarah Bernhardt, the noted actress, was born in Paris and that her parents were a mixture of French and Dutch and of Jewish descent, but the most recent version of her origin says she was born in Amsterdam, Holland, of Jew parents. The authority for this version is Lyon van Lier of Amsterdam, who revealed the purported true story of the actress' birth at a dinner in Amsterdam not long after Sarah Bernhardt's death. He claimed that her father was his brother, Van Lier related that once when the Divine Sarah visited Amsterdam, she sought him and asked to be shown the place where she was born. It was a squalid, underground room, and when they arrived, a blind, decrepit beggar lay on a bed of rags in one corner. The actress collapsed on a rickety chair and burst into tears. Suddenly she leaped up, flung a 1,000-franc note on the table in the center of the room and fled up the steps and out into the street.—New York Evening Post.

Desirable Margin

The passengers in the big car speeding toward the railroad crossing began arguing whether or not they could beat the train.

"Don't get excited," said the driver, "I can easily make it."

"And I say you can't," shouted the front-seat passenger. "The train will beat us by 20 seconds."

"Gwan!" said the driver, who kept increasing his speed while the argument continued.

Finally a passenger in the rear seat

who had said nothing so far, remarked as he clutched the sides of the rushing car: "For my part, I don't care a hang who wins this race, but I hope it won't be a tie."—Boston Transcript.

Best Way to Apply Wax

The best method of applying the wax to floors is to take cheesecloth and double it to get added thickness, then fold into a sort of bag. Put a handful of wax inside and go over the floor thoroughly. It will be found that the wax works through the meshes of cheesecloth and gives an even coating over the floor. This prevents waste and excessive wax in spots.

After the floor has been gone over with the wax and allowed to dry about 20 minutes it is ready for polishing. Rub with a polish with a weighted floor brush, first across the grain of the wood, then with it.

St. Fat and the Snakes

The chief accomplishment legend attributed to Saint Patrick was driving all the snakes out of Ireland, but his story does not record the event. Writing in Adventure Magazine, Post Sargent says he thinks the story must have arisen from the fact that Patrick took refuge, after his escape from captivity, in the island cloister of Lerinus. In the beginning, Lerinus had been infested by snakes, so that no man could live there. Honoratus, a monk, took possession of it, drove out the snakes and reclaimed it for cultivation. Hence the confusion. Probably the snakes were all gone by the time Patrick reached there.

WANT AD CALL IS 74

Poisoned Dart From Blowgun Not Deadly

The blowgun, in which a poisoned dart is driven by the breath of the operator to its victim, is used by various savage tribes in South America, but the Jamanadys, a tribe of Indians in Brazil, use it with a paralyzing poison to numb their game temporarily so that they can capture it with ease and keep it and fatten it until wanted. So says J. B. Steere of the National museum.

A young Indian hunter showed Mr. Steere how this blowgun, a weapon 11 feet long, is used. A monkey in the top of a tall tree was used as a target. The Indian selected a tiny arrow from the quiver that hung by his side and dipped the tip in poison he carried in a small native flask. Then he aimed his long wooden gun, sighting by means of a lump of beeswax stuck at the tip and with a powerful blast from his lungs expelled the arrow. The monkey stopped his chattering almost instantaneously and tumbled down through the thick branches which broke his fall.

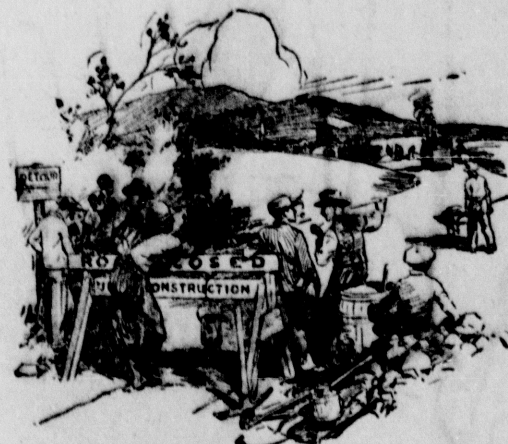

The little animal seemed quite dead. The Indian held the body in one hand and took a pinch of something white from a pouch he carried and rubbed it into the wound. Then he put the monkey into a bag and started for home. He had gone but a little way when the creature revived and became as lively as ever inside the bag. This method is used to trap many other small animals, Mr. Steere explained. They are not killed but are paralyzed and are taken home, where they are fattened and kept until they are used for food.

Life's True Significance

Life has no significance to me save as the theater in which our powers are developed and disciplined for use, and made fruitful in securing our own independence, and the good of those around us, or as the scene in which we are fitted for the work and worship of the world beyond.—J. G. Holland.

Distinction Dropped

The terms "author" and "poet" are used for both men and women. One frequently hears the word "toastmistress" employed to an authoritative speaker. There is, however, a tendency to eliminate this form of word from the English vocabulary. It is correct to call a woman an "actor," a "proprietor" or an "editor."

The Road

EVERY one was glad when the new section of the road was built. All realized that personal visits could be made more easily, that trade would be brisker, that matters of general public interest would be carried on with more efficiency and dispatch.

The telephone road, that already enables every one to travel so easily, so cheaply and so far, is constantly being lengthened. Each year over 800,000 telephones are added to the Bell System. Every subscriber shares in the increased value given to telephone service by this extension which hourly is enlarging the scope of every one's activities by permitting an ever broadening interchange of ideas.

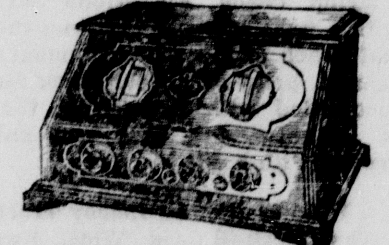

NORTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
BELL SYSTEM
One Policy - One System - Universal Service

RADIO PROGRAMS

- Today
WCCO (416)
- 5:15 p. m.—Children's hour.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
6:45 p. m.—Radio pioneers' hour.
7:30 p. m.—Farm talk—Smoked Products company.
7:35 p. m.—Musical program—Bellson Brothers.
8:00 p. m.—New York program—Orchestra, Ipana Troubadours.
8:30 p. m.—String ensemble—The Levin Craftsmen.
9:00 p. m.—New York program—Entertainment—Trade and Mark Smith.
9:30 p. m.—Musical program—The Woodwind trio—Ernest Liegl, flute; Roy Schmidt, clarinet; Robert Swanson, bassoon; Meta Ashwin Birnbach, soprano; Louise Lupien Jenkins, accompanist.
10:00 p. m.—Weather report and closing grain markets.
10:30 p. m.—Dance program—Mari-gold ball room orchestra; Little Jack Little.
11:30 p. m.—Organ recital—Eddie Dunst.
- Best Features
Copyright 1927 by United Press
W. W. Winnipeg (384), 10:30 p. m.—CNRW Little Symphony.
WEAF, New York (492); WCAE, Pittsburgh (461); WRC, Washington (469), 9:30 p. m.—Light opera "The Red Hussar."
WDAF, Kansas City (366), 8 p. m.—Kansas City Little Symphony orchestra.
WRVA, Richmond (256), 8:10 p. m.—Dramatic presentation, with music, "Snowbound."
WLS, Chicago (345), 8 p. m.—Program of music composed by American women.
- Thursday
WCCO (416)
3:30 a. m.—Program for the day.

RADIOLA No. 20

A new five tube, balanced receiver of the uni-control type. Equipped with variable regeneration that will outdo any five tube radio set on the market. Either wet or dry battery operated.

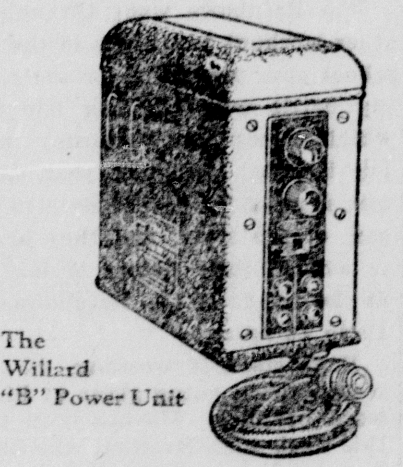

Installed Complete
$175

$25 Down, $15 per Month
(Dry battery equipped)

For Homes That Want the Best

TAYLOR SALES
SERVICE

708 Laurel Street
Phone 544-W for Day or Night
Radio Service

HOUSE
CURRENT IS 'B' POWER

No more B Batteries to worry about. Let us demonstrate this Unit.

Electric Garage
Phone 11 716 Front St.

When You Feel a Cold Coming On

Grip, Influenza and many Pneumonias begin as a common cold. Price 30c.
The box bears this signature
E. W. Groce
Since 1889

TO GET RESULTS, STATE CLEARLY WHAT YOU WANT, TO SELL OR TO BUY. Give correct address—phone number, if any—so that interested parties may communicate with you without a lot of trouble. Ads are 1c a word each issue.

Write Your Ad Here—Bring It to Our "Want Ad" Desk

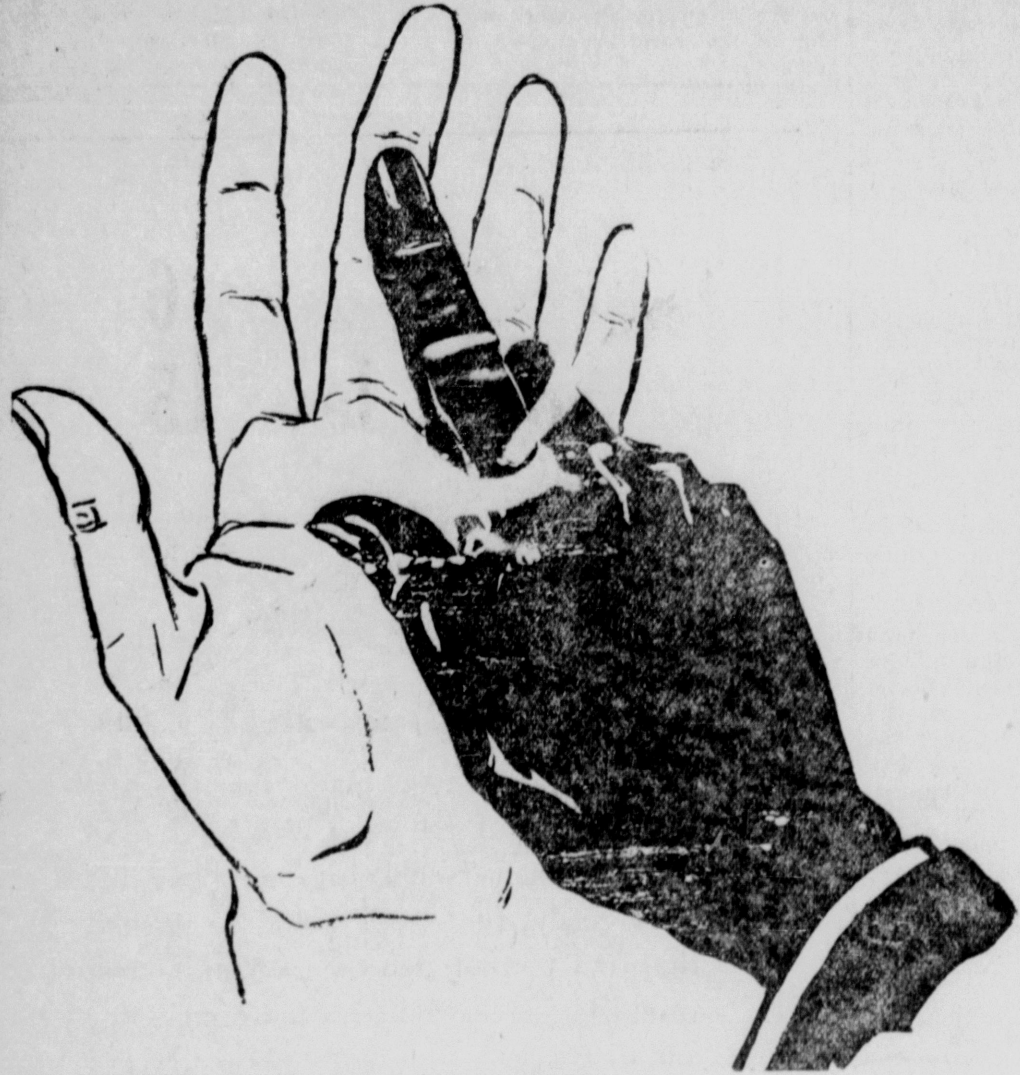

DATE _____

Number of times _____ Number of Words _____

NAME _____ ADDRESS _____

BRAINERD DISPATCH

Giving You the Facts about the John M. Bye Clothing Co's. Removal

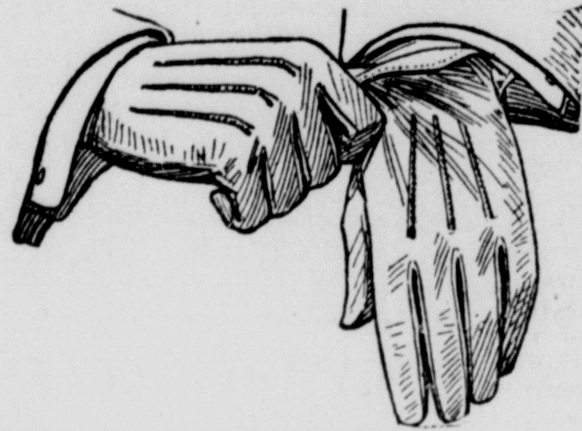

This is a "no sale store." Our policy has always been to conduct our business in such a manner that the people who buy merchandise in the beginning of the season do not pay more for their merchandise than those of our friends who buy later in the season. We feel that the early buyer is entitled to the same consideration as the late buyer.

In getting ready to move to our new location in the Laurel street store of the Elks building we find a number of items we do not wish to take with us and we decided to offer them to our friends and customers at reduced prices. The following are some of the special items we are offering to you:

Flannel Shirts

Regular $6.00 for $4.00
Regular $4.50 for $3.00
Regular $3.50 for $2.63

Extra Heavy Canvas Gloves 19c

Work Shirts, extra quality chambray.....78c

Men's Flannel Pajamas and Night Shirts

Regular $1.50 for $1.12
Regular $2.00 for $1.50
Regular $2.50 for $1.88

Children's Pajamas and Night Shirts

$1.50 value for $1.00
$2.00 value for $1.33

2 piece Part Wool Underwear regular $2.00 for $1.50

2 piece All Wool Underwear, regular $3.00 for $2.25

One lot 30 inch Horsehide Vests at.....$7.49

All of our famous "Bradley" Sweaters at greatly reduced prices.

Boys' Banded Shirts, values to $2.00 for.....95c

Boys' Blouses, "Kaynee", values to $2.00 at.....49c

616 Front St.

JOHN M. BYE CLOTHING CO.

616 Front St.

In Our New Location In the Laurel Street Store of the Elk's Building After February 1st

SCANDAL SHADOW NOW COVERS BASEBALL

SWEDEN RISBERG'S ACCUSATIONS BEING SIFTED

ONCE STAR SHORTSTOP CHARGES PLOT TO FIX BALL GAMES

TODAY AT AN OPEN HEARING RISBERG WILL FACE MEN ACCUSED

By CLARK B. KELSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Jan. 5.—A definite climax in the scandals that have darkened organized baseball was struck this afternoon when Charles "Swede" Risberg, outlaw from the game, appeared before Commissioner K. M. Landis to face the men whom he accused of "throwing" games.

Risberg strode into the commissioner's office shortly before 2 P. M. and asked for "Judge Landis."

While some of the nearly two score players who were waiting for his arrival greeted Risberg with a "Hello there, Swede," others shuffled their feet and offered nothing more than scowls by way of welcome.

It was Swede Risberg, once a popular infielder on the Chicago White Sox, who appeared before Landis last Saturday evening and told of games being thrown in exchange for money back in 1917.

After hearing his story Landis issued "subpoenas" for 40 players, some of them now retired, to appear in his office today, to face Risberg's charges and explain if possible what they know of thrown games.

'COWBOY' KUTSCH DENIES DISMISSAL

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Nicholas A. "Cowboy" Kutsch planned to return to the University of Iowa today to resume his studies. He denied he had been dismissed.

"I have received no notification and I intend to finish my semester's work at the university," he added.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 5.—(UP)—The

ISLE GAME IS ON SATURDAY

Des Moines Register in a copyrighted story said today Nick Kutsch, University of Iowa football star, had been advised by the dean not to return to the university.

Kutsch was arrested several days before Christmas and fined $25 for tackling a Christmas tree and carrying it down the street for a touch-down.

WRIGLEY CATALINA CHANNEL DERBY

DRAWN ENTRIES OF 100 LONG DISTANCE SWIMMING STARS

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5.—(UP)—

With the names of more than 100 long distance swimming stars registered, the entry list in the $40,000 Wrigley Catalina Channel derby drew to a close today.

The list stood shorn of one of its most imposing names, that of Clara Bella Barrett, New Rochelle, N. Y., who withdrew with a statement that the "channel swim is an impossibility."

"The water is too cold," she declared. "I don't think it possible that any swimmer can remain in that water more than 10 hours."

Miss Barrett remained in the English Channel 21 hours before she was forced to give up.

Demetral Defeats Kali Pasha

Madison, Wis.—Jimmy Demetral, local wrestler, was awarded a match with Kali Pasha, "the terrible Turk," last night after knocking the Turk unconscious by slamming him to the mat with a crotch and half nelson. The fall came after two hours and 24 minutes of struggling.

Holland to Challenge for Davis Cup

New York—Holland has become the third nation to challenge for the Davis cup in 1927. The Dutch tennis team will compete for the sixth time in the European zone.

BIG AND SMALL FLYING ACES WIN TWO GAMES

REGULAR ACES DEFEAT INDEPENDENTS 19 TO 8 AT Y ATHLETIC EVENT

JUNIOR ACES WIN OVER N. E. TIGERS WHEN SMITH SCORES THREE TIMES

The Y. M. C. A. athletic events held last night proved interesting to the fair-sized crowd that attended, two basketball games and a handball contest comprising the list of events. The Flying Aces, big and small, chalked up two victories for their name, the regulars winning from the N. E. Independents by a 19 to 8 score, while the junior team defeated the N. E. Tigers, 8 to 5.

Heikkinen proved the big star, as in all games, making 11 of his team's 19 points. His three free throws were made in the first half, while the four field goals came in the last half. Avery, Kukko, Swanson and Fitzharris each made a field goal for the other points.

For the Independents, Krueger made two field goals, while Purdy made one goal and two free throws. The game was interesting, being fast and desperate at times. This marks the second victory for the Aces over the Independents.

Billy Smith was the big gun of the small Aces, dropping three goals through the net, while Periman made the other two points on free throws. Bouma and Mayo each netted a goal from the field for the losers, while Mayo also counted a free toss. Marshall and Mayo played best for the losers, while Smith, Heikkinen and Halvorson did good work for the winners.

In the handball game played between the two basketball games, Al Dillan won from Wally Engbretson 21-12. The spectators were inter-

SPORT TABLOIDS

Entries for Futurity Stakes
New York—Entries for the 1929 Futurity stakes to be run at Belmont park have closed, although nominations sent from abroad and post-marked before last night will be admitted. The number of entries will exceed 2,000 with the race worth close to $100,000.

Sarazen Wins Miami Open Tourney
Miami Beach, Fla.—Gene Sarazen, with a final score of 277, won the Miami Beach open golf tournament, carrying a prize of $1,000. Jock Hutchison tied with Sarazen at the end of 54 holes, fell back and finished second with a 281.

Wide to Run on Indoor Track
New York—Edwin Wide, Swedish runner who conquered Paavo Nurmi, intends to practice a month before he enters any indoor meets. He has never run on a board track.

Physicians Given Right to Stop Bouts
New York—Physicians assigned to boxing clubs by the state athletic commission have been given the same rights as referees to stop bouts when it becomes evident that the participant is in danger of serious injury.

Tunney in Exhibition Bout in Milwaukee

Milwaukee—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, will box an exhibition bout here January 14, before the first boxing show of the new Riverview A. C., according to announcement by Joe Schweitzer, one of the promoters. Tunney, it is said, will box five two minute rounds with his sparring partners.

Additional Sports on Page 8

ested in seeing this game played, and got a good understanding of it, the points being explained as the game progressed.

Another athletic program will be given next Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. with a good list of events, different from last night's group.

RAINBOWS FAST ROUNDING INTO SHAPE FOR ISLE

ENGBRETSON AND NUTTING ARE WORKING IN MID-SEASON FORM AT FORWARDS

ISLE GAME WILL GIVE A GOOD LINE ON LOCALS FOR RED WING CONTEST

The Rainbows went through another workout last night in the high school gym preparing for their coming battle with the fast Isle team, which comes here Saturday night. Isle is rated high this year, having met some of the fastest fives in their part of the state, and they are out to avenge their defeat of last year at the hands of the Rainbows, by a 19 to 18 score.

Engbretson is working in mid-season form, going great at his forward position. He has been paired this week with Nutting, who has put in extra licks of work to get in trim for the fray. This pair is a fast combination, and ought to pierce the Isle defense if they are going right. Ziebell has come along in great style and may get the call at center. Fans who attend the game Saturday night will get an eye full of a fast and shifty Ziebell in the floorwork. Welsh has been doing some duty at forward this week, and may be seen either there or at his old position at running guard.

Fans who attend will see a new style of play, which the Rainbows have been developing preparatory to the Isle and Red Wing games. The team has found its scoring eyes, and have developed a great accuracy at the basket. The game this week will give a good line on the five that will face the Redmen a week later when Black Rasey and his gang invade this stronghold.

when in a hurry

use a

Want Ad for Results

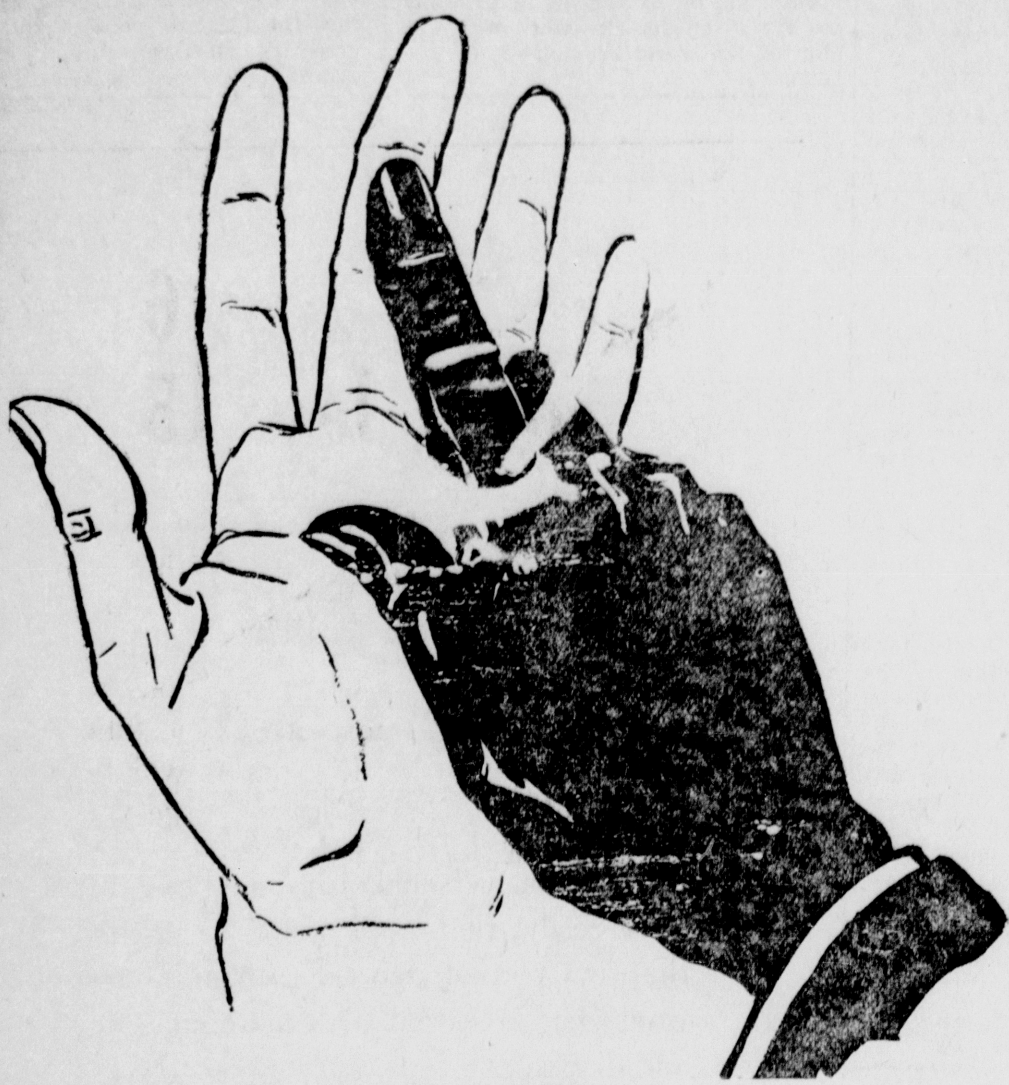

When time is short and there's lots to be done—that's when you'll appreciate the wonderful results of a Dispatch Want Ad.

Whatever is on your mind, try a Want Ad for relief.

THE DAILY DISPATCH

Telephone 74

Giving You the Facts about the John M. Bye Clothing Co's. Removal

This is a "no sale store." Our policy has always been to conduct our business in such a manner that the people who buy merchandise in the beginning of the season do not pay more for their merchandise than those of our friends who buy later in the season. We feel that the early buyer is entitled to the same consideration as the late buyer.

In getting ready to move to our new location in the Laurel street store of the Elks building we find a number of items we do not wish to take with us and we decided to offer them to our friends and customers at reduced prices. The following are some of the special items we are offering to you:

Flannel Shirts

Regular $6.00 for $4.00
Regular $4.50 for $3.00
Regular $3.50 for $2.63

Extra Heavy Canvas Gloves 19c

Work Shirts, extra quality chambray.....78c

Men's Flannel Pajamas and Night Shirts

Regular $1.50 for $1.12
Regular $2.00 for $1.50
Regular $2.50 for $1.88

Children's Pajamas and Night Shirts

$1.50 value for $1.00
$2.00 value for $1.33

2 piece Part Wool Underwear regular $2.00 for.....$1.50

2 piece All Wool Underwear, regular $3.00 for.....$2.25

One lot 30 inch Horsehide Vests at.....$7.49

All of our famous "Bradley" Sweaters at greatly reduced prices.

Boys' Banded Shirts, values to $2.00 for.....95c

Boys' Blouses, "Kaynee", values to $2.00 at.....49c

616 Front St.

JOHN M. BYE CLOTHING CO.

616 Front St.

In Our New Location In the Laurel Street Store of the Elk's Building After February 1st

SCANDAL SHADOW NOW COVERS BASEBALL

SWEDE RISBERG'S ACCUSATIONS BEING SIFTED

ONCE STAR SHORTSTOP CHARGES PLOT TO FIX BALL GAMES

TODAY AT AN OPEN HEARING RISBERG WILL FACE MEN ACCUSED

By CLARK B. KELSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Jan. 5.—A definite climax in the scandals that have darkened organized baseball was struck this afternoon when Charles "Swede" Risberg, outlaw from the game, appeared before Commissioner K. M. Landis to face the men whom he accused of "throwing" games.

Risberg strode into the commissioner's office shortly before 2 P. M. and asked for "Judge Landis."

While some of the nearly two score players who were waiting for his arrival greeted Risberg with a "Hello there, Swede," others shuffled their feet and offered nothing more than scowls by way of welcome.

It was Swede Risberg, once a popular infielder on the Chicago White Sox, who appeared before Landis last Saturday evening and told of games being thrown in exchange for money back in 1917.

After hearing his story Landis issued "subpoenas" for 40 players, some of them now retired, to appear in his office today, to face Risberg's charges and explain if possible what they know of thrown games.

'COWBOY' KUTSCH DENIES DISMISSAL

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Nicholas A. "Cowboy" Kutsch planned to return to the University of Iowa today to resume his studies. He denied he had been dismissed.

"I have received no notification and I intend to finish my semester's work at the university," he added.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 5.—(UP)—The

ISLE GAME IS ON SATURDAY

Des Moines Register in a copyrighted story said today Nick Kutsch, University of Iowa football star, had been advised by the dean not to return to the university.

Kutsch was arrested several days before Christmas and fined $25 for tackling a Christmas tree and carrying it down the street for a touch-down.

WRIGLEY CATALINA CHANNEL DERBY

DRAWN ENTRIES OF 100 LONG DISTANCE SWIMMING STARS

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5.—(UP)—With the names of more than 100 long distance swimming stars registered, the entry list in the $40,000 Wrigley Catalina Channel derby drew to a close today.

The list stood shorn of one of its most imposing names, that of Clara Bella Barrett, New Rochelle, N. Y., who withdrew with a statement that the "channel swim is an impossibility."

"The water is too cold," she declared. "I don't think it possible that any swimmer can remain in that water more than 10 hours."

Miss Barrett remained in the English Channel 21 hours before she was forced to give up.

Demetral Defeats Kati Pasha Madison, Wis.—Jimmy Demetral, local wrestler, was awarded a match with Kati Pasha, "the terrible Turk," last night after knocking the Turk unconscious by slamming him to the mat with a crotch and half nelson. The fall came after two hours and 24 minutes of struggling.

Holland to Challenge for Davis Cup New York—Holland has become the third nation to challenge for the Davis cup in 1927. The Dutch tennis team will compete for the sixth time in the European zone.

BIG AND SMALL FLYING ACES WIN TWO GAMES

REGULAR ACES DEFEAT INDEPENDENTS 19 TO 8 AT Y ATHLETIC EVENT

JUNIOR ACES WIN OVER N. E. TIGERS WHEN SMITH SCORES THREE TIMES

The Y. M. C. A. athletic events held last night proved interesting to the fair-sized crowd that attended, two basketball games and a handball contest comprising the list of events. The Flying Aces, big and small, chalked up two victories for their name, the regulars winning from the N. E. Independents by a 19 to 8 score, while the Junior team defeated the N. E. Tigers, 8 to 5.

Heikinen proved the big star, as in all games, making 11 of his team's 19 points. His three free throws were made in the first half, while the four field goals came in the last half. Avery, Kukko, Swanson and Fitzharris each made a field goal for the other points.

For the Independents, Krueger made two field goals, while Purdy made one goal and two free throws. The game was interesting, being fast and desperate at times. This marks the second victory for the Aces over the Independents.

Billy Smith was the big gun of the small Aces, dropping three goals through the net, while Perlman made the other two points on free throws. Bouma and Mayo each netted a goal from the field for the losers, while Marshall and Mayo played best for the losers, while Smith, Heikinen and Halvorson did good work for the winners.

In the handball game played between the two basketball games, Al Dillan won from Wally Engbretson, 21-12. The spectators were inter-

SPORT TABLOIDS

Entries for Futurity Stakes

New York—Entries for the 1929 Futurity stakes to be run at Belmont park have closed, although nominations sent from abroad and postmarked before last night will be admitted. The number of entries will exceed 2,000 with the race worth close to $100,000.

Sarazen Wins Miami Open Tourney Miami Beach, Fla.—Gene Sarazen, with a final score of 277, won the Miami Beach open golf tournament, carrying a prize of $1,000. Jock Hutchison tied with Sarazen at the end of 54 holes, fell back and finished second with a 281.

Wide to Run on Indoor Track New York—Edwin Wide, Swedish runner who conquered Paavo Nurmi intends to practice a month before he enters any indoor meets. He has never run on a board track.

Physicians Given Right to Stop Bouts New York—Physicians assigned to boxing clubs by the state athletic commission have been given the same rights as referees to stop bouts when it becomes evident that the participant is in danger of serious injury.

Tunney in Exhibition Bout in Milwaukee

Milwaukee—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, will box an exhibition bout here January 14, before the first boxing show of the new Riverview A. C., according to announcement by Joe Schweitzer, one of the promoters. Tunney, it is said, will box five two minute rounds with his sparring partners.

Additional Sports on Page 8

ested in seeing this game played, and got a good understanding of it, the points being explained as the game progressed.

Another athletic program will be given next Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. with a good list of events, different from last night's group.

RAINBOWS FAST ROUNDING INTO SHAPE FOR ISLE

ENGBRETSON AND NUTTING ARE WORKING IN MID-SEASON FORM AT FORWARDS

ISLE GAME WILL GIVE A GOOD LINE ON LOCALS FOR RED WING CONTEST

The Rainbows went through another workout last night in the high school gym preparing for their coming battle with the fast Isle team, which comes here Saturday night. Isle is rated high this year, having met some of the fastest fives in their part of the state, and they are out to avenge their defeat of last year at the hands of the Rainbows, by a 19 to 18 score.

Engbretson is working in mid-season form, going great at his forward position. He has been paired this week with Nutting, who has put in extra flicks of work to get in trim for the fray. This pair is a fast combination, and ought to pierce the Isle defense if they are going right. Ziebell has come along in great style and may get the call at center. Fans who attend the game Saturday night will get an eye full of a fast and shifty Ziebell in the floorwork. Welsh has been doing some duty at forward this week, and may be seen either there or at his old position at running guard.

Fans who attend will see a new style of play, which the Rainbows have been developing preparatory to the Isle and Red Wing games. The team has found its scoring eyes, and have developed a great accuracy at the basket. The game this week will give a good line on the five that will face the Redmen a week later when Black Rasey and his gang invade this stronghold.

when in a hurry

use a

Want Ad for Results

When time is short and there's lots to be done—that's when you'll appreciate the wonderful results of a Dispatch Want Ad.

Whatever is on your mind, try a Want Ad for relief.

THE DAILY DISPATCH

Telephone 74

DELIVERS TALK TO MINISTERS

Rev. N. P. Olmsted on "Present Status of the Foreign Missionary Movement"

FOUR DIFFICULTIES PRESENTED Explained That Which Hindered Foreign People From Receiving Gospel

At the Brainerd Minister's association meeting Monday, the order of the day was an address by the Rev. N. P. Olmsted on the "Present Status of the Foreign Missionary Movement."

Mr. Olmsted brought a virile message in a carefully prepared manner. He showed that a change in emphasis was on in our times from the necessity of salvation from sin to escape the consequences of sin hereafter, to the necessity of salvation through Christ in order to enjoy and live the abundant life here and now.

To accomplish a clear realization among foreign peoples that Christianity was for this life, the missionary must enter heartily into the life, thought, customs, and temporalities of foreign peoples in order to win them to the Christian life.

Four great difficulties were presented as hindering foreign peoples from receiving the Gospel.

1. Nationalism: The Chinese, for instance, wanted to know about the forcing of opium upon them as far back as 1840, the seizure of seaports, or the discrimination against them by so-called Christian nations, of "extra territoriality." The next step in Foreign Missions was really, in a way, a home missionary proposition, that is the inducing of our government to take a more Christian attitude toward foreign peoples.

2. Industrialism: American and English capitalists exploiting foreign peoples, even women and children, for gain, by long hours and short wages. The Shanghai massacre of May 1925 being decidedly in proof that industrialism has not the Christian viewpoint.

3. Denominationalism: Granted that denominationalism was of use here where it sprang up. It is not of much use in foreign countries where the native Christians should interpret Christ afresh. The assignment of different areas of the foreign field to certain denominations was good but did not go far enough.

4. Self Determination: Must be granted foreign peoples in religious matters as there are now in many countries the third and fourth generation of native born Christians who are intelligent and as capable of carrying on as were the Christians of the first century.

Mr. Olmsted declared that Oriental peoples had shown a genius for religion, the Christian religion itself having come from the east. The missionary from the west must no longer be a "boss" but an adviser to the native ministry. There were radical differences of opinion on some statements made, but in the main, all felt that greater autonomy should be given to the native leaders and that western missionaries should take a secondary place until the native church should become self-supporting.

The presentation of the subject by Mr. Olmsted was well received all agreeing to the major premise involved.

Another pleasing feature of the meeting was the welcoming into the fellowship of the association. Rev. Seth V. Jacobson pastor of the Swedish Baptist church, recently arrived in this city. His residence is at 1205 Pine street.

At the next meeting Monday, February 7th, Rev. Harold F. Damon will present a paper on Dr. Fort Newton's "Twenty Five Greatest Sermons."

NORTH LONG LAKE NEWS

About forty young people from Brainerd enjoyed a sleigh ride out to Hughey's last Thursday evening. The evening was spent informally, everyone enjoying himself.

Little Harlowe Reid who has been sick with pneumonia is rapidly improving.

Fray Lewis spent the holiday week at the Hughey home.

A number of friends enjoyed a party New Year's night at the home of Bernice and Richard Ackerson. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games.

George White was a visitor at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Hughey the past week.

The Walter Caughey family spent Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Burt Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barr spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius.

Miss Anna Greaves of Hill City spent part of the holiday week with her friend, Miss Mary Hughey.

The entire community is grief stricken over the death of little George Hansen, who passed away New Year's day after an illness of several weeks. All extend their sympathy to the Hansens in their bereavement.

Whales Battle for Lives

Harpooned whales have been known to battle for two days, says the Dearborn Independent.

MEETINGS SUCCESSFUL Special Discussions at Presbyterian Church Held This Week

The special meetings which are being held this week at the Presbyterian church are under full headway and are meeting with enthusiastic response.

Last night Rev. A. G. Patterson spoke on "God Back of You." He stated that God back of Joshua meant more than a full equipped army back of him and that Joshua was promised success, the one condition being faithfulness to the law. Rev. Patterson pointed out that every Christian has the same God and the same power and the same promise of success on the same conditions.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock Rev. Patterson will speak on "Spies—A Vision."

Smart-Christianson

A very pretty wedding took place at 10 o'clock New Year's day morning at the Presbyterian manse, Rev. A. G. Patterson, officiating when Miss Pearl Christianson, Brainerd, became the bride of Robert Smart of South Long Lake.

The attendants were: Oscar Olson, of South Long Lake and Clare Flescholtz, of Foley, Minn.

The newly married couple will spend their honeymoon at the bride's parents at Foley, Minn., and will make their home at the Smart farm at South Long Lake.

CITY DONATIONS TO NEAR EAST RELIEF

Responded to the Amount of $29.83 Through Individual Gifts

HELP IS NEEDED

Presbyterian Church Sets Aside Appropriation in Budget for Work

Brainerd contributed to the response for aid for "Near East Relief" to the amount of $29.83 through individual donations. Of the churches interviewed by Mrs. P. J. Schwarz, of Minneapolis, N. E. R. that agreed to help in this cause only one report has been received yet, that of the Presbyterian church where gifts to Near East Relief are made from the annual budget under the head of benevolences.

Mrs. L. P. Slipp writes as follows to the Dispatch:

"Perhaps other churches gave to Near East Relief in the same manner but in this case an accurate report of the amount given by the Brainerd churches on Golden Rule Sunday cannot be given. We are assured the committee on Near East Relief appreciates the cooperation of all who in any way assisted in the carrying on of America's 'unfinished task,' for helpless orphans, and we feel special mention should be made of F. A. Farrar, who with the abundance of daily duties, has given of his valuable time and attention in receiving and sending forth to the headquarters at Minneapolis, the amounts given to the Golden Rule Sunday appeal for N. E. R., also the Brainerd Dispatch whose force so willingly and graciously publish any material relative to the work of the Near East Relief.

"We also feel that to all those who have heeded the appeal for help for unfortunate ones, at home and especially abroad, at this season of the year, there is the joy incurred in so doing with the assurance of the approval of Him who has said 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.'"

"It is interesting to note that in 1925, 52 countries shared the fellowship of Golden Rule Sunday. It is fitting as President Coolidge has suggested in his letter 'that the beneficent use of this day should be extended to relieve distress and banish bitterness elsewhere.'"

"From 'Our Unfinished Task' of The New Near East, comes the following: 'On December 5, 1926, a day which falls half way between the feasts of Thanksgiving and Christmas, you are asked once more to eat a simple meal, such as is served in the orphanages of the Near East, instead of the usual hearty Sunday dinner, to think with pity of those less fortunate than yourselves, and in a spirit of thankfulness for your own prosperity make as large a contribution as your purse or your bank account will permit for the continuation of the work for the world's unprivileged.'"

"With this appeal comes a special one to the friends of the Near East Relief on account of the earthquake in Armenia which occurred October 22 and where the 9,000 orphaned wards of America are being cared for. From 'Cabled Notes of Earthquake' came the following: 'American relief workers in Armenia and 9,000 orphans are living in tents in a raging blizzard following a second series of heavy earthquakes shook after the first disaster. There are 86,000 homeless in Armenia alone.'"

Protect the Barn Owl

A barn owl makes a valuable mouse catcher for any farm

TELLS EXPERIENCE IN FLORIDA

Miss Rebecca Cassell Gives Interesting Address to Rotary Club

EXPLAINS HARDSHIPS

Told of Work Done by Red Cross in Caring for Families

Miss Rebecca Cassell, secretary of the Child Welfare Board of Crow Wing county gave a very interesting address yesterday noon to the Rotary club on her experiences in Florida during the rehabilitation of the storm swept land, the care of the injured and the work being done to start Florida out anew.

Highlights of Miss Cassell's address follows:

"When we took over the job on October 6 at Sebring we immediately made plans to remove all persons from the hotels crowded with families and in less than four days had emptied that, placing families in a tent city which was already erected and which we rented at $10.00 per tent, renting all available houses at reasonable rent and finally placing the rest at the Tourist Camp in Army tents.

"Henry M. Baker, National Director Red Cross Disaster Relief, who arrived Sept. 21st in Miami, State Hdqtrs. first estimated that there were approximately 18,000 families who had suffered some loss in this hurricane and who would need to be registered by the Red Cross for relief. That was before he visited the West Coast and after that visit, he estimated an additional 5,000. Registration on Dec. 28th was 23,015 families of which 18,371 had been finally closed which means the awards had been made and the families have at their disposal funds regarded as being sufficient to enable them to get back on their feet—of this number, some will also have been found not to be disaster sufferers and some able to recover without assistance.

"Here I should like to stop to give you an idea of Red Cross set-up. As you will note the Red Cross has a National Director of Disaster Relief, whose headquarters are in Washington, D. C., and who is immediately available when disaster strikes. On this occasion, Mr. Baker who was already on one disaster, flew to Florida, he arrived on the way and set up his office by rail. I believe he arrived in Miami in the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 21st. He told me that he found conditions in the cities of Miami, Hialeah, Ojus, Port Lauderdale, Hollywood and Pompano on the East Coast equal if not excess in the degree of destruction to any disaster in his experience and that experience is vast. The usual scene prevailed, streets cluttered with wreckage, thousands of homes either totally wrecked or lying around in every shape and form of partial destruction, telephone and telegraph connections and street car operations completely out of order. On Bay Street Drive in Miami, parts of craft and hundreds of boats were lying around in all conditions. In the interior and rural sections of the above towns, citrus groves and vegetable gardens were a mass of tangled wreckage. Thousands of acres of citrus trees were demolished and an equal number covered with trees blown down.

"I mentioned Emergency Relief Committee which naturally spring up immediately following a thing of this kind. Within 40 minutes of Mr. Baker's arrival in Miami, the entire relief operation was placed officially in the hands of the American National Red Cross. The next step naturally was a rapid survey of the East Coast with a view to coordinating all relief operations and getting a Red Cross official report to the outside world within 48 hours he had visited 21 different communities, including the towns mentioned above, Sebring, Dania, Ft. Pierce, Davis, Progresso, DeSoto City, West Palm Beach and several others. The Relief operations in other towns was taken over long before that in Sebring, in fact, most of the area had officially been taken over within the first week but we did not officially set up one area office until Oct. 6th. There were numerous reasons for this into which I shall not go.

"The Area office is set up with a Director, a case supervisor, in which capacity I acted, seventeen case counselors whose duty it is to read all cases to see that the cases are properly prepared and ready for presentation, an accountant, a file and office clerk, of course case workers and when the period of permanent rehabilitation comes on, a supervisor of orders whose duty it is to notify clients to call for information as to awards, give out that information and write all orders. 'Almost always on a disaster, the Area Director is given authority to pass an award but anything in excess of that amount must be approved by the Director or his Assistant, who in this case were two in number as they were last year on the Midwestern Tornado, because of the size of the job.

"The case is worked upon a 14 point basis, covering name, size families, addresses, health, occupation and income, disaster losses, liabilities, resources, references, help received from Red Cross and other sources, family plan, special problems and worker's plan and recommendation. All losses, assets and liabilities must be carefully verified and references seen. Losses must be listed and damage to property described so as to give a picture of the situation both before and after the disaster. When this is done and the case completely written up, it is presented to the Case Supervisor who, if she approves of it, sends it on to the Area Director and if over $500.00 to the Director. In all cases, it is presented by the worker who must be able to give good reasons for her recommendations and be ready to back it up from all angles. The money is not handed out in actual cash but the family are told they have a certain amount to spend, so much perhaps for building and repair, so much for household goods, a given amount for clothing, equipment and stock, or whatever the need may be. They select their own merchants, pick out the things they wish to purchase, bring in specifications and estimate for building, etc., and orders are written to the persons selected by them to furnish the required articles. Upon presentation of the bill with our order, they are paid for the goods or services.

"In our office we had an Area Director, a case supervisor, a disaster accountant and his assistant, a file clerk, who also met the clients when they came to the office, a supervisor of orders, 11 case workers and 5 stenographers and clerical workers, nursing service was under a medical director. We covered an area of over 5,000 square miles, only a small amount of which was damaged territory however, but the rest small area in which refugees were located. In the stricken area 1, as case supervisor, had 6 workers placed at various points on Lake Okechobee; 1 at Lakeport, 2 in Moore-Haven on the West shore, one covering Okechobee City, DeSoto City and Canal Point and Pahokee on the East and North shores of the Lake and 2 on the south shore, covering ten islands, Rihita, South Bay, Chosen, Miami, Locks, Clewiston and other small points."

BRAINERD LAD NOW MAYOR

Life of Earl Dennis Topping Reads Like Horatio Alger

CHAUFFEUR TO MAYOR

Citizens of Sierra Madre, Cal., Honor Him With Public Office

Years ago a bright orphan lad grew up in Brainerd in the environments of the land of the lakes. That boy was known as Earl Dennis and many readers as they read this article will remember that boy and his early history in this city.

The cognomen of Topping has been added to his name and he is now known as Earl Dennis Topping, highly reputed citizen of Sierra Madre, California whose high graces in the life of that city has honored him with the title of Mayor Earl Dennis Topping.

Mr. Topping's life had been one of the greatest of faith, courage and striving before he attained the position he now holds.

The Los Angeles Examiner in prominent location together with his picture and that of his son has contributed a feature story regarding his life. Under the heading "From Chauffeur to Mayor," followed by the caption "It Reads Like Horatio Alger," the following is taken.

"Meet Earl Dennis Topping, presented with the highest honor in the gift of Sierra Madre. He was taken from an orphanage, later adopted, and 'made good' as a leader in civic affairs and by his steady advancement won his way to the top. He is shown with his son, Jack.

This is a story such at Horatio Alger might have written of a poor boy, the product of an orphanage, who rose from chauffeur to mayor. It is also the story of a rich woman's appreciation of character and real American manhood, of a benefactress who, instead of marrying the boy she helped, adopted him. It is the story of the rise of Earl Dennis Topping, mayor of Sierra Madre.

Meet Mr. Topping! You've read the story of Dick Whittington, the boy with the cat who listened to the bells of London ringing, decided that he would make a good Lord Mayor and finally did. Mayor Topping is just such a chap, though he never owned a cat.

He was born in Minnesota as plain Earl Dennis and there were no silver spoons lying around handy. His parents died and he went to an orphanage. Twelve years he was in that parentless prison-sort of a place, where there were nurses instead of mothers. Still no silver spoons, only pewter ones.

Then his luck changed. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Topping of St. Paul happened along. He was 14 then. They saw the possibilities in his Irish eyes and took him in. Later he became their chauffeur and when Mr. Topping died, came to California with the widow.

Horatio Alger would have married

E. F. GATES

January Clearance Sale

Commencing Thursday, Jan. 6 Lasting Until Saturday, Jan. 15

Each winter it is the policy of this store to hold a January Clearance Sale. This is necessary in order to keep the stock in such shape that nothing is carried over from season to season. There are always small lots of merchandise left after the fall season which must be closed out. You will find hosts of bargains at prices which will demonstrate that we are anxious to close these out, and this January Sale will make it a most opportune time for you to save money on your purchases as especially low prices will be placed on seasonable goods to close them out at this time and we urge you to take advantage of these low prices while they are in force.

Bring the Money—These Low Prices are for Cash—Bring the Money

Every Coat in the Store Marked Down

Every Fur Coat Reduced in Price

Every Dress Marked at Close Out Prices

Very Low Prices on Silks and Dress Goods

Reduced Prices on Linens and Draperies

Low Prices on Muslins and Sheetings

Thursday, Jan. 6th, will be the opening day. Be sure and be there.

Pictorial Review Patterns

E. F. GATES

A Good Place To Trade

Remember We Still Pay 4% Interest On Savings Accounts and Time Deposits

CITIZENS STATE BANK OF BRAINERD

Oldest and Largest State Bank in Crow Wing Co.
1889 1926

DISTRICT COURT OPENS

Adjourned Term Has 12 Civil Cases;
Judge B. F. Wright
Presiding

Twelve civil cases will be heard at the adjourned term of the district court which opened this morning in the court room of the court house, Judge B. F. Wright presiding.

This morning was devoted to the calling of the calendar. No jury will be called.

COMMERCIAL STATE BANK of Brainerd

Statement of the condition of Commercial State Bank of Brainerd, Minn., at the close of business on December 31, 1926.

| RESOURCES | |
|--|--------------|
| Loans and discounts, including real estate mortgages | $ 78,188.11 |
| Overdrafts | 159.69 |
| Securities, etc. | 85,224.12 |
| Banking house, furniture and fixtures | 8,699.76 |
| Checks and drafts in transit | 1,049.63 |
| Due from other banks and cash on hand | 22,251.18 |
| Costs, loans and checks | 2,568.29 |
| Other assets, if any | 35.00 |
| Total | $295,797.59 |
| LIABILITIES | |
| Capital stock | $ 25,000.00 |
| Surplus fund | 5,000.00 |
| Undivided profits, net | 12,252.52 |
| Savings deposits | 39,224.35 |
| Time certificates | 26,443.88 |
| Cashier's checks | 6,529.89 |
| Due to banks | 4,923.42 |
| Deposits subject to check | 99,132.35 |
| Total | $295,797.59 |
| Amount of reserve on hand | $34,917.59 |
| Amount of Reserve Required by law | $16,416.99 |
| State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss. | |
| We, A. S. PETERSON, President and C. V. HEDDEN, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true of our knowledge and belief: | |
| A. S. PETERSON, President | |
| C. V. HEDDEN, Cashier | |
| Correct Attest (Two) Directors— | |
| O. B. JOHNSON | |
| K. S. BREIDENBERG | |
| Subscribed and sworn before me this 4th day of January, 1927. | |
| A. D. POLK, | |
| United States Commissioner, | |
| District of Minnesota. | |

WANT ADS

Only 1c a word each issue

in the

Daily Dispatch

GET RESULTS

Just Telephone 74

DELIVERS TALK TO MINISTERS

Rev. N. P. Olmsted on "Present Status of the Foreign Missionary Movement"

FOUR DIFFICULTIES PRESENTED Explained That Which Hindered Foreign People From Receiving Gospel

At the Brainerd Minister's association meeting Monday, the order of the day was an address by the Rev. N. P. Olmsted on the "Present Status of the Foreign Missionary Movement."

Mr. Olmsted brought a virile message in a carefully prepared manner. He showed that a change in emphasis was on in our times from the necessity of salvation from sin to escape the consequences of sin hereafter, to the necessity of salvation through Christ in order to enjoy and live the abundant life here and now.

To accomplish a clear realization among foreign peoples that Christianity was for this life, the missionary must enter heartily into the life, thought, customs, and temporalities of foreign peoples in order to win them to the Christian life.

Four great difficulties were presented as hindering foreign peoples from receiving the Gospel.

1. Nationalism: The Chinese, for instance, wanted to know about the forcing of opium upon them as far back as 1840, the seizure of seaports, or the discrimination against them by so called Christian nations, of extra territoriality. The next step in Foreign Missions was really, in a way, a home missionary proposition, that is the inducing of our government to take a more Christian attitude toward foreign peoples.

2. Industrialism: American and English capitalists exploiting foreign peoples, even women and children, for gain, by long hours and short wages. The Shanghai massacre of May 1925 being decidedly in proof that industrialism has not the Christian viewpoint.

3. Denominationalism: Granted that denominationalism was of use here where it sprang up. It is not of much use in foreign countries where the native Christians should interpret Christ afresh. The assignment of different areas of the foreign field to certain denominations was good but did not go far enough.

4. Self Determination: Must be granted foreign peoples in religious matters as there are now in many countries the third and fourth generation of native born Christians who are intelligent and as capable of carrying on as were the Christians of the first century.

Mr. Olmsted declared that Oriental peoples had shown a genius for religion, the Christian religion itself having come from the east. The missionary from the west must no longer be a "boss" but an adviser to the native ministry. There were radical differences of opinion on some statements made, but in the main, all felt that greater autonomy should be given to the native leaders and that western missionaries should take a secondary place until the native church should become self-supporting.

The presentation of the subject by Mr. Olmsted was well received all agreeing to the major premise involved.

Another pleasing feature of the meeting was the welcoming into the fellowship of the association. Rev. Seth V. Jacobson pastor of the Swedish Baptist church, recently arrived in this city. His residence is at 1205 Pine street.

At the next meeting Monday, February 7th, Rev. Harold F. Damon will present a paper on Dr. Fort Newton's "Twenty Five Greatest Sermons."

NORTH LONG LAKE NEWS

About forty young people from Brainerd enjoyed a sleigh ride out to Hughey's last Thursday evening. The evening was spent informally, everyone enjoying himself.

Little Harlowe Reid who has been sick with pneumonia is rapidly improving.

Fray Lewis spent the holiday week at the Hughey home.

A number of friends enjoyed a party New Year's night at the home of Bernice and Richard Ackerson. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games.

George White was a visitor at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Hughey the past week.

The Walter Caughey family spent Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Burt Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barr spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Juline.

Miss Anna Greaves of Hill City spent part of the holiday week with her friend, Miss Mary Hughey.

The entire community is grief-stricken over the death of little George Hansen, who passed away New Year's day after an illness of several weeks. All extend their sympathy to the Hansens in their bereavement.

Whales Battle for Lives

Harpooned whales have been known to battle for two days, says the Dearborn Independent.

MEETINGS SUCCESSFUL

Special Discussions at Presbyterian Church Held This Week

The special meetings which are being held this week at the Presbyterian church are under full headway and are meeting with enthusiastic response.

Last night Rev. A. G. Patterson spoke on "God Back of You." He stated that God back of Joshua meant more than a full equipped army back of him and that Joshua was promised success, the one condition being faithfulness to the law. Rev. Patterson pointed out that every Christian has the same God and the same power and the same promise of success on the same conditions.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock Rev. Patterson will speak on "Spies—A Vision."

Smart-Christianson

A very pretty wedding took place at 10 o'clock New Year's day morning at the Presbyterian manse, Rev. A. G. Patterson, officiating when Miss Pearl Christianson, Brainerd, became the bride of Robert Smart of South Long Lake.

The attendants were Oscar Olson, of South Long Lake and Clare Plescholtz, of Foley, Minn.

The newly married couple will spend their honeymoon at the bride's parents at Foley, Minn., and will make their home at the Smart farm at South Long Lake.

CITY DONATIONS TO NEAR EAST RELIEF

Responded to the Amount of $29.83 Through Individual Gifts

HELP IS NEEDED

Presbyterian Church Sets Aside Appropriation in Budget for Work

Brainerd contributed to the response for aid for "Near East Relief" to the amount of $29.83 through individual donations. Of the churches interviewed by Mrs. P. J. Schwarg, of Minneapolis, N. E. R. that agreed to help in this cause only one report has been received yet, that of the Presbyterian church where gifts to Near East Relief are made from the annual budget under the head of benevolences.

Mrs. L. P. Slipp writes as follows to the Dispatch:

"Perhaps other churches gave to Near East Relief in the same manner but in this case an accurate report of the amount given by the Brainerd churches on Golden Rule Sunday cannot be given. We are assured the committee on Near East Relief appreciates the cooperation of all who in any way assisted in the carrying on of America's 'unfinished task,' for helpless orphans, and we feel special mention should be made of F. A. Farrar, who with the abundance of daily duties, has given of his valuable time and attention in receiving and sending forth to the headquarters at Minneapolis, the amounts given to the Golden Rule Sunday appeal for N. E. R., also the Brainerd Dispatch whose force so willingly and graciously publish any material relative to the work of the Near East Relief.

"We also feel that to all those who have heeded the appeal for help for unfortunate ones, at home and especially abroad, at this season of the year, there is the joy incurred in so doing with the assurance of the approval of Him who has said 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.'

"It is interesting to note that in 1925, 52 countries shared the fellowship of Golden Rule Sunday. It is fitting as President Coolidge has suggested in his letter that the beneficent use of this day should be extended to relieve distress and banish bitterness elsewhere."

"From 'Our Unfinished Task' of 'The New Near East,' comes the following: 'On December 5, 1926, a day which falls half way between the feasts of Thanksgiving and Christmas, you are asked once more to eat a simple meal, such as is served in the orphanages of the Near East, instead of the usual hearty Sunday dinner, to think with pity of those less fortunate than yourselves, and in a spirit of thankfulness for your own prosperity make as large a contribution as your purse or your bank account will permit for the continuation of the work for the world's unprivileged.'

"With this appeal comes a special one to the friends of the Near East Relief on account of the earthquake in Armenia which occurred October 22 and where the 9,000 orphaned wards of America are being cared for. From 'Cabled Notes of Earthquake' came the following: 'American relief workers in Armenia and 9,000 orphans are living in tents in a raging blizzard following a second series of heavy earthquakes shook after the first disaster. There are 86,000 homeless in Armenia alone.'

Protect the Barn Owl

A barn owl makes a valuable mouse catcher for any farm

TELLS EXPERIENCE IN FLORIDA

Miss Rebecca Cassell Gives Interesting Address to Rotary Club

EXPLAINS HARDSHIPS

Told of Work Done by Red Cross in Caring for Families

Miss Rebecca Cassell, secretary of the Child Welfare Board of Crow Wing county gave a very interesting address yesterday noon to the Rotary club on her experiences in Florida during the rehabilitation of the storm swept land, the care of the injured and the work being done to start Florida out anew.

Highlights of Miss Cassell's address follows:

"When we took over the job on October 6 at Sebring we immediately made plans to remove all persons from the hotels crowded with families and in less than four days had emptied that, placing families in a tent city which was already erected and which we rented at $10.00 per tent, renting all available houses at reasonable rent and finally placing the rest at the Tourist Camp in Army tents.

"Henry M. Baker, National Director Red Cross Disaster Relief, who arrived Sept. 21st in Miami, State Hdqtrs, first estimated that there were approximately 18,000 families who had suffered some loss in the hurricane and who would need to be registered by the Red Cross for relief. That was before he visited the West Coast and after that visit, he estimated an additional 5,000. Registration on Dec. 28th was 23,015 families of which 18,371 had been finally closed which means the awards had been made and the family have at their disposal funds regarded as being sufficient to enable them to get back on their feet—of this number, some will also have been found not to be disaster sufferers and some able to recover without assistance.

"Here I should like to stop to give you an idea of Red Cross set-up. As you will note the Red Cross has a National Director of Disaster Relief, whose headquarters are in Washington, D. C., and who is immediately available when disaster strikes. On this occasion, Mr. Baker who was already on one disaster, flew to Florida, had a trip on the way and had his trip by rail. I believe he arrived in Miami in the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 21st. He told me that he found conditions in the cities of Miami, Hialeah, Ojus, Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood and Pompano on the East Coast equal if not excess in the degree of destruction to any disaster in his experience and that experience is vast. The usual scene prevailed, streets cluttered with wreckage, thousands of homes either totally wrecked or lying around in every shape and form of partial destruction, telephone and telegraph connections and street car operations completely out of order. On Bay Short Drive in Miami, parts of craft and hundred of boats were lying around in all conditions. In the interior and rural sections of the above towns, citrus groves and vegetable gardens were a mass of tangled wreckage. Thousands of acres of citrus trees were demolished and an equal number covered with trees blown down.

"I mentioned Emergency Relief Committee which naturally spring up immediately following a thing of this kind. Within 40 minutes of Mr. Baker's arrival in Miami, the entire relief operation was placed officially in the hands of the American National Red Cross. The next step naturally was a rapid survey of the East Coast with a view to coordinating all relief operations and getting a Red Cross official report to the outside world within 48 hours he had visited 21 different communities, including the towns mentioned above, Sebring, Dania, Ft. Pierce, Davie, Progresso, DeSoto City, West Palm Beach and several others. The relief operations in other towns was taken over long before that in Sebring, in fact, most of the area had officially been taken over within the first week but we did not officially set up one area office until Oct. 6th. There were numerous reasons for this into which I shall not go.

"The Area office is set up with a Director, a case supervisor, in which capacity I acted, seventeen case counselors whose duty it is to read all cases to see that the cases are properly prepared and ready for presentation, an accountant, a file and office clerk, of course case workers and when the period of permanent rehabilitation comes on, a supervisor of orders whose duty it is to notify clients to call for information as to awards, give out that information and write all orders. 'Almost always on a disaster, the Area Director is given authority to pass an award but anything in excess of that amount must be approved by the Director or his Assistant, who in this case were two in number as they were last year on the Midwestern Tornado, because of the size of the job.

"The case is worked upon a 14 point basis, covering name, size families, addresses, health, occupation and incor, disaster losses, liabilities, resources, references, help received from Red Cross and other sources, family plan, special problems and worker's plan and recommendation. All losses, assets and liabilities must be carefully verified and references seen. Losses must be listed and damage to property described so as to give a picture of the situation both before and after the disaster. When this is done and the case completely written up, it is presented to the Case Supervisor who, if she approves of it, sends it on to the Area Director and if over $500.00 to the Director. In all cases, it is presented by the worker who must be able to give good reasons for her recommendations and be ready to back it up from all angles. The money is not handed out in actual cash but the family are told they have a certain amount to spend, so much perhaps for building and repair, so much for household goods, a given amount for clothing, equipment and stock, or whatever the need may be. They select their own merchants, pick out the things they wish to purchase, bring in specifications and estimate for building, etc., and orders are written to the persons selected by them to furnish the required articles. Upon presentation of the bill with our order, they are paid for the goods or services.

"In our office we had an Area Director, a case supervisor, a disaster accountant and his assistant, a file clerk, who also met the clients when they came to the office, a supervisor of orders, 11 case workers and 5 stenographers and clerical workers, nursing service was under a medical director. We covered an area of over 5,000 square miles, only a small amount of which was damaged territory however, but the rest small area in which refugees were located. In the stricken area I, as case supervisor, had 6 workers placed at various points on Lake Okeechobee: 1 at Lakeport, 2 in Moore-Haven on the West shore, one covering Okeechobee City, DeSoto City and Canal Point and Pahokee on the East and North shores of the Lake and 2 on the south shore, covering ten islands, Rialta, South Bay, Chosen, Miami, Locks, Clewiston and other small points."

BRAINERD LAD NOW MAYOR

Life of Earl Dennis Topping Reads Like Horatio Alger

CHAUFFEUR TO MAYOR

Citizens of Sierra Madre, Cal., Honor Him With Public Office

Years ago a bright orphan lad grew up in Brainerd in the environment of the land of the lakes. That boy was known as Earl Dennis and many readers as they read this article will remember that boy and his early history in this city.

The cognomen of Topping has been added to his name and he is now known as Earl Dennis Topping, highly reputed citizen of Sierra Madre, California whose high graces in the life of that city has honored him with the title of Mayor Earl Dennis Topping.

Mr. Topping's life had been one of the greatest of faith, courage and striving before he attained the position he now holds.

The Los Angeles Examiner in prominent location together with his picture and that of his son has contributed a feature story regarding his life. Under the heading "From Chauffeur to Mayor," followed by the caption "It Reads Like Horatio Alger," the following is taken.

"Meet Earl Dennis Topping, presented with the highest honor in the gift of Sierra Madre. He was taken from an orphanage, later adopted, and 'made good' as a leader in civic affairs and by his steady advancement won his way to the top. He is shown with his son, Jack.

This is a story such as at Horatio Alger might have written of a poor boy, the product of an orphanage, who rose from chauffeur to mayor. It is also the story of a rich woman's appreciation of character and real American manhood, of a benefactress who, instead of marrying the boy she helped, adopted him. It is the story of the rise of Earl Dennis Topping, mayor of Sierra Madre.

Meet Mr. Topping! You've read the story of Dick Whittington, the boy with the cat who listened to the bells of London ringing, decided that he would make a good Lord Mayor and finally did. Mayor Topping is just such a chap, though he never owned a cat.

He was born in Minnesota as plain Earl Dennis and there were no silver spoons lying around handy. His parents died and he went to an orphanage. Twelve years he was in that parentless prison-sort of a place, where there were nurses instead of mothers. Still no silver spoons, only pewter ones.

Then his luck changed. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Topping of St. Paul happened along. He was 14 then. They saw the possibilities in his Irish eyes and took him in. Later he became their chauffeur and when Mr. Topping died, came to California with the widow.

Horatio Alger would have married

E. F. GATES

January Clearance Sale

Commencing Thursday, Jan. 6
Lasting Until Saturday, Jan. 15

Each winter it is the policy of this store to hold a January Clearance Sale. This is necessary in order to keep the stock in such shape that nothing is carried over from season to season. There are always small lots of merchandise left after the fall season which must be closed out. You will find hosts of bargains at prices which will demonstrate that we are anxious to close these out, and this January Sale will make it a most opportune time for you to save money on your purchases as especially low prices will be placed on seasonable goods to close them out at this time and we urge you to take advantage of these low prices while they are in force.

Bring the Money—These Low Prices are for Cash—Bring the Money

Every Coat in the Store Marked Down

Every Fur Coat Reduced in Price

Every Dress Marked at Close Out Prices

Very Low Prices on Silks and Dress Goods

Reduced Prices on Linens and Draperies

Low Prices on Muslins and Sheetings

Thursday, Jan. 6th, will be the opening day. Be sure and be there.

Pictorial Review
Patterns

E. F. GATES

A Good Place
To Trade

Remember We Still Pay
4% Interest On Savings Accounts
and
Time Deposits

CITIZENS STATE BANK OF BRAINERD

Oldest and Largest State Bank in Crow Wing Co.
1889 1926

DISTRICT COURT OPENS

Adjourned Term Has 12 Civil Cases;
Judge B. F. Wright
Presiding

Twelve civil cases will be heard at the adjourned term of the district court which opened this morning in the court room of the court house, Judge B. F. Wright presiding.

This morning was devoted to the calling of the calendar. No jury will be called.

Bank No. 1503 COMMERCIAL STATE BANK of Brainerd

Statement of the condition of Commercial State Bank of Brainerd, Minn., at the close of business on December 31, 1926.

| RESOURCES | |
|--|---------------------|
| Loans and discounts, including rediscounts | $ 78,188.11 |
| Overdrafts | 160.89 |
| Securities, etc. | 83,324.72 |
| Banking house, furniture and fixtures | 8,696.76 |
| Cheques and drafts in transit | 1,089.53 |
| Due from other banks and cash on hand | 32,251.48 |
| Cash items and checks | 2,566.26 |
| Other assets, if any | 55.09 |
| Total | $265,797.59 |
| LIABILITIES | |
| Capital stock | $ 25,000.00 |
| Surplus fund | 5,000.00 |
| Undivided profits, net | 432.22 |
| Savings deposits | 39,421.35 |
| Time certificates | 26,442.88 |
| Cashier's checks | 6,529.89 |
| Due to banks | 1,923.62 |
| Deposits subject to check | 99,132.25 |
| Total | $265,797.59 |
| Amount of reserve on hand | $39,917.99 |
| Amount of Reserve Required by law | $16,416.99 |
| State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss. | |

We, A. S. Peterson, President and C. V. Hedeen, Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true of our knowledge and belief.

A. S. PETERSON, President
C. V. HEDDEEN, Cashier

Correct Attest (Two) Directors—
O. B. JOHNSON
K. S. BREDEBERG

Subscribed and sworn before me this 4th day of January, 1927.
A. D. POLK,
United States Commissioner,
District of Minnesota.

WANT ADS

Only 1c a word each issue

in the

Daily Dispatch

GET RESULTS

Just Telephone 74

ENDORSE BRAINERD MAN FOR OFFICE

Izaak Walton League of Brainerd
Favors D. D. Schrader for Commissioner

OF STATE GAME AND FISH

Sends Resolution to Governor Chris-
tianson; James M. Gould
May Resign

The Brainerd Chapter of the Izaak Walton League has sent to Governor Theodore Christianson a resolution asking that D. D. Schrader be appointed Game and Fish Commissioner in case a vacancy develops.

The League makes it clear that it does not want James J. Gould to be removed from the office, but in case he is not reappointed, it recommends Schrader to succeed him.

Race Fans Bet Huge Total

Baltimore—Race fans bet a total of $3,160,740.80 in the pari-mutuels at the four principal Maryland tracks during the past season, the state racing commission reported.

Pittsburgh Pirates 2, Chicago Black Hawks 1

Chicago—The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Chicago Black Hawks 2 to 1 in a National league hockey game.

Jack Schaefer Expected Home Soon

New York—Young Jake Schaefer, world 18.1 ballline billiard champion, is expected home from France next week. He will challenge the winner of the Willie Hoppe-Eric Hagelacher 18.2 championship match beginning tonight.

Test Grass for Golf

To render service to the great army of golfers in the United States the Department of Agriculture is carrying on a series of experiments and tests to discover the best variety of grass for golfing greens. In this photograph Secretary of Agriculture Jardine—himself a golfer—is shown discussing the problem with E. C. Butterfield, superintendent of the Arlington experimental farm.

Great Britain Accepts Challenge to Checkers

The challenge issued by the United States to Great Britain for an international checkers contest in 1927 has been accepted. For the contest, which will take place in New York city from March 1 to 16, Great Britain will be represented by six Englishmen and six Scotsmen.

The English representatives will be R. T. Ward of Birmingham, champion of Great Britain; S. Cohen, champion of England; J. Alexander of Birmingham; John Hynd of Manchester, and H. Christie of Sunderland, all ex-champions of England, and F. Kaiser of London, ex-London champion. Reserve, T. Goldsboro of Bradford.

The Scotch team has not yet been chosen.

Road to Happiness

I am more and more convinced that our happiness or unhappiness depends far more on the way we meet the events of life, than on the nature of those events themselves.—Humboldt.

Hornsby's Brother Was Good Spitball Pitcher

Rogers Hornsby, manager of the world's champion Cardinals, is not the first baseball hero in the Hornsby family. The clouting Rajah has an older brother who was a famous pitcher, even though he never reached the major leagues, nor gained the fame that his younger brother did by winning the National league pennant and then defeating the Yankees in the world series.

The elder of the Hornsby boys is named Everett and he was a pitcher. The reason that the fans of the big league cities never heard of Everett Hornsby was the fact that he did all of his pitching in Texas. For many years he was rated the best pitcher in the Texas league.

They called Everett Hornsby "Pep" and when Rogers came up to the Cardinals he carried that nickname with him. Everett was a spitball pitcher and played with the Waco, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth teams. He had one of the best breaking spitballs in the Texas league, but he was overlooked by the big league scouts and never had an opportunity to show his real pitching talent in the major leagues.

To Defend Title

Major Goodsell, single scull champ of the world, will defend his title against Pat Hannon, New Zealand champ, at Los Angeles in February. Goodsell is from Australia and trains daily in Los Angeles harbor, in his 18-pound racing shell in which he won the title (shown above). The given name "Major" is not a title, but his Christian name.

Select Jack Dempsey as Tunney's Next Opponent

Tunney's next opponent in defense of his title will be Jack Dempsey, provided the former champion satisfies Tex Rickard as to his condition.

It is understood that Tex has an agreement with Jack, whereby he is to hire himself to the mountains for several months and lead the simple life. Then he is to return to the ring to meet two, possibly three opponents, selected by Rickard.

These bouts will serve as trials to determine Dempsey's right to demand a return bout. If the ex-champ polishes off the rival contenders, the ballyhoo for another bout between Tunney and Dempsey will be on.

Many of the ring experts are not sure that Tunney is the better man.

Spanish Fighter Coming

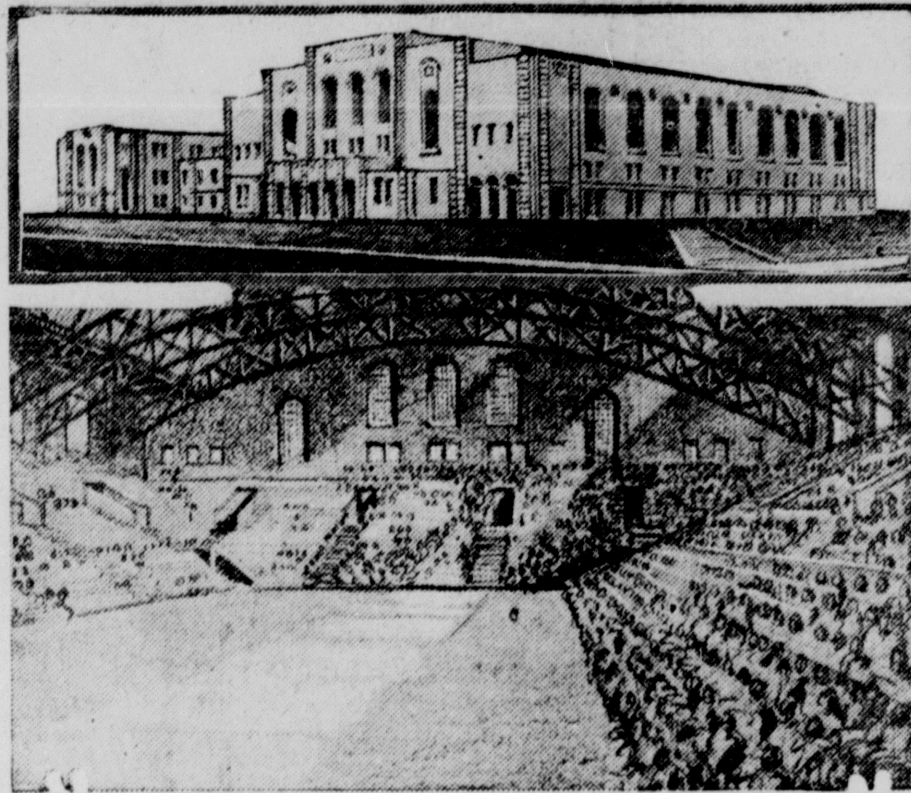

Paulino Uzcudun, of Spain, holder of the European heavyweight boxing championship, is going to the United States to seek further pugilistic honors. He won the European title from Erminio Spalla, the Italian, at Barcelona last May, and went to Buenos Aires some time ago seeking a match with Luis Angel Firpo. He failed to lure the Argentine into the ring, however.

Channel Swim Code

A code of rules is to be drawn up by the Channel Swimming association, an organization of British experts, governing the sport of swimming the English channel. The interesting assertion is made that all true channel swimmers should be carried out from England to France, as was done by Captain Webb. Only two other swimmers succeeded in doing so, and neither equaled Webb's time. One of them was Sullivan, the American.

FOR SALE—CALL 74

Franklin Field Colosseum

Interior and Exterior View of New University of Pennsylvania Colosseum.

After several months of discussion over the name of the new indoor stadium just completed at the University of Pennsylvania, the committee appointed by Sydney E. Hutchinson has decided on Franklin Field colosseum.

The committee consisted of Ralph Morgan, chairman of the basketball committee, Dr. R. Tait MacKenzie, internationally known sculptor, and E. R. Bushnell, member of the United States Olympic team in 1900 and former graduate manager of athletics.

The new colosseum will be one of the finest in the country. It will have seating arrangements for 10,000 persons in the form of a stadium with ramps that are a feature of the outdoor stadia. Thirty rows of seats will be installed with eleven movable rows so fixed on rollers that they can be moved away to permit four basketball games to be played simultaneously.

The arrangements for basket ball are to be the best securable. Lighting fixtures will be installed to flood the playing floor with a soft light that will be easy on the eyes of the players. The playing floor will be so constructed that a maximum speed can be attained without danger of slipping.

The colosseum will be formally opened on January 1, when Yale and Pennsylvania meet in the opening intercollegiate league game.

LIVESTOCK, PRODUCE AND GRAIN MARKETS

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(By Department of Agriculture)—CATTLE—Receipts, 10,000. Fed steers and yearlings active, mostly 15@25c higher, with 25c up on desirable kinds, spots more; $11.75 paid for 1,341 lbs to 1,410 lbs steers; yearlings scaling 998 lbs $12.25; she stock rather slow, mostly steady; bulk vealers to packers $11.50 @12.50, few loads as low as $11.

SHEEP—Receipts, 11,000. Market: Fairly active; fat lambs opening up to 25c higher; early bulk woolled lambs $12.25@13; asking around $13.25 for strictly choice medium weights; 90 lbs held around $12.75; culls strong, $9@10; sheep steady; holding choice hand-weights around $6.75; fed lambs $11.25@12; top fat ewes $12; feeding lambs $12.40.

HOGS—(Soft or oily hogs; and roasting pigs excluded)—Receipts, 16,000. Market active, 15@25c higher. Heavy-weight (250-350 lbs) $11.50@11.55; medium weight (200-250 lbs) $11.60@11.95; lightweight (160-200 lbs) $11.50 @12; light lights (130-160 lbs) $11.50 @12; packing sows, smooth and rough, $10.35@11.15; slaughter pigs (90-130 lbs) $11.25@12.

Slaughter Cattle and Calves—Steers (1500 lbs up) $10@11.75. Steers (1100-1500 lbs) choice $11@12.50; good $10@11.75; medium $8.75@10.50. Steers (1100 lbs down) choice $12@13; good $10.50@12.25; medium $8.60@10.50; common $6.25@8.60. Light yearling steers and heifers, good and choice (850 lbs down) $9.75@12.50. Heifers, good and choice (850 lbs up) $7@11.25; common and medium (all weights) $5.75@8.25. Cows, good and choice, $5.85@7.50; common and medium, $4.75@5.85; canners and cutters, $4.25@4.75. Calves, medium to choice, $6@8.50. Vealers, cull to choice, $6@13.50. Feeder and stocker steers, common to choice, $8@8.25.

Slaughter Sheep and Lambs—Lambs, light and heavyweight (84 lbs down) $10.90@13.15; cull and common (all weights) $8.75@10.90. Ewes, common to choice, $4.50@7; canners and cutters, $1.50@4.50. Feeding lambs, range stock, medium to choice, full woolled $11@12.75.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

South St. Paul, Jan. 5.—(By Department of Agriculture)—HOGS—Receipts, 30,000. Market 10@15c higher; pigs steady. 250-350 lbs, $11.40@11.50; 200-250 lbs, $11.50@11.60; 160-200 lbs, $11.50@11.60; 130-160 lbs, $11.50@11.60; 90-130 lbs, $11.60@11.75; packing sows, $10.25@10.75.

CATTLE—Receipts, 3,500. Market: Slow; about steady; quality plain. Calves, receipts, 4,500. Market: Vealers 50c lower. Bulk: Beef steers, $7@8; beef cows, $5@5.75; low cutter and cutter cows, $3.75@4.25; vealers, $11.50; stock and feeder steers, $5.50 @6.50.

SHEEP—Receipts, 1,000. Market: Few sales fat lambs fully steady; best held considerably higher. Bulk: Cull lambs, $8@9; fat ewes, $4.50@6.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTER—Creamery: Extras, 45 1/2c; standards, 46 1/2c. Dairy: Firsts, 43 @44 1/2c; seconds, 39@42c.

EGGS—Ordinaries, 34@37c; firsts, 37 1/2@38 1/2c.

CHEESE—Twins, 24@25c; Young Americas, 26 1/2c.

LIVE POULTRY—Fowls, heavy, 27c; small, 20c. Ducks, heavy, 30c; small, 20c. Geese, 29@21c. Springs, 27 1/2c. Turkey, No. 1, 30c. Roosters, 18c.

POTATOES—Arrivals 60 cars; on track 206; in transit 713. Wisconsin sacked Round Whites, $2.35@2.50; mostly $2.40@2.45. Idaho sacked Russets, $2.75@3; mostly $2.80@2.90.

ST. PAUL PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTERFAT—Per lb, 53@55c.

MINNEAPOLIS CLOSING CASH PRICES

SPRING WHEAT—No. 1 Dark Northern, $1.40@1.44; No. 1 Dark Northern, to arrive, $1.40. No. 1 Northern, $1.39@1.41; No. 1 Northern,

Sure Way to Stop Night Coughing

A Treatment That Ends Night Coughs in 15 Minutes

Persistent night coughing is usually due to causes which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. A remarkable prescription known as Thoxine, working on an entirely different principle, goes direct to the cause, and is guaranteed to stop the stubbornest cough within 15 minutes. One swallow is all that's needed. If it fails, get your money back. No chloroform or other harmful drugs. Safe for children. Equally good for sore throat for which purpose it is far superior to gargles. 35c, 60c and $1.00. Sold by Skauze Drug Co. and all good drug stores.

to arrive, $1.39. No. 2 Dark Northern, $1.36@1.42. No. 2 Northern, $1.35@1.37. No. 3 Dark Northern, $1.32@1.39. No. 3 Northern, $1.31@1.33. CORN—No. 2 Yellow, 77@79c. No. 3 Yellow, 76@75c; No. 3 Yellow, to arrive, 68c. No. 4 Yellow, 67@69c. No. 5 Yellow, 63@65c. No. 3 Mixed, 65@67c. No. 4 Mixed, 60@62c. No. 5 Mixed, 55@57c.

OATS—No. 2 White, 46 1/4@47 1/4c. No. 3 White, 44 1/4@45 1/4c; No. 3 White, to arrive, 44 1/4c. No. 4 White, 41 1/4@44 1/4c.

BARLEY—Choice to fancy, 76@72c; medium to good, 62@69c; lower grades, 54@61c.

RYE—No. 2, 91 1/4@94 1/4c; No. 2, to arrive, 91 1/4c.

FLAXSEED—No. 1, $2.10@2.20; No. 1, to arrive, $2.10@2.15.

MICKIE SAYS—

WHY PARALYZE HER GOOD RIGHT ARM WRITING THE HOME NEWS TO HER DISTANT FRIENDS? JEST ORDER THE OLD HOME TOWN PAPER SENT TO THEM REGULAR AND THEY'LL BE TICKLED PINK!

State of Colorado

Until Kansas was admitted as a state in 1861, the territorial boundaries included the present city of Denver, Colo., and extended to the mountains. The western end of Kansas state and other territory was then erected into the territory of Colorado, which was admitted as a state in 1876.

No. 2974

State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, In Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Charles Penin, Decedent.

Letters of administration this day having been granted to Catherine B. Penin:

IT IS ORDERED, That the time within which all creditors of the above named decedent may present claims against his estate in this Court, be, and the same hereby is, limited to six months from and after the date hereof; and that June 27th, 1927, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the Probate Court Rooms at the Court House at Brainerd, in said County, be, and the same hereby is, fixed and appointed as the time and place for hearing upon and the examination, adjustment and allowance of such claims as shall be presented within the time aforesaid.

Let notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in The Brainerd Daily Dispatch, as provided by law and by mailed notice as provided by the rules of this Court.

Dated December 20th, 1926.

(Probate Court Seal) L. B. KINDER, Judge of Probate.

MAL CLARK, Attorney.

1713 Wed

OUCH! RHEUMATISM!

RUB THE PAIN AWAY

Stop druggling! Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right into your sore, stiff, aching joints, and relief comes instantly.

St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin.

Get a 35 cent bottle of St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pain, soreness and stiffness. In use for 65 years for rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains.

—Advt

—Advt

—Advt

—Advt

—Advt

—Advt

—Advt

—Advt

Dispatch Want Ads

PRICE—One cent a word for each insertion

HELP WANTED

WANTED—Experienced girl to wait on table. Jones' 7792-18013

WANTED—Housekeeper, state wages. Address Box 195, City. 7770-17913p

WANTED—At once, experienced cook. Van's Lunch Room. 7745-1751f

WANTED—Men to cut jack pine cordwood, best of timber, $1.65 per cord. 1 1/4 miles west of Kresh school house, on Gull Lake road. H. H. Mann. 7772-17913p

WOMEN—Make money sewing Children's Dresses, Bungalow Aprons. Experience unnecessary. Materials cut, instructions furnished. Radfield Mfg. Co., 149 W. 42nd St., New York. 7796-1811p

LADIES, who can do plain sewing at home and want profitable spare time work. NO CANVASSING. Write (Enclose Stamp) to AMSTERDAM DRESS COMPANY, Amsterdam, N. Y. 7797-1811p

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Hay. Phone O-F-12. 7780-17915p

1920 Ford Sedan. Good condition, $150. Phone 934 after 4:30. 7785-18016p

FOR SALE—Just like new, gray and white enamel range, used one year also Garland range in good condition. Call 85-W. 7800-18113

FOR SALE—Seasoned jack pine and poplar cord wood. Phone 1165. 7787-18015

FOR SALE—Upright piano, good condition, cheap for cash. Over K. of C. hall, front apartment. 7786-18012p

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Modern house. Phone 793-W. 7690-1651f

FOR RENT—Garage, phone 671-J. 7784-1801f

FURNISHED room for rent. Flat 1. Slipp Block. 7779-17914

FOR RENT—Large sleeping room. 722 South Broadway. 7789-1801f

FOR RENT—House, call 924 Front St. 7775-17914p

FOR RENT—Nice room in modern home. 113 Kingwood St. Phone 963-R. 7774-17913p

GOOD rooms at National Hotel by day or week. Prices reasonable. 6031-3081f

MODERN 6 room house for rent, newly decorated. 521 N. 9th St. Phone 133. 7771-17913

Since 1857

Eagle Brand has raised more healthy babies than all other infant foods combined.

Borden's

EAGLE BRAND

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

CONDENSED MILK

FOR RENT—6 room front apartment. Well heated, tiled bath. E. F. Gates, 215 S. 7th St. 7777-17913

FOR RENT—Bargain, heated 6 room upper duplex. Phone 821-W. 7795-18114

FOR RENT—5 room apartment, unfurnished. Rolly block. 7791-1801f

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished room. Van's Lunch Room. 7746-1751f

SUPPOSE you had an ad, even no larger than this. Don't you think people would read it? You did.

FOR RENT—Modern house in best of condition, 4 rooms down and two upstairs. Call 85-W. 7799-18113

FOR RENT—Furnished room, in modern home. Phone 671-J. 7757-1771f

FOR RENT—One 4 and one 5 room house, also one store room, close in. Apply to Mrs. Gardner, 422 South 6th St. 7798-1811f

UPPER six room flat for rent. All modern, hot water heat at 31 N. 10th St. Inquire of H. J. Wilson, 2270 Carter Ave., St. Paul, Minn. 7794-1811f

FOR RENT—Attractive apartments, steam heated, electric lighted, with gas and bath. Also desirable store, centrally located E. R. Gould, phone 197. 2058-2201f

MISCELLANEOUS

LOST—Cameo brooch. Call 833. Reward. 7793-18114p

WANTED—Wood sawing. Phone 31-F-3. 7788-180126p

WANTED—Corn, oats and barley. Echo Stock Farm. 7683-1641f

WANTED—Housework by experienced girl. Phone 54-F-23. 7782-18013p

WANTED—Hauling for heavy trucks. Phone 528-R. 7801-181143p

LOST—Brown fur robe. Finder please return to 1107 Rosewood. Reward. 7761-17814p

LOST—Diamond in Gardner hall, New Year's eve. Reward, Clyde Parker. Phone 757. 7781-17913

WANTED TO DO WASHINGS—WPI call for and deliver. Phone 482-J. 1202 S. 6th St. 7776-17913p

LOST—Gold watch between "Fill" and 3rd Ave. Reward. Return to Dispatch. 7790-18012p

ENDORSE BRAINERD MAN FOR OFFICE

Izaak Walton League of Brainerd
Favors D. D. Schrader for Commissioner

OF STATE GAME AND FISH

Sends Resolution to Governor Chris-
tianson; James M. Gould
May Resign

The Brainerd Chapter of the Izaak Walton League has sent to Governor Theodore Christianson a resolution asking that D. D. Schrader be appointed Game and Fish Commissioner in case a vacancy develops.

The League makes it clear that it does not want James J. Gould to be removed from the office, but in case he is not reappointed, it recommends Schrader to succeed him.

Race Fans Bet Huge Total

Baltimore—Race fans bet a total of $3,160,740.80 in the pari-mutuels at the four principal Maryland tracks during the past season, the state racing commission reported.

Pittsburgh Pirates 2, Chicago Blackhawks 1

Chicago—The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Chicago Blackhawks 2 to 1 in a National league hockey game.

Jack Schaefer Expected Home Soon

New York—Young Jake Schaefer, world 18.1 bailline billiard champion, is expected home from France next week. He will challenge the winner of the Willie Hoppe-Eric Hagelacher 18.2 championship match beginning tonight.

Test Grass for Golf

To render service to the great army of golfers in the United States the Department of Agriculture is carrying on a series of experiments and tests to discover the best variety of grass for golfing greens. In this photograph Secretary of Agriculture Jardine—himself a golfer—is shown discussing the problem with E. C. Butterfield, superintendent of the Arlington experimental farm.

Great Britain Accepts Challenge to Checkers

The challenge issued by the United States to Great Britain for an international checkers contest in 1927 has been accepted. For the contest, which will take place in New York city from March 1 to 16, Great Britain will be represented by six Englishmen and six Scotsmen.

The English representatives will be R. T. Ward of Birmingham, champion of Great Britain; S. Cohen, champion of England; J. Alexander of Birmingham; John Hynd of Manchester, and H. Christie of Sunderland, all ex-champions of England, and F. Kaiser of London, ex-London champion. Reserve, T. Goldsboro of Bradford.

The Scotch team has not yet been chosen.

Road to Happiness

I am more and more convinced that our happiness or unhappiness depends far more on the way we meet the events of life, than on the nature of those events themselves.—Humboldt.

Hornsby's Brother Was Good Spitzball Pitcher

Rogers Hornsby, manager of the world's champion Cardinals, is not the first baseball hero in the Hornsby family. The clouting Itzhak has an older brother who was a famous pitcher, even though he never reached the major leagues, nor gained the fame that his younger brother did by winning the National league pennant and then defeating the Yankees in the world series.

The elder of the Hornsby boys is named Everett and he was a pitcher. The reason that the fans of the big league cities never heard of Everett Hornsby was the fact that he did all of his pitching in Texas. For many years he was rated the best pitcher in the Texas league.

They called Everett Hornsby "Pep" and when Rogers came up to the Cardinals he carried that nickname with him. Everett was a spitball pitcher and played with the Waco, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth teams. He had one of the best breaking spitballs in the Texas league, but he was overlooked by the big league scouts and never had an opportunity to show his real pitching talent in the major leagues.

To Defend Title

Major Goodsell, single scull champ of the world, will defend his title against Pat Hannon, New Zealand champ, at Los Angeles in February. Goodsell is from Australia and trains daily in Los Angeles harbor, in his 18-pound racing shell in which he won the title (shown above). The given name "Major" is not a title, but his Christian name.

Select Jack Dempsey as Tunney's Next Opponent

Tunney's next opponent in defense of his title will be Jack Dempsey, provided the former champion satisfies Tex Rickard as to his condition.

It is understood that Tex has an agreement with Jack, whereby he is to hit himself to the mountains for several months and lead the simple life. Then he is to return to the ring to meet two, possibly three opponents, selected by Rickard.

These bouts will serve as trials to determine Dempsey's right to demand a return bout. If the ex-champ polishes off the rival contenders, the ballyhoo for another bout between Tunney and Dempsey will be on.

Many of the ring experts are not sure that Tunney is the better man.

Spanish Fighter Coming

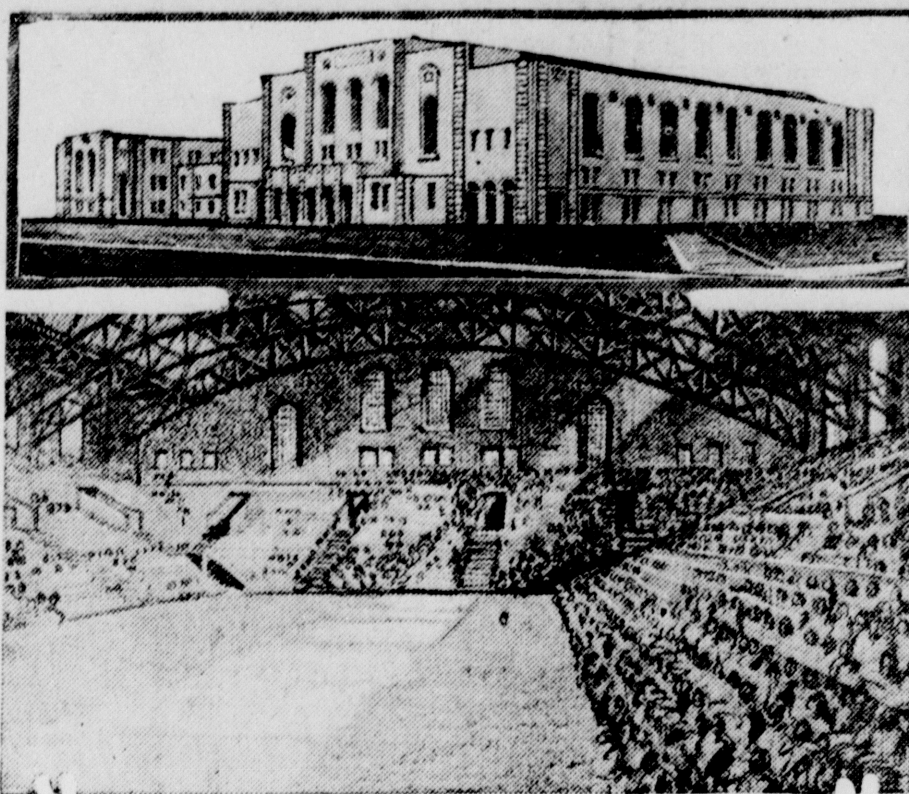

Paolino Uzcunon, of Spain, holder of the European heavyweight boxing championship, is going to the United States to seek further pugilistic honors. He won the European title from Erminio Spalla, the Italian, at Barcelona last May, and went to Buenos Aires some time ago seeking a match with Luis Angel Firpo. He failed to lure the Argentine into the ring, however.

Channel Swim Code

A code of rules is to be drawn up by the Channel Swimming association, an organization of British experts, governing the sport of swimming the English channel. The interesting assertion is made that all true channel swimmers should be carried out from England to France, as was done by Captain Webb. Only two other swimmers succeeded in doing so, and neither equaled Webb's time. One of them was Sullivan, the American.

FOR SALE—CALL 74

Franklin Field Colosseum

Interior and Exterior View of New University of Pennsylvania Colosseum.

After several months of discussion over the name of the new indoor stadium just completed at the University of Pennsylvania, the committee appointed by Sydney E. Hutchinson has decided on Franklin Field colosseum. The committee consisted of Ralph Morgan, chairman of the basketball committee, Dr. R. Tait MacKenzie, internationally known sculptor, and E. R. Bushnell, member of the United States Olympic team in 1900 and former graduate manager of athletics.

The new colosseum will be one of the finest in the country. It will have seating arrangements for 10,000 persons in the form of a stadium with ramps that are a feature of the outdoor stadia. Thirty rows of seats will be installed with eleven movable rows so fixed on rollers that they can be moved away to permit four basketball games to be played simultaneously.

The arrangements for basketball are to be the best securable. Lighting fixtures will be installed to flood the playing floor with a soft light that will be easy on the eyes of the players. The playing floor will be so constructed that a maximum speed can be attained without danger of slipping.

The colosseum will be formally opened on January 1, when Yale and Pennsylvania meet in the opening intercollegiate league game.

LIVESTOCK, PRODUCE AND GRAIN MARKETS

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(By Department of Agriculture)—CATTLE—Receipts, 10,000. Fed steers and yearlings active, mostly 15¢ to 25¢ higher, with 25¢ up on desirable kinds, spots more; $11.75 paid for 1,341 lbs to 1,410 lbs steers; yearlings scaling 998 lbs $12.25; she stock rather slow, mostly steady; bulk vealers to packers $11.50 @ 12.50, few loads as low as $11.

SHEEP—Receipts, 11,000. Market: Fairly active; fat lambs opening up to 25¢ higher; early bulk woolled lambs $12.25 @ 13; asking around $13.25 for strictly choice medium weights; 90 lbs held around $12.75; culls strong, $9 @ 10; sheep steady; holding choice handweights around $6.75; fed lambs $11.25 @ 12; top fat ewes $12; feeding lambs $12.40.

HOGS—(Soft or oily hogs; and roasting pigs excluded)—Receipts, 16,000. Market active, 15¢ to 25¢ higher. Heavyweight (250-350 lbs) $11.50 @ 11.75; medium weight (200-250 lbs) $11.60 @ 11.95; lightweight (160-200 lbs) $11.50 @ 12; light lights (130-160 lbs) $11.50 @ 12; packing sows, smooth and rough, $10.35 @ 11.15; slaughter pigs (90-130 lbs) $11.25 @ 12.

Slaughter Cattle and Calves—Steers (1500 lbs up) $10 @ 11.75. Steers (1100-1500 lbs) choice $11 @ 12.50; good $10 @ 11.75; medium $8.75 @ 10.50. Steers (1100 lbs down) choice $12 @ 13; good $10.50 @ 12.25; medium $8.60 @ 10.50; common $6.25 @ 8.60. Light yearling steers and heifers, good and choice (850 lbs down) $9.75 @ 12.50. Heifers, good and choice (850 lbs up) $7 @ 11.25; common and medium (all weights) $5.75 @ 8.25. Cows, good and choice, $5.85 @ 7.50; common and medium, $4.75 @ 5.85; canners and cutters, $4.25 @ 4.75. Calves, medium to choice, $6 @ 8.50. Vealers, cull to choice, $6 @ 13.50. Feeder and stocker steers, common to choice, $5 @ 8.25.

Slaughter Sheep and Lambs—Lambs, light and heavyweight (84 lbs down) $10.90 @ 13.15; cull and common (all weights) $8.75 @ 10.90. Ewes, common to choice, $4.50 @ 7; canners and cutters, $1.50 @ 4.50. Feeding lambs, range stock, medium to choice, full woolled $11 @ 12.75.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK
South St. Paul, Jan. 5.—(By Department of Agriculture)—HOGS—Receipts, 30,000. Market 10¢ to 15¢ higher; pigs steady, 250-350 lbs, $11.40 @ 11.50; 200-250 lbs, $11.50 @ 11.60; 160-200 lbs, $11.50 @ 11.60; 130-160 lbs, $11.50 @ 11.60; 90-130 lbs, $11.60 @ 11.75; packing sows, $10.25 @ 10.75.

CATTLE—Receipts, 3,500. Market: Slow; about steady; quality plain. Calves, receipts, 4,500. Market: Vealers 50¢ lower. Bulk: Beef steers, $7 @ 8; beef cows, $5 @ 5.75; low cutter and cutter cows, $3.75 @ 4.25; vealers, $11.50; stock and feeder steers, $5.50 @ 6.50.

SHEEP—Receipts, 1,000. Market: Few sales fat lambs fully steady; best held considerably higher. Bulk: Cull lambs, $8 @ 9; fat ewes, $4.50 @ 6.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTER—Creamery: Extras, 45¢ @ standards, 46 1/4¢. Dairy: Firsts, 43 @ 44 1/2¢; seconds, 39 @ 42¢.

EGGS—Ordinaries, 34 @ 37¢; firsts, 37 1/2 @ 38 1/2¢.

CHEESE—Twins, 24 @ 25¢; Young Americas, 26 1/4¢.

LIVE POULTRY—Fowls, heavy, 27¢; small, 20¢. Ducks, heavy, 30¢; small, 20¢. Geese, 20 @ 21¢. Springs, 27 1/2¢. Turkeys, No. 1, 30¢. Roosters, 18¢.

POTATOES—Arrivals 60 cars; on track 206; in transit 713. Wisconsin sacked Round Whites, $2.35 @ 2.50; mostly $2.40 @ 2.45. Idaho sacked Russets, $2.75 @ 3; mostly $2.80 @ 2.90.

ST. PAUL PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTERFAT—Per lb., 53 @ 55¢.

MINNEAPOLIS CLOSING CASH PRICES

SPRING WHEAT—No. 1 Dark Northern, $1.40 @ 1.44; No. 1 Dark Northern, to arrive, $1.40. No. 1 Northern, $1.39 @ 1.41; No. 1 Northern,

Sure Way to Stop Night Coughing

A Treatment That Ends Night Coughs in 15 Minutes

Persistent night coughing is usually due to causes which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. A remarkable prescription known as Thoxine, working on an entirely different principle, goes direct to the cause, and is guaranteed to stop the stubbornest cough within 15 minutes. One swallow is all that's needed. If it fails, get your money back. No chloroform or other harmful drugs. Safe for children. Equally good for sore throat for which purpose it is far superior to gargles. 35¢, 60¢ and $1.00. Sold by Skauge Drug Co. and all good drug stores. —Advt to arrive, $1.39. No. 2 Dark Northern, $1.36 @ 1.42. No. 2 Northern, $1.35 @ 1.37. No. 3 Dark Northern, $1.32 @ 1.39. No. 3 Northern, $1.31 @ 1.33.

CORN—No. 2 Yellow, 77 @ 79¢. No. 3 Yellow, 70 @ 75¢; No. 3 Yellow, to arrive, 68¢. No. 4 Yellow, 67 @ 69¢. No. 5 Yellow, 63 @ 65¢. No. 3 Mixed, 65 @ 67¢. No. 4 Mixed, 60 @ 62¢. No. 5 Mixed, 55 @ 57¢.

OATS—No. 2 White, 46 1/4 @ 47 1/4¢. No. 3 White, 44 1/4 @ 45 1/4¢; No. 3 White, to arrive, 44 1/4¢. No. 4 White, 41 1/4 @ 44 1/4¢.

BARLEY—Choice to fancy, 70 @ 72¢; medium to good, 62 @ 69¢; lower grades, 54 @ 61¢.

RYE—No. 2, 91 1/4 @ 94 1/4¢; No. 2, to arrive, 91 1/4¢.

FLAXSEED—No. 1, $2.10 @ 2.20¢; No. 1, to arrive, $2.10 @ 2.15¢.

MICKIE SAYS—

WHY PARALYZE HER GOOD
RIGHT ARM WRITIN' TH' HOME
NEWS TO HER DISTANT FRIENDS?
JUST ORDER TH' OLE HOME TOWN PAPER SENT TO THEM
REGULAR AN' THEY'LL BE TICKLED PINK!

State of Colorado

Until Kansas was admitted as a state in 1861, the territorial boundaries included the present city of Denver, Colo., and extended to the mountains. The western end of Kansas state and other territory was then erected into the territory of Colorado, which was admitted as a state in 1876.

No. 2974
State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, In Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of Charles Pentin, Decedent.

Letters of administration this day having been granted to Catherine B. Pentin:

IT IS ORDERED, That the time within which all creditors of the above named decedent may present claims against his estate in this Court, be, and the same hereby is, limited to six months from and after the date hereof; and that June 27th, 1927, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the Probate Court Rooms at the Court House at Brainerd, in said County, be, and the same hereby is, fixed and appointed as the time and place for hearing upon and the examination, adjustment and allowance of such claims as shall be presented within the time aforesaid.

Let notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in The Brainerd Daily Dispatch, as provided by law and by mailed notice as provided by the rules of this Court.

Dated December 20th, 1926.

(Probate Court Seal) L. B. KINDER, Judge of Probate.

MAL CLARK, Attorney. 17113Wed

OUCH! RHEUMATISM! RUB THE PAIN AWAY

Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right into your sore, stiff, aching joints, and relief comes instantly. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin.

Get a 35 cent bottle of St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pain, soreness and stiffness. In use for 65 years for rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains. —Advt

Dispatch Want Ads

PRICE—One cent a word for each insertion

HELP WANTED

WANTED—Experienced girl to wait on table. Jones' 7792-18013

WANTED—Housekeeper, state wages. Address Box 195, City. 7770-17913p

WANTED—At once, experienced cook. Van's Lunch Room. 7745-1751f

WANTED—Men to cut jack pine cordwood, best of timber, $1.65 per cord, 1 1/4 miles west of Kreech school house, on Hull Lake road. H. H. Mann. 7772-17913p

WOMEN—Make money sewing Children's Dresses, Bungalow Aprons. Experience unnecessary. Materials cut, instructions furnished. Radfield Mfg. Co., 140 W. 42nd St., New York. 7796-1811p

LADIES, who can do plain sewing at home and want profitable spare time work. NO CANVASSING. Write (Enclose Stamp) to AMSTERDAM DRESS COMPANY, Amsterdam, N. Y. 7797-1811p

FOR RENT—6 room front apartment. Well heated, tiled bath. E. F. Gates, 215 S. 7th St. 7777-17913

FOR RENT—Bargain, heated 6 room upper duplex. Phone 821-W. 7795-18114

FOR RENT—5 room apartment, unfurnished. Reilly block. 7791-1801f

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished room. Van's Lunch Room. 7746-1751f

SUPPOSE you had an ad, even no larger than this. Don't you think people would read it? You did. 7799-18113

FOR RENT—Furnished room, in modern home. Phone 671-J. 7757-1771f

FOR RENT—One 4 and one 5 room house, also one store room, close in. Apply to Mrs. Gardner, 422 South 6th St. 7798-1811f

UPPER six room flat for rent. All modern, hot water heat at 31 1/2 N. 10th St. Inquire of H. J. Wilson, 2270 Carter Ave., St. Paul, Minn. 7794-1811f

FOR RENT—Attractive apartments, steam heated, electric lighted, with gas and bath. Also desirable store, centrally located. E. R. Gould, phone 197. 2053-2201f

FOR SALE—Hay. Phone O-F-12. 7780-17915p

1926 Ford Sedan. Good condition, $150. Phone 934 after 4:30. 7785-18016p

FOR SALE—Just like new, gray and white enamel range, used one year also Garland range in good condition. Call 85-W. 7800-18113

FOR SALE—Seasoned jack pine and poplar cord wood. Phone 1165. 7787-18015

FOR SALE—Upright piano, good condition, cheap for cash. Over K. of C. hall, front apartment. 7786-18012p

FOR RENT—Modern house. Phone 793-W. 7690-1651f

FOR RENT—Garage, phone 671-J. 7784-1801f

FURNISHED room for rent, Flat 1, Slipp Block. 7779-17914

FOR RENT—Large sleeping room, 722 South Broadway. 7789-1801f

FOR RENT—House, call 924 Front St. 7775-17914p

FOR RENT—Nice room in modern home, 113 Kingwood St. Phone 963-R. 7774-17913p

GOOD rooms at National Hotel by day or week. Prices reasonable. 6031-3081f

MODERN 6 room house for rent, newly decorated, 521 N. 9th St. Phone 133. 7771-17913

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—

WHAT HE OWES—

I HOPE THE GODS ARE WITH ME IN THIS ONE FINAL ATTEMPT—

RENT, 1250 LAUNDRY 1.65 DOCTOR 14.55

AND OH GEE! BULL—LISTEN—IF I GET A FRACTURED SKULL I GET—100 BONES—